Study Away 2012-2013

Global Scholar AWARDS

As a globally-focused university, Pacific Lutheran University offers study away programs to students from all backgrounds. The reality of this commitment has been greatly expanded by the addition of a $2 million endowment which funds the Global Scholar Award Program*. With the support of a Global Scholar Award, students have greater access to participate in PLU's Study Away programs.

Application Deadline, March 16, 2012
for 2012-13 Study Away

*Initial leadership for this PLU initiative was provided by the Bill and Melinda Gates Foundation.

Why Study Away?

Students with a strong desire to understand the complexities of today's world gain firsthand knowledge and have contact with diverse populations in new communities by participating in a study away program.

Graduates with study away experience and foreign language skills are highly valued in the workplace and today's global economy.

PLU study away programs cost the same as PLU's comprehensive fee.

Who is Eligible to Receive a Global Scholar Award?

Students with demonstrated high financial need, as defined by the FAFSA*, are eligible to apply for the Award.

*Please see the Financial Aid Office if you have any questions about the FAFSA.

What Costs Does a Global Scholar Award Cover?

Students may receive up to $2,500 for a semester-long study away program. This award is to be used to cover your costs, such as airfare, passport fees, immunizations, and in-country daily expenses. It is not to be used to pay tuition and room & board.

For a January-Term study away course, the program fee may be reduced up to $1,000.

What is the Application Process?

Applications are available at the Wang Center for Global Education
