Mission and Vision

PLU seeks to educate students for lives of thoughtful inquiry, service, leadership and care – for other people, for their communities, and for the earth.

This single statement of mission captures the identity, strengths and purpose of Pacific Lutheran University. In addition, a formal statement of mission, adopted in 1978, provides an historical perspective on the University’s understanding of its core purposes:

Long committed to providing an education distinguished for quality, in the context of a heritage that is Lutheran and an environment that is ecumenically Christian, PLU continues to embrace its primary mission: the development of knowledgeable persons equipped with an understanding of the human condition, a critical awareness of humane and spiritual values, and a capacity for clear and effective self-expression.

For all who choose to seek a PLU degree, the university offers opportunity to pursue a variety of programs of academic worth and excellence. Its standards of performance demand a finely trained faculty as well as highly skilled administrative and support staff. In its institutional emphasis on scholarship, the University views the liberal arts as providing the necessary and essential foundation for the technical training and education in the professions which modern society requires.

The university aims to cultivate the intellect, not for its own sake merely, but as a tool of conscience and an instrument for service. The diversity and variety of cultural programs and personal services offered by the university are intended to facilitate this positive development of the student as a whole person in order that our students might function as members of society. In other words, PLU affirms that realization of one’s highest potential as well as fulfillment of life’s purpose arise in the joy of service to others. To aid its students in sharing this understanding, the university seeks to be a community in which there is a continuing and fruitful interaction between what is best in education and what is noblest in Christian edification.

This deliberate and simultaneous attention to the religious dimension of the total human experience and to the standards of scholarly objectivity, coupled with clear recognition of the integrative impulse in each, is the essence of PLU.

In January 2003, the Board of Regents adopted the long-range plan, PLU 2010: The Next Level of Distinction. The 2010 planning process clarified, reaffirmed, and elaborated on the mission statement and set forth a vision for the future based on past accomplishments and future aspirations. As the university looks to 2010 and beyond, five aspirations frame its direction, its hopes, and its goals: strengthening academic excellence, expanding community engagement, enhancing global perspectives and local commitments, nurturing a sense of life as vocation, and seeking fiscal strength.

Copies of the long-range plan are available in the Offices of the President and the Provost.

The Faculty of Pacific Lutheran University establishes the educational philosophy that shapes and supports the curriculum and programs of study. This philosophy is reflected in statements of educational goals, objectives and principles. Of particular significance to all students are statements about learning objectives, general education and writing throughout the curriculum.

Integrative Learning Objectives

The Integrative Learning Objectives (ILOs) provide a common understanding of the PLU approach to undergraduate education. These objectives offer a unifying framework for understanding how our community defines the general skills or abilities that should be exhibited by students who earn a PLU bachelor’s degree. Therefore, they are integrative in nature. The ILOs are intended to provide a conceptual reference for every department and program to build on and reinforce in their own particular curricula the goals of the General University Requirements. They also assist the university in such assessment-related activities as student and alumni surveys. Not all ILOs are dealt with equally by every program, much less by every course. The ILOs do not represent, by themselves, all of our understanding of education. Rather, they are a part of a more complex statement of educational philosophy.
The ILOs are meant to serve as a useful framework that unifies education throughout the University, while disciplinary study provides students with the knowledge and understanding of a field that will allow them to function effectively in their chosen area.

Knowledge Base
These four statements describe the knowledge base expected of all PLU graduates:

• A broad knowledge of the basic liberal arts and sciences.
• An understanding of the interconnections among these basic liberal arts and sciences that provide the broad framework for living with the complexities of life.
• An in-depth knowledge of a specified area of knowledge designated as a major within the university.
• An understanding of the interconnections among the basic liberal arts and sciences and the in-depth knowledge of her/his specified major area.

In addition to the knowledge base described above, and an awareness of how different disciplinary methodologies are used, every student at Pacific Lutheran University is expected to develop the following abilities:

Critical Reflection
• Select sources of information using appropriate research methods, including those employing technology, and make use of that information carefully and critically.
• Consider issues from multiple perspectives.
• Evaluate assumptions and consequences of different perspectives in assessing possible solutions to problems.
• Understand and explain divergent viewpoints on complex issues, critically assess the support available for each, and defend one’s own judgments.

Expression
• Communicate clearly and effectively in both oral and written forms.
• Adapt messages to various audiences using appropriate media, convention or styles.
• Create symbols of meaning in a variety of expressive media, both verbal and nonverbal.

Interaction with Others
• Work creatively to identify and clarify the issues of concern.
• Acknowledge and respond to conflicting ideas and principles, and identify common interests where possible.
• Develop and promote effective strategies and interpersonal relationships for implementing cooperative actions.

Valuing
• Articulate and critically assess one’s own values, with an awareness of the communities and traditions that have helped to shape them
• Recognize how others have arrived at values different from one’s own, and consider their views charitably and with an appreciation for the context in which they emerged. Develop a habit of caring for oneself, for others, and for the environment.
• Approach moral, spiritual, and intellectual development as a life-long process of making informed choices in one’s commitments.
• Approach one’s commitments with a high level of personal responsibility and professional accountability.

Multiple Frameworks
• Recognize and understand how cultures profoundly shape different assumptions and behaviors.
• Identify issues and problems facing people in every culture (including one’s own), seeking constructive strategies for addressing them.
• Cultivate respect for diverse cultures, practices, and traditions.

Adopted by Faculty Assembly November 11, 1999.

Principles of General Education

The university’s mission is to “educate students for lives of thoughtful inquiry, leadership, service, and care—for other people, for their communities, and for the earth.” Emerging from the university’s Lutheran heritage, our mission emphasizes both freedom of inquiry and a life engaged in the world. Our location in the Pacific Northwest, and our commitment to educate students for the complexities of life in the 21st century, also shape the university’s educational identity.

The university aims to produce global citizens, future leaders, and whole, richly-informed persons. At the heart of the university is the general education curriculum. Through this program of study, students begin the process of shaping not only a career, but more importantly a life of meaning and purpose. This general education, in which students grapple with life’s most fundamental questions, is deepened and complemented by the specialized work students undertake in their majors. An education is a process, and the following three components that inform the general university requirements are not discrete, but interconnected and mutually supportive.

Values: The university sustains the Lutheran commitment to the life of the mind, to engagement and service in the world, and to nurturing the development of whole persons—in body, mind, and spirit. As described in the university’s long-range plan PLU 2010, these values are fundamental, and they are inseparable from each other. As important, PLU offers an education not only in values, but in valuing. Pacific Lutheran University helps students thoughtfully shape their values and choices, realizing that imagination and decision give to a human life its unique trajectory and purpose, and always understanding that life gains meaning when dedicated to a good larger than oneself. Located in the Pacific Northwest and on the Pacific Rim, the university is well-situated to address global issues, social diversity and justice, and care for the earth.

Knowledge: An education at Pacific Lutheran University makes students the center of their own education. The best education understands knowledge as saturated with value and meaning, as much produced as acquired. It is a communal undertaking, involving both knower and context. We understand academic disciplines, as well as multi-disciplinary fields of inquiry, as ways of knowing. They do more than organize knowledge. They define the questions, methods, and modes of discourse by which knowledge is produced. Students are required to study across a range of these disciplines to gain an understanding of the ways in which educated people understand themselves and the world.
Skills and Abilities: As described by the university’s Integrative Learning Objectives, skills and abilities that characterize an education at Pacific Lutheran University are essential for the cultivation of the potentials of mind, heart, and hand. They are inseparable from what it means to know and to value. They include the ability to express oneself effectively and creatively, to think critically, to discern and formulate values, to interact with others, and to understand the world from various perspectives.

A general education at Pacific Lutheran University affirms the relationships among rigorous academic inquiry, human flourishing in a diverse world, and a healthy environment. Such an education requires first and foremost a faculty of exceptional scholar-teachers, committed to educating the whole student, and understanding that learning is active, engaged, and in the best sense transformative.

Adopted by the Faculty Assembly, December 10, 2004

Writing Throughout the Curriculum

Pacific Lutheran University is a community of scholars, a community of readers and writers. Reading informs the intellect and liberates the imagination. Writing pervades our academic lives as teachers and students, both as a way of communicating what we learn and as a means of shaping thoughts and ideas. All faculty members share the responsibility for improving the literacy of their students. Faculty in every department and school make writing an essential part of their courses and show students how to ask questions appropriate to the kinds of reading done in their fields. Students write both formal papers and reports and informal notes and essays in order to master the content and methods of the various disciplines. They are encouraged to prepare important papers in multiple drafts.

Philosophy of Student Conduct

PLU admits and enrolls students who possess the capacity for success both intellectually and personally at the collegiate level. It is our belief that each student is responsible for his/her behavior at all times. When accepted for membership into the PLU community, each student assumes the responsibilities and rights emerging from the university’s goals and objectives. These include, but are not limited to, dedication to exploring human knowledge and culture while promoting the intellectual, physical, social, and spiritual development of students, and nurturing each student’s preparation for responsible participation not only on the campus but also in local, state, regional, national, and international settings.

Once accepted for admission into the PLU community, PLU assumes that each student who enters the university possesses an earnest purpose; the ability to exercise mature judgment; the ability to act in a responsible manner; and a respect for law and the rights of others. This assumption prevails unless a student negates it through misconduct.
General Information

Academic Program

Pacific Lutheran University uses a 4-1-4 calendar, which consists of two 15-week semesters bridged by a four-week January term. The January term’s intensive, four-week format is designed to offer students a unique pedagogical opportunity. It supports study away, in-depth focus on a single theme or topic, and the use of student-centered and active-learning pedagogies. The January term’s intensive format also supports other pedagogical activities that contribute to building an intentional culture of learning inside and outside the classroom. It offers an opportunity for an intensive First-Year Experience Program that combines rigorous academic study with co-curricular activities that serve the goals of the First-Year Program – thinking, literacy and community. Further, the January term offers the opportunity to orient students to PLU’s mission, support them in understanding how they position themselves within the PLU community and the world, and support them as they embrace their role as active citizens.

Course credit is computed by semester hours. The majority of courses are offered for four semester hours. Each undergraduate degree candidate must complete a minimum of 128 semester hours with an overall grade point average of 2.00. Departments or schools may set higher grade point requirements.

Degree requirements are specifically stated in this catalog. Students are responsible for becoming familiar with these requirements and meeting them.

Environs

Located in suburban Parkland, PLU has a picturesque 126-acre campus. The university’s geographical setting affords students a wide variety of both recreational and cultural entertainment options. Recreationally, the grandeur of the Pacific Northwest encourages participation in hiking, camping, climbing, skiing, boating and swimming.

The two most notable natural features in the area are Mt. Rainier and Puget Sound. The distinctive realms of the Cascade and Olympic mountain ranges and forests of Douglas Fir complete one of the most naturally tranquil environments in the United States.

Students can also enjoy the aesthetic offerings of nearby Seattle and Tacoma. These city centers host a variety of performing and recording arts and provide dozens of galleries and museums as well as unique shopping and dining experiences.

Faculty

235 full-time teaching equivalent faculty; approximately 26 part-time faculty. (as of September 2007, per IPEDS definition)
History

Pacific Lutheran University was founded in 1890 by a group of mostly Norwegian Lutherans from the Puget Sound area. They were led by the Reverend Bjug Harstad, who became PLU’s first president. In naming the university, these pioneers recognized the important role that a Lutheran educational institution on the Western frontier of America could play in the emerging future of the region. They wanted the institution to help immigrants adjust to their new land and find jobs, but they also wanted it to produce graduates who would serve church and community. Education—and educating for service—was a venerated part of the Scandinavian traditions from which these pioneers came.

Although founded as a university, the institution functioned primarily as an academy until 1918, when it closed for two years. It reopened as the two-year Pacific Lutheran College, after merging with Columbia College, previously located in Everett. Further consolidations occurred when Spokane College merged with PLC in 1929. Four-year baccalaureate degrees were first offered in education in 1939 and in the liberal arts in 1942. The institution was reorganized as a university in 1960, reclaiming its original name. It presently includes a College of Arts and Sciences; professional schools of the Arts and Communication, Business, Education, Nursing, and Physical Education; and both graduate and continuing education programs.

PLU has been closely and productively affiliated with the Lutheran church throughout its history. It is now a university of the Evangelical Lutheran Church in America (ELCA), owned by the more than six hundred congregations of Region 1 of the ELCA.

Many influences and individuals have combined to shape PLU and its regional, national, and increasingly international reputation for teaching, service, and scholarship. A dedicated faculty and staff have been extremely important factors. The school has enjoyed a strong musical tradition from the beginning, as well as noteworthy alumni achievements in public school teaching and administration, university teaching and scholarship, the pastoral ministry, the health sciences and healing arts, and business. At PLU the liberal arts and professional education are closely integrated and collaborative in their educational philosophies, activities, and aspirations.

Late-Afternoon, Evening and Saturday Classes

To provide for the professional growth and cultural enrichment of persons unable to take a traditional college course schedule, the university conducts late-afternoon, evening, and Saturday classes. In addition to a wide variety of offerings in the arts and sciences, there are specialized and graduate courses for teachers, administrators, nurses and persons in business and industry.

General University Requirements

To implement the commitment to the general education of all of its students, the university provides a strong liberal arts base for all baccalaureate degree programs through the program of general university requirements (GURs). Accordingly, all undergraduate students must satisfactorily complete all GURs. No course used to satisfy one GUR may be used to satisfy another, except for limited use in the Perspective on Diversity requirements.

Specific Requirements

All Baccalaureate Degrees

Line 1: The First-Year Experience

The Examined Life: Into Uncertainty and Beyond

The first-year program provides a supportively challenging context in which to begin the quest for, and adventure of, a larger vision for life. University education is about more than skills; at PLU it is about liberating students for critical and committed living, combining well developed critical capacities with compassion and vision for service in a multicultural, ideologically plural world.

In addition to orientation and advising programs, the first-year program is composed of three requirements. One of the two seminars must be taken in the student’s first semester. First-year program requirements must be completed during the student’s first year.

This requirement must be met by all students entering PLU with fewer than 20 semester hours.
General University Requirements

• Inquiry Seminar: Writing - FW, WR (four semester hours)

These seminars focus on writing, thinking, speaking, and reading. They involve writing as a way of thinking, of learning, and of discovering and ordering ideas. Taught by faculty from the university’s various departments and schools, these seminars are organized around topics that engage students and faculty in dialogue and provide the opportunity to examine issues from a variety of perspectives.

Note: Credits earned by Advanced Placement-English and International Baccalaureate-English do not satisfy this requirement, though they may be used for elective credit. Students with officially transcripted college writing courses, including those in Washington State’s Running Start program, are eligible to enroll in the writing seminar for credit, or they may choose to use their previous credits to satisfy this requirement.

• Inquiry Seminar 190 - F (four semester hours)

Inquiry Seminars are courses specially designed for first-year students, which will introduce students to the methods and topics of study within a particular academic discipline or field. Inquiry Seminars also emphasize the academic skills that are at the center of the First-year Experience Program. Working with other first-year students in a small-class setting that promotes active, seminar-style learning, students practice fundamental skills of literacy, thinking and community as they operate within that particular discipline. In addition to fulfilling major and minor requirements, an Inquiry Seminar may fulfill no more than one GUR.

• First-Year January Term (four semester hours)

All first-year students must enroll in a course during J-term. In addition to fulfilling major or minor requirements, a course taken during J-term used to fulfill this requirement may fulfill no more than one GUR.

Line 2: Mathematical Reasoning – MR (four semester hours)

A course in mathematics or applications of mathematics, with emphasis on numerical and logical reasoning and on using appropriate methods to formulate and solve problems. This requirement may be satisfied by any four semester hours from mathematics (except MATH 091), by CSCE 115 or by STAT 231. This requirement may also be satisfied by the completion (with at least a B average) of the equivalent of four years of college preparatory mathematics (through mathematical analysis or calculus or equivalent) in high school.

In fulfilling the Math Reasoning Requirement, students with documented disabilities will be given reasonable accommodations as determined by the Coordinator for Students with Disabilities and the appropriate faculty member in consultation with the student.

Line 3: Science and the Scientific Method - SM (four semester hours)

A science course that teaches the methods of science, illustrates its applications and limitations, and includes a laboratory component. At least one of the courses taken to meet this requirement, or to meet the Line 8: Distributive Core Natural Sciences requirement, must be in the physical or biological sciences.

Line 4: Writing Requirement - WR (four semester hours)

All students must complete four semester hours in an approved writing course. First-year students satisfy this requirement through the Writing Seminar.

Line 5: Perspectives On Diversity (four to eight semester hours)

A course in each of the following two lines.

• Alternative Perspectives - A (four semester hours)

A course that creates an awareness and understanding of diversity in the United States, directly addressing issues such as ethnicity, gender, disability, racism, or poverty.

• Cross-Cultural Perspectives - C (four semester hours)

A course that enhances cross-cultural understandings through examination of other cultures. This requirement may be satisfied in one of three ways:

- A course focusing on the culture of non-Euro-American societies;
- A foreign language course numbered 201 or above (not sign language) used to satisfy the entrance requirement, or completion through the first year of college level of a foreign language (not sign language) other than that used to satisfy the foreign language entrance requirement. (A foreign language completed through the second year of college level may also be used to simultaneously satisfy Option I, or a completion of a foreign language through the first year of college level may also be used to simultaneously satisfy Option II of the College of Arts and Sciences requirements [see below]); or
- Participation in an approved semester-long study abroad program (January term programs are evaluated individually.)

Note: Four semester hours of Perspectives on Diversity courses may be used to fulfill another general university requirement. The remaining four hours must be a course that does not simultaneously fulfill any other general university requirement. These four semester hours may, however, satisfy a requirement in the major or minor.

Transfer students entering as juniors or seniors must take one Perspectives on Diversity course (four semester hours) at PLU that does not simultaneously fulfill another general university requirement, or must show that they have satisfied both the Alternative Perspectives and Cross-Cultural Perspectives lines of the requirement.
Line 6: Physical Education – PE
(four semester hours)

Four different physical education activity courses, including PHED 100. One hour of credit may be earned through approved sports participation (PHED 250). All activities are graded on the basis of A, Pass, or Fail.

Line 7: Senior Seminar/Project – SR
(two - four semester hours as designated by the academic unit of the student’s major)

A substantial project, paper, practicum, or internship that culminates and advances the program of an academic major. The end product must be presented to an open audience and critically evaluated by faculty in the student’s field. With approval of the student’s major department, interdisciplinary capstone courses such as the Global Studies Research Seminar may fulfill this requirement.

Line 8: Distributive Core
(32 semester hours)

• Arts/Literature - AR, LT
(eight semester hours, four from each line)
  • Art, Music, or Theatre – AR
  • Literature (English or Languages and Literatures) – LT

• Philosophy - PH
(four semester hours)
Note: Logic courses do not fulfill this requirement.

• Religion - R1, R2, R3
(eight semester hours, only four allowed per line)
  Line 1: Biblical Studies – R1
  Line 2: Christian Thought, History, and Experience – R2
  Line 3: Integrative and Comparative Religious Studies – R3

Note: Transfer students entering as juniors or seniors must take four semester hours of religion (from Biblical Studies - R1 or Christian Thought, History and Experience - R2) unless presenting eight transfer semester hours of religion from other regionally accredited colleges or universities. Integrative and Comparative Religious Studies (R3) courses will not fulfill the general university requirement in Religious Studies if transferring into PLU with a junior or senior standing.

• Social Sciences - S1, S2
(eight semester hours, four from each line)
  • Anthropology, History, or Political Science – S1
  • Economics, Psychology, Sociology, or Social Work – S2

• Natural Sciences, Computer Science, Mathematics - NS
(four semester hours)

International Honors Program
(28 semester hours)

Students accepted into the International Honors program are not required to fulfill the 32 semester hours comprising Line 8 of the General University Requirements (Distributive Core). See the International Honors program section of this catalog for details on entrance into the program and its curriculum.

General Requirements and Limitations
All Baccalaureate Degrees:

(All credit hours referred to in listings of requirements are semester hours.)

• Total Required Hours and Cumulative GPA

A minimum of 128 semester hours must be completed with a grade point average of 2.00 (2.50 in the Schools of Business, and Education and Movement Studies, plus the Departments of Sociology and Social Work and Languages and Literatures (Spanish)).

• Upper-Division Courses

A minimum of 40 semester hours must be completed from courses numbered 300 or above. Courses from two-year institutions are not considered upper-division regardless of subject matter parallels (and regardless of major/minor exceptions). At least 20 of the 40 semester hours of upper-division work must be taken at PLU.

• Final Year in Residence

The final 32 semester hours of a student’s program must be completed in residence at PLU. No transfer credit may be applied during a student’s final 32 hours in a degree program. (Special programs such as 3–2 and semester and January term exchange study are excluded from this limitation.)

• Academic Major

A major must be completed as detailed by each school or department. At least eight semester hours must be taken in residence. Departments, divisions, or schools may set higher residency requirements.

• Grades for Courses in the Major and Minor

All courses counted toward a major or minor must be completed with grades of C- or higher and with a cumulative grade point average of 2.00 or higher in those courses. Departments, divisions, or schools may set higher grade requirements.

• 44-Hour Limit

No more than 44 semester hours earned in one department may be applied to the B.A. or B.S. degrees.

• Music Ensembles

Non-music majors may not count more than eight semester hours in music ensembles toward graduation requirements.

• Correspondence/Extension Courses

A maximum of 24 semester hours in accredited correspondence or extension studies may be credited.
toward degree requirements, contingent on approval by the Registrar’s Office. Literature, philosophy or religion courses may not be taken through correspondence, extension, independent study or distance learning for credit.

- Community College Courses

  A maximum of 64 semester hours will be accepted by transfer from a regionally accredited community college. All community college courses are transferred as lower-division credit.

- Physical Education Courses

  No more than eight of the one-semester hour physical education activity courses may be counted toward graduation.

College of Arts and Sciences Requirement

In addition to meeting the entrance requirement in foreign language (two years of high school language, one year of college language, or demonstrated equivalent proficiency), candidates for degrees from the College of Arts and Sciences (B.A., B.S., B.A.Rec., B.A.P.E. [excluding B.A.P.E. with certification], and B.S.P.E. degrees) must meet Option I, II, or III below.

Candidates for the B.A. in English, for the B.A. in Education with a secondary teaching major in English, for the BA in Global Studies, for the B.B.A. in International Business, and for election to the Areté Society must meet Option I.

Candidates for a B.A. in Music must meet College of Arts and Sciences requirement (Option I, II) and take a non-music arts elective in either visual art, theatre or dance.

- Option I

  Completion of one foreign language through the second year of college level. This option may also be met by completion of four years of high school study in one foreign language with grades of C or higher, or by satisfactory scores on a proficiency examination administered by the PLU Department of Languages and Literatures.

- Option II

  Completion of one foreign language other than that used to satisfy the foreign language entrance requirement through the first year of college level. This option may also be met by satisfactory scores on a proficiency examination administered by the PLU Department of Languages and Literatures.

- Option III

  Completion of four semester hours in history, literature, or language (at the 201 level, or at any level in a language other than that used to satisfy the foreign language entrance requirement) in addition to courses applied to the general university requirements, and four semester hours in symbolic logic, mathematics (courses numbered 100 or above), computer science, or statistics in addition to courses applied to the general university requirements. Courses used to satisfy either category of Option III of the College of Arts and Sciences requirement may not also be used to satisfy general university requirements.

Language Coursework and the Perspectives on Diversity Requirement

A foreign language course numbered 201 or above used to satisfy Option I, or completion of a foreign language through the first year of college level used to satisfy Option II, may be used simultaneously to satisfy the Perspectives on Diversity requirement.

A course in American Sign Language may be used to satisfy the Alternative Perspectives line.

Foreign language course(s) (excluding American Sign Language) may be used to satisfy the Cross-Cultural Perspectives line (see above).

Understandings Regarding All Requirements

- Consult particular departmental sections of the catalog for detailed specification of courses that count for these requirements.

- For those lines of the general university requirements which refer to academic disciplines or units, selected courses outside those units may count for the requirement when approved both by the units and by the committee overseeing the general university requirements,

- Courses offered through correspondence, on-line, and independent studies are not accepted to fulfill the core requirement in Literature, Philosophy, or Religious Studies.

Academic Policy and Procedures

Students are expected to be familiar with the academic procedures of the university. The procedures of greatest importance to students are listed in this section of the catalog. Additional information about these procedures is available in the Office of the Registrar and the Office of the Provost.

Academic Integrity

Both the value and the success of any academic activity, as well as the entire academic enterprise, have depended for centuries on the fundamental principle of absolute honesty. The university expects all its faculty and students to honor this principle scrupulously.

Since academic dishonesty is a serious breach of the universally recognized code of academic ethics, it is every faculty member’s obligation to impose appropriate sanctions for any demonstrable instance of such misconduct on the part of a student.

The university’s policy on academic integrity and its procedures for dealing with academic misconduct are detailed in the Student Handbook at www.plu.edu/print/handbook.

Academic Responsibilities and Deadlines

It is the responsibility of each undergraduate student to know and follow the procedures outlined in this catalog and to abide by the established deadlines.

Advising

The university expects that all students will benefit from assistance in planning academic programs consistent with their educational goals. Both to help students make their initial adjustment to the academic load at PLU and to provide counsel throughout their academic careers, the university has established a network of faculty and administrative staff advisors as well as an Academic Advising Office.

Academic Advisors

All students enrolled in degree programs have advisors whose overall responsibility is to guide academic progress. Until students have attained junior standing, they are required to meet with their advisor (and receive a current Registration Access Code) prior to registering for an upcoming term. In their work with individual students, advisors often work closely with and refer students to personnel in a number of student services offices. At the time of entry, each first-year student is assigned an academic advisor, usually according to interests expressed by the student.

Students who wish to explore the general curriculum before choosing a major program are assigned to professional advisors in the Academic Advising office or trained faculty or administrative staff who will help them to make educational plans appropriate to their interests and talents. All academic advisors are supported by educational planning workshops and by resources available through the Academic Advising Office.

Transfer students who are ready to declare their major are assigned to a designated transfer advisor. Transfer students who wish to explore educational goals are assigned an academic advisor in the Academic Advising Office.

Progress toward general university requirements can be accessed by the student and the advisor online via the Curriculum, Advising, Program Planning (CAPP) report available on Banner Web. In addition, advisors receive an advising file for each student they advise.

Major Advisors

Upon formal declaration of a major, students are assigned faculty major advisors within the major department, which in many cases will replace the current academic advisor. Major advisors guide students’ progress toward their chosen degree goals. Students are always welcome to see a professional academic advisor in the Academic Advising Office in addition to their major advisor. Students and advisors are expected to meet regularly, though the actual number of meetings will vary according to individual needs. Students are responsible for meeting with their advisor who serves as an academic guide as students make choices and determine their educational goals.

Academic Standing Policy

The following terms are used to describe academic standing at PLU. Academic standing is determined by the Committee for the Admission and Retention of Students, which reserves the right to review any student’s record to determine academic standing. Academic standing will be reviewed at the end of each semester and term.

Good Standing

All students enrolled at the university are expected to stay in good academic standing. Good standing requires a cumulative grade point average (GPA) of 2.00 or higher.

Academic Warning

- First-year students completing their first semester: First-year students completing their first semester whose GPA is below 2.00 are placed on first semester warning. Students will receive first semester warning notification and are required to follow the guidelines set forth in the letter. For these students, first semester warning is noted permanently on their academic transcript.

- Continuing students: All other students whose most recent semester GPA was less than 2.00, but whose cumulative GPA is 2.00 or higher will receive an academic warning notification. Students are required to follow the guidelines set forth in the letter. For these students, academic warning is not noted on the transcript.

Academic Probation

Students are placed on academic probation if their cumulative GPA falls below 2.00. Students on academic probation must satisfactorily complete each course they attempt in the subsequent semester. Satisfactory completion means no grades of “W” (withdrawal), “I” (incomplete), “E” or “F” for the term. Students who do not satisfactorily complete each course attempted in a probationary semester are dismissed from the university. Academic probation is noted permanently on the transcript. Students who successfully complete January Term or summer term course(s) and who achieve a cumulative GPA of at least 2.00 will be considered in good academic standing. Students who complete a January Term or summer term course(s) and who achieve a term GPA of 2.00 or higher but whose cumulative GPA still remains below 2.00 must raise their cumulative GPA to at least 2.00 with their coursework in the next Fall or Spring semester.

Continued Probation

Students whose cumulative GPA remains below 2.00 after a probationary semester, but whose GPA from their first probationary semester is above 2.00 are granted an additional semester of probation. Students on continued probation must satisfactorily complete each course they attempt. Satisfactory completion means no grades of “W” (withdrawal), “I” (incomplete), “E” or “F” for the term. At the end of the continued probationary semester, students must have earned a cumulative GPA of at least 2.00 and must have satisfactorily completed each course or they are dismissed from the university. Continued probation is noted permanently on the transcript.

First Academic Dismissal

Students are given a first academic dismissal from the university if they fail to meet the conditions set forth in the requirements for students on academic probation or on continued probation. A notation of first academic dismissal will be made on the transcript. Students are dismissed after fall and spring semester. Students dismissed after the fall semester may remain in their January Term courses, but are withdrawn from their spring semester courses unless the committee grants reinstatement (see below). Students dismissed after the spring semester are withdrawn from all summer term courses.

If there were extraordinary circumstances that the student believes warrant consideration of an appeal, students may apply for reinstatement by petitioning the Committee for the Admission and Retention of Students (in care of the Director of Advising). If the petition is approved, students are reinstated on continued probation and must earn a semester GPA of 2.00 or better. At the end of the following semester, students must have reached the 2.00 cumulative GPA. Students who are reinstated must also satisfactorily complete each course they attempt. Satisfactory completion means no grades of “W” (withdrawal), “I” (incomplete), “E” or “F” for the term.

Second Academic Dismissal

Students who are reinstated after the first academic dismissal must earn a semester GPA of at least 2.00 in order to be granted one additional semester of continued probation to reach the required 2.00 cumulative GPA. Students who fail to attain at least a 2.00 term GPA in the semester after reinstatement, or who fail to achieve a 2.00 cumulative GPA or higher in the second semester after reinstatement are given a second academic dismissal. These students are not allowed to petition the Committee for the Admission and Retention of Students for reinstatement.

Eligibility for Student Activities

Any regularly enrolled, full-time student (12 semester hours or more) is eligible for participation in university activities. Limitations on a student’s activities based upon academic performance may be set by individual schools, departments or organizations. A student on academic probation is not eligible for certification in intercollegiate competitions and may be advised to curtail participation in other co-curricular activities.

Midterm Advisory Letters

In the seventh week of each fall and spring semester, instructors may choose to send warning letters to students doing work below C level (2.00) in their classes. No transcript notation is made, and academic standing is not affected.

Class Attendance

The university assumes that all registered students have freely accepted personal responsibility for regular class attendance. Course grades reflect the quality of students’ academic performance as a whole, which normally includes regular participation in the total class experience and is evaluated accordingly. Absences may lead to a reduction of a student’s final grade. In the event of unavoidable absence, students are expected to inform the instructor. Assignment of make-up work, if any, is at the discretion of the instructor.

Classifications of Students

First-year........Students who have met first-year entrance requirements.

Sophomore......Students who have satisfactorily completed 30 semester hours.

Junior..........Students who have satisfactorily completed 60 semester hours.

Senior..........Students who have satisfactorily completed 90 semester hours.

Graduate Student........Students who have met graduate entrance requirements and have been accepted into the Division of Graduate Studies.

Non-matriculated Undergraduates: Undergraduate students who are attending part-time for a maximum of nine semester hours but are not officially admitted to a degree program.
Non-matriculated Graduate Students: Graduate students who are attending part-time for a maximum of nine semester hours but are not officially admitted to a degree program.

Course Load

The normal course load for undergraduate students during fall and spring semesters is 13 to 17 semester hours per semester, including physical education. The minimum full-time course load is 12 semester hours. The minimum full-time load for graduate students is eight semester hours. A normal course load during for the January term is four semester hours with a maximum of five semester hours. For undergraduate students, normal course load during a summer term is four semester hours with a maximum of five semester hours.

- In order for a student to take a full-time course load, the student must be formally admitted to the university. See the Admission section of this catalog for application procedures.
- Students who wish to register for 18 or more hours in a semester are required to have at least a 3.00 grade point average or consent of the registrar.
- Students engaged in considerable outside work may be restricted to a reduced academic load.

To achieve the minimum 128 semester hours required for graduation within a four-year time frame, students must enroll in at least 32 semester hours within any given academic year.

Credit By Examination

Students are permitted, within limits, to obtain credit by examination in lieu of regular enrollment and class attendance. No more than 30 semester hours may be counted toward graduation whether from the College Level Examination Program (CLEP) or any other examination. Exceptions to this rule for certain groups of students or programs may be made, subject to recommendation by the Educational Policies Committee and approval by the faculty. Credit by examination is open to formally admitted, regular-status students only and does not count toward the residency requirement for graduation.

To receive credit by examination, students must complete a Credit By Examination Registration Form available on the display wall located across from the Student Services Center, obtain the signatures of the respective departmental dean or chair plus instructor and arrange for the examination. The completed form must be returned to the Registrar’s Office by the add/drop deadline for the appropriate term.

CLEP subject examinations may be used to satisfy general university requirements as determined by the Registrar’s Office.

CLEP subject examinations may be used to satisfy requirements for majors, minors or programs as determined by the various schools, divisions and departments.

CLEP general examinations are given elective credit only.

CLEP examinations are subject to recommendations by the Educational Policies Committee and approval by the faculty.

Credit Restrictions

Credit is not allowed for a mathematics or a foreign language course listed as a prerequisite if taken after a higher-level course. For example, a student who has completed Spanish 201 cannot later receive credit for Spanish 102.

Repeating Courses

An undergraduate may repeat any course two times (including withdrawals). The student’s cumulative grade point average is computed using the highest of the grades earned, credit for a course at another institution is acceptable in transfer; however, only the grade earned at PLU is computed into the student’s grade point average. Credit toward graduation is allowed only once. Students should be aware that repeated courses are not covered by financial aid funding and cannot be counted towards full time status for financial aid. Students should consult the Financial Aid office before repeating any course.

Grading System

Students are graded according to the following designations:

Completing Directly with Students who are specializing in those areas of study. Grades of A through C- are regarded as pass; grades of D+ through E are regarded as fail. Pass/fail grades do not affect the grade point average.

- The pass/fail option is limited to eight credit hours (regardless of repeats, pass or fail).
- Only one course may be taken pass/fail in fulfillment of general university or core requirements or of the College of Arts and Sciences requirement.
- The pass/fail option may not be applied to a course taken for fulfillment of a major or minor program. An exception to this is allowed for one course in the major or minor field if it was taken before the major or minor was declared.
- Students must file their intention to exercise the pass/fail option with the Student Services Center by the deadline listed in the academic calendar.
- The pass/fail option is limited to undergraduate students only.

Exclusive Pass/Fail Courses

Some courses only award pass/fail grades. The goals of these courses are typically concerned with appreciation, value commitment, or creative achievement. Exclusive pass/fail courses do not meet major or university requirements without faculty approval. If a student takes an exclusive pass/fail course, the student’s individual pass/fail option is not affected.

Grade Changes

Faculty may not change a grade once it has been recorded in the registrar’s records unless an error was made in assigning the original grade. The error must be reported to the Registrar by the end of the following long term after which it was entered (by the Spring grade submission deadline for Fall and January, and by the Fall grade deadline for Spring and Summer). Any grade change requested after the designated date must be approved by the respective Department Chair and Dean. The Grade Change policy does not apply to “I” or “IP” grades, which are subject to separate policies.

Incomplete Grades

Incomplete (I) grades indicate that students did not complete their work because of circumstances beyond their control. An Incomplete Contract is required and must be signed by the student and the instructor. To receive credit, all work must be completed and a passing grade recorded. Incompletes from Spring and Summer terms are due six weeks into the Fall Semester. Fall and J-Term incompletes are due six weeks into the Spring Semester. The earned grade is recorded immediately following the I designation (for example IB) and remains on the student record. Incomplete grades that are not completed are changed to the default grade assigned by the instructor on the Incomplete Contract. If an Incomplete Contract was not submitted or a default grade not indicated, the incomplete grade will be defaulted to an E or F grade upon expiration of the time limit for submitting grades for an incomplete from that term. An incomplete does not entitle a student to attend the class again without re-enrollment and payment of tuition.

In Progress

In Progress (IP) grade signifies progress in a course that normally runs more than one term to completion. In Progress carries no credit until replaced by a permanent grade. A permanent grade must be submitted to the registrar within one year of the original IP grade submission. Any IP grade that is not converted to a permanent grade within one year will automatically convert to an Incomplete (I) and will then be subject to the policy governing Incomplete grades.

Medical Withdrawal

Medical Withdrawal is entered when a course is not completed due to medical cause. A medical withdrawal does not affect a student’s grade point average. See Medical Withdrawal Policy on page 25.

No Grade

A temporary grade entered by the Registrar’s Office when no grade has been submitted by the faculty member by the established deadline.

Second Bachelor’s Degree Earned Simultaneously

A student may earn two baccalaureate degrees at the same time. For a second bachelor’s degree awarded simultaneously, requirements for both degrees, in addition to GURs must be completed prior to any degree being awarded. A minimum of 16 semester hours must be earned in the second degree that are separate from hours applied to the first degree. At least eight of the 16 semester hours that are earned for the second degree must be upper division hours. Students must complete all GURs required for each degree. (For example, a student earning a B.A. and B.F.A. must complete the College of Arts & Sciences language requirement. Though it is not required of the B.B.A., it is a requirement for a B.A.). Students must consult with advisers from both departments in regards to meeting the specific requirements for each major. Students cannot be awarded two degrees within the same discipline. (Example: B.A. and B.S. in Psychology).

Second Bachelor’s Degree Earned by Returning Students

Students cannot return to have additional majors or minors posted to their records once they graduate unless they complete an entirely new degree. Students who return to PLU to earn a second bachelor’s degree after earning a first bachelor’s degree or those who earned their first degree at another institution must meet the following requirements:

- Apply for admission through the Office of Admission and acceptance under the current catalog.
- Earn a minimum of 32 new semester hours that apply to the degree.
- If the previous degree was earned at PLU, require the completion of any new GURs.
- If the previous degree was earned at another institution, require the completion of all GURs not met via a course-by-course evaluation of previous transcripts.

• Second bachelor’s degrees will not be awarded for a discipline in which the student has already received a major or degree. (Example: B.S. in Chemistry when the student already has a B.A. in Chemistry).

Determining Degree Requirements.

Students must meet the university’s General Education requirements as they are stated in the catalog that is current for the semester in which they matriculate at PLU. Students must meet the major and minor requirements as they are stated in the catalog that is current for the semester in which they are accepted into the program, i.e., the semester they have submitted an Academic Program Contract (APC) which has been signed by the department chair or dean of the school, as appropriate, showing admission into the major or minor.

Time Limits

Students are expected to meet all requirements for the undergraduate degree within a six-year period. Students who remain at PLU for longer than six years must meet the requirements of the most current PLU catalog in order to earn a degree. Students who are readmitted to the university must meet the requirements of the current PLU catalog to earn a degree.

Transfer of Credit from Other Colleges/Universities

The Registrar’s Office evaluates all transfer records and provides advising materials designed to assist students in the completion of university requirements. Undergraduate students who attend other regionally-accredited colleges or universities may have credits transferred to Pacific Lutheran University according to the following policies and procedures.

1. An official transcript is required for any course to be transferred to PLU. It is the responsibility of the student to obtain all needed documentation from the other college or university. Transcripts become the property of the university and will not be returned to the student, photocopied for the student, or forwarded to another site. Official transcripts are documents that have appropriate certification (seal/signature) from the other college/university and have been submitted in an official manner (normally sealed by the institution and submitted directly from the institution). Official transcripts are required from all colleges/universities attended.

2. Courses completed with a grade of C- or higher at regionally accredited colleges or universities normally will be accepted for credit as passing grades. Transfer courses are not calculated into the PLU grade point average. Courses from all other colleges/universities are subject to course-to-course evaluation by the Registrar’s Office. Not all courses offered by other colleges and universities are transferable to PLU. Guidance is available through the Transfer Equivalency Guides for community colleges available on-line and in the Registrar’s Office.

3. A student may transfer a maximum of 96 semester hours. Of these, the maximum transferable from a two-year school is 64 semester hours. Credits from quarter-hour colleges or universities transfer on a two-thirds equivalency basis. (For example, a five quarter hour course transfers as 3.33 semester hours).

4. Philosophy, Religion, Literature or Language courses taken through correspondence, on-line, and independent studies are not accepted to fulfill the general university requirements in Literature, Philosophy, Religion or Languages. Once a student has matriculated at PLU, departmental approval is required for a course to transfer in to meet general university requirements in Literature, Philosophy, Religion, or Languages.

5. Transfer courses must be a minimum of three semester hours to fulfill a PLU four-hour general university requirement. Transfer courses to fulfill any other semester hour general university requirement (for example, Physical Education course) must be a minimum of two-thirds of the PLU hour requirement.

6. All two-year and community college courses transfer as lower-division credit regardless of upper-division equivalency.

7. The final 32 semester hours of a student’s program must be completed in residence at PLU. No transfer credit may be applied during a student’s final 32 hours in a degree program.

8. The Pacific Lutheran University grade point average reflects only PLU work. A student’s grade point average cannot be improved by repeating a course elsewhere.

9. Credits from unaccredited schools or non-traditional programs are subject to review by the appropriate academic departments and the Registrar’s office and are not normally transferable to PLU.

10. Students are also subject to any school/division/department policies concerning transfer of courses. Exceptions to academic policies are based on submitted documentation and rationale and are approved by the appropriate officials as indicated on the Exception to Academic Policy form.

Graduation

Students expecting to fulfill degree requirements within the academic year (including August) are required to file an application for graduation with the Registrar’s Office by the following dates:

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Degree Completion</th>
<th>Bachelor’s and Master’s Deadline</th>
</tr>

<tbody>
<tr>
<td>December 2008</td>
<td>May 1, 2008</td>

<tr>

</tbody>

All courses must be completed, final grades recorded and university requirements fulfilled in order for a degree to be awarded.

There are four degree award dates (August, December, January, and May). Degrees are formally conferred at Fall and Spring commencements. Students with a January degree date participate in the Fall commencement. Students with an August degree date participate in the Spring commencement. The actual term of degree completion recorded is the graduation date on the permanent records.

Students who plan to transfer back to Pacific Lutheran University for a degree must apply for graduation before or during the first semester of their junior year so that deficiencies may be met before they leave campus.

Graduation Honors

Degrees with honors of cum laude, magna cum laude, and summa cum laude are granted. A student must earn a cumulative grade point average of 3.50 for cum laude, 3.75 for magna cum laude, and 3.90 for summa cum laude. (Applicable to undergraduate level only.)

Graduation honors are determined by the cumulative grade point average of all PLU coursework (defined as courses taught by PLU faculty for PLU). Students must complete a minimum of 64 semester hours at PLU to be eligible for graduation honors. Study Away courses at a PLU-approved program count towards the 64-hour minimum, but do not count towards gradu-aton honors unless the courses are taught by PLU faculty.
Term honors will be determined on the same basis as gradu-aton honors.

Dean’s List: A Dean’s List is created at the end of Fall and Spring semesters. To be eligible, a student must have attained a semester grade point average of 3.50 with a minimum of 12-graded semester hours. (Applicable to undergraduate level only.)

Honor Societies

- Areté Society: Election to the Areté Society is a special recognition of a student’s commitment to the liberal arts together with a record of high achievement in relevant coursework. The society was organized in 1969 by Phi Beta Kappa members of the faculty to encourage and recognize excellent scholarship in the liberal arts. Student members are elected by the faculty fellows of the society each spring.
Both juniors and seniors are eligible; however, the qualifications for election as a junior are more stringent. Students must have:
  - attained a high grade point average (for seniors, normally above 3.70; for juniors, normally above 3.90);
  - completed 110 credit hours in liberal studies;
  - demonstrated the equivalent of two years of college work in foreign language;
  - completed one year of college mathematics (including statistics or computer science) or four years of college preparatory mathematics in high school and one college mathematics course; and
  - completed a minimum of three semesters in residence at the university.

