

CHRISTMAS CONCERT

The Annual Christmas Festival Concert began in darkness and silence. The flickering lights of individual candles illuminated Olson Auditorium as the University Chorale and Choir of the West processed toward the stage singing of "The Prophecy." Together with the University Symphony Orchestra they told the Christmas Story through an extensive and enjoyable selection of music.

Two such concerts were performed for the PLU community, on December 9 and 10. Other concerts were presented at the Portland Civic Auditorium, Seattle Opera House, Tacoma's Pantages Centre, and the Spokane Opera House.

Dana Tigges

Richard Sparks directs his first PLU Christmas concert in grand style with the combined choirs and orchestra performing Bach's "Gloria" for the second half of the concert.