

COMA 190 FI: Intro to Communication
20199 MWF 9:15-10:20am INGR 115B Staff
20200 TR 8:00-9:45am INGR 109 Feller

Introduces the study of communication. Surveys the contexts and applications of study in these disciplines. Introduces the use of rhetorical theory as a means of understanding communication behavior. (4)

ECON 190 FI: Inquiry Seminar
20264 MW 1:45-3:30pm RCTR-221 Reiman

PHED 190 FI: Healing Arts of the Mind and Body
21209 TR 8:00-9:45am OGYM-FLDH McGill

Designed to introduce alternative therapies of mind-body processes. History, roots, practice, and cultural significances of several therapies and practices. (Fulfills 1 semester hour towards PE GUR.) (4)

SOCW 190 FI: Introduction to Social Work
21397 MW 1:45-3:30 pm RAMS-205 Moran

An introduction to human need and the field of social work. Provides an overview of services, models of service delivery, and professional social work values. Students visit agency settings and meet with social work practitioners. A volunteer experience in the field is a required component of this seminar-style course. (4)

SOCI 190 FI: Introduction to Sociology
21387 MWF 1:45-2:50pm XAVR-250 Renfrow

An introduction to the discipline of sociology. Features an analysis of contemporary American society with emphasis on the interconnections of race, class, and gender. Sociological concepts include socialization, social roles, stereotypes, power, and stratification. (4)

SPED 190 FI: Individuals with Disabilities
21427 TR 11:50-1:35pm ADMN-200 Gerlach

An introductory course focusing upon persons with disabilities. Intended for students outside the School of Education. (4)