

Global Studies Capstone Presentations Schedule – Spring 2017

Ellie Lapp: The Social Life of a Zapotec Rug: Producers, Tourists, and Narratives of Cultural Authenticity in the Production and Consumption of Oaxacan Textiles

Austin Daly: The Effects of Study Abroad on Empathy

Kaja Gjælde-Bennett: Challenges to Implementing Indigenous Rights in Scandinavia: A Constructivist Take on the Nordic Sami Convention

Kimberly Nolasco: The Debate Over Fair Trade

Jacob Dominguez-Nelson: The Effects of Urban Sprawl and Decentralization in Pikine, Senegal

Wilde C. Gundersen: Is the United States Violating International Law in Guantanamo?

Taylor Bozich: United Nations' Abuse and the Need for Accountability: the Case of Haiti

Laura Hillis: The Influence and Limitations of Community Participation in Northern Saskatchewan Uranium Mining

Mark Vetter: Surveillance and Containment: The Legacy of the Smallpox Eradication Campaign on Public Health Community Participation in Bihar and Uttar Pradesh, India

Molly Lindberg: Neocolonialism and Postcolonialism: Overlap and Argument in the Case of Martinique

Sarah Peterson: Female Empowerment Through Local Development: A Case Study from Oaxaca

Ariel Wood: Is the International Criminal Court Biased? Views from Kenya

Presentations on Tuesday May 16 and Thursday May 18, 6 – 9:00 in Xavier 150.

May 16, 6:00 – Wilde C. Gundersen

6:30 – Austin Daly

7:00 – Ellie Lapp

7:30 – Jacob Dominguez-Nelson

8:00 – Taylor Bozich

8:30 – Laura Hillis

May 18, 6:00 – Kaja Gjælde-Bennett

6:30 – Kimberly Nolasco

7:00 – Molly Lindberg

7:30 – Marc Vetter

8:00 – Sarah Peterson

8:30 – Ariel Wood