The university also has chapters of a number of national honor societies on campus, including the following:
- Beta Alpha Psi (Accounting)
- Alpha Kappa Delta (Sociology)
- Alpha Psi Omega (Theatre)
- Beta Gamma Sigma (Business)
- Mu Phi Epsilon (Music)
- Phi Alpha (Social Work)
- Pi Kappa Delta (Forensics)
- Psi Chi (Psychology)
- Omicron Delta Epsilon (Economics)
- Sigma Theta Tau International (Nursing)
- Sigma Xi (Scientific Research)

Non-Credit Informal Study

To encourage liberal learning of all kinds, above and beyond enrollment in courses leading toward formal degrees, the university offers a variety of opportunities for informal study:

Guest of University Status

Any professional persons who wish to use university facilities for independent study may apply to the provost for cards designating them as guests of the university.

Auditing Courses

To audit a course requires the permission of the instructor and is enrollment on a non-credit basis. An auditor is not held accountable for examinations or other written work and does not receive a grade. If the instructor approves, the course may be entered upon the transcript as audit. Auditing a class is the same price as regular tuition.

Visiting Classes

Members of the academic community are encouraged to visit classes that interest them. No fee is charged for the privilege.
Doing so requires the permission of the instructor.

Registration Procedures

Students register by using Banner Web, an online registration system. In addition to registering, Banner Web also offers students the ability to add or drop a class, check their schedules, and access final grades. Banner Web may be accessed through the PLU home page (www.plu.edu). Students may contact the Student Services Center with registration questions.

- Students are not officially enrolled until their registration has been cleared by the Student Accounts Office.
- Students are responsible for selecting their courses.
  Advisors are available to assist with planning and to make suggestions.
- Students should be thoroughly acquainted with all registration materials, including the current catalog and class schedule.
- Students are also encouraged to study carefully the requirements of all academic programs in which they may eventually declare a major.
Adding or Dropping a Course

All add or drop activity must be completed by the listed add/drop deadline for the specific term or semester. Please refer to the Class Schedule or go online at www.plu.edu/~regi for the most current information. Students may add a course without an instructor signature only during the first five business days of a full or half semester-length class. A student may drop a course without an instructor’s signature only during the first ten business days of a full semester-length class or of a half-semester-length class. In most cases, adding and dropping can be accomplished using Banner Web. See the January Term and summer schedules for the add/drop periods for those terms. Any registration changes may result in additional tuition charges and fees and may also affect the student’s financial aid (if applicable). A $50 Late Registration Fee is charged for any registration changes after the printed deadline dates.

Early Registration for Returning Students

Returning students will receive registration time appointments to register for summer/fall terms and for January and spring terms. Registration dates are determined by the number of hours, including transfer hours, completed by the student. Students may register for each new term or summer session on or after the designated date.

Early Registration Program for Entering Students

Early registration for entering students occurs during June or January, depending on whether students begin in the fall or spring semester. Early registration is conducted by the Advising Office. Registration materials are sent to all accepted entering students well in advance of their arrival on campus for their first semester.

Most students meet in person with a registration counselor as they register for courses. Students may also register by phone.

Withdrawal from a Course

Official Withdrawal

A student may withdraw from a class with an instructor’s signature after the add/drop deadline and before the withdrawal deadline published on the calendar page of the specific term Class Schedule. Tuition is not refunded, a $50 late registration fee is charged and any additional tuition will be charged for adding any other classes. A grade of “W” is recorded on the student’s academic transcript.

If a student is enrolled in a class, has never attended and did not drop the course before the published deadline, tuition will be charged to the student’s account, unless the instructor’s signature has been obtained. If the student obtains the instructor’s signature, tuition is not charged, but a $50 late registration fee is assessed.

The add/drop form may be obtained from the Student Services Center, filled in, instructor signature obtained, and returned to the Student Services Center by the appropriate dates that impact fee assessment. The add/drop form may also be found online at www.plu.edu/~regi.

Withdrawal from the University

Withdrawal during the term

Students are entitled to withdraw honorably from the university if their record is satisfactory and all financial obligations are satisfied. Students must complete and sign the “Notification of Student Withdrawal” form in the Student Services Center. Partial tuition refunds may be available depending on when the student withdraws. Refer to the Tuition and Fees section of this catalog for more information. Grades of “W” will appear on the student’s transcript for the term.

Withdrawal from a future term

Students are required to notify PLU if they do not plan to return for the following term. Students are entitled to withdraw honorably from the university if their record is satisfactory and all financial obligations are satisfied. Students must complete and sign the “Notification of Student Withdrawal” form in the Student Services Center.

Medical Withdrawal

Students may also petition to withdraw completely from the university for a term for medical reasons. The student must complete a Medical Withdrawal Petition, provide written evidence from a physician and a personal explanation to the Vice President for Student Life. This must be completed in a timely manner and in no case later than the last day of a class in any given term. If granted, the grade of “WM” will appear on the student’s transcript. Physician clearance is required prior to re-enrollment. See pages 21 and 126 for further information.

Course Numberings

100-299 Lower-Division Courses: Open to first-year students and sophomores unless otherwise restricted.

300-499 Upper-Division Courses: Generally open to juniors and seniors unless otherwise specified.* Also open to graduate students, and may be considered part of a graduate program provided they are not specific requirements in preparation for graduate study.

500-599 Graduate Courses: Normally open to graduate students only. If, during the last semester of the senior year, a candidate for a baccalaureate degree finds it possible to complete all degree requirements with a registration of fewer than 16 semester hours of undergraduate credit, registration for graduate credit is permissible. However, the total registration for undergraduate requirements and elective graduate credit shall not exceed 16 semester hours during the semester. A memorandum stating that all baccalaureate requirements are being met during the current semester must be signed by the appropriate department chair or school dean and presented to the dean of graduate studies at the time of such registration. This registration does not apply toward a higher degree unless it is later approved by the student’s advisor and/or advisory committee.

900-999 Continuing Education Courses: Courses reserved for all continuing education students.

* Note: Lower-division students may enroll in upper-division courses if prerequisites have been met.

Course Offerings

Most listed courses are offered every year. A system of alternating upper-division courses is practiced in some departments, thereby assuring a broader curriculum. The university reserves the right to modify specific course requirements, to discontinue classes in which the registration is regarded as insufficient, and to withdraw courses. Most courses have a value of four semester hours. Parenthetical numbers immediately after the course description or title indicates the number of semester hour credit given.
Academic Internship/Cooperative Education

Academic Internship/Cooperative Education courses are unique opportunities for “hands-on” job experience with directed academic learning. Through internships students weave opportunities for working and learning together. The program features systematic cooperation between the university and an extensive number of employers in the Puget Sound community, though a student may participate in an academic internship experience anywhere in the country.

Students gain an appreciation