

2019 Environmental Studies and Women's and Gender Studies Capstone Presentations

Friday, May 3rd

Morken Center for Learning and Technology – Room 103

8:00	Dejan Perez	Supporting the Off-Island Native Hawaiian on the Mainland
8:25	Ava Cozzetto	The Common Thread: Prolife and Prochoice Abortion Stories
8:50	Forrest O'Brien	Urban Water: A Geologic and Religious Look at Water Resources in the Orting River Valley
Break
9:20	Corinne Lythgoe	Comparing Environmental Values of Environmental Studies Students and Lutheran Institutions
9:40	Katie King	Conservation through History: the Extirpation of Gray Wolves and the Impact on the Ecosystems of the Pacific Northwest
10:00	Sarah Webster-Olson	The Nisqually Hydropower Complex and the Roles of Stakeholders

Rieke Science Center – Room 102

10:30	Emily Burk	The Concept of the German Forest and Its Influence on Modern Resource Economics
10:50	Jackie Stenberg	Polar Bears and Indigeneity: Climate Change Impacts on Relationships in the Arctic
Break
11:20	Maddie Titelbaum	Our Forest, Our Village, Our Government: Exploring the Influence of NGO Initiatives and Religious Tradition on Tribal Women's Agency in Forest Management Practices
11:40	Kylie Webb	An Interdisciplinary Approach to the Issue of Shark Finning in China
12:00	Ashley Whitley	Pop Culture and Climate Fiction: An Analysis of Geoscience In Literature

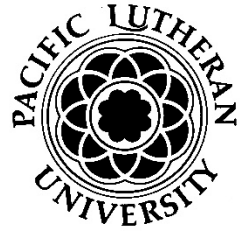

Please join us!

Afternoon presentations listed on the other side!

2019 Environmental Studies and Women's and Gender Studies Capstone Presentations

Friday, May 3rd

Rieke Science Center – Room 109

12:30	Lottie Duren	Bureaucratic Bull: A Critique of Washington State's Sexual Assault Center Accreditation System
12:50	Jadey Ryan	Saving the Southern Resident Killer Whales: A Co-Management Strategy
1:10	Zac Webb	Dammed if We Do, Dammed if We Don't: Advocating for the Removal of Four Dams along the Lower Snake River in Eastern Washington

Break

1:50	Kristi Floyd	Will Changes to the Endangered Species Act Hurt Washington Species?
2:10	Miranda Berg	Humans and Bats in the Ape Cave: A Discussion on the Impact of Human Presence
2:30	Julia Grosvenor	The Greenhou$e Effect: Game-ifying the Business of Climate Change
2:50	Britt McCracken	Rattlesnake Ridge Landslide: An Ethical and Geological Approach
3:10	Madison Smith	Solutions to Mercury Pollution from Artisanal Gold Mining: A Case Study of Ghana

Thank you for your support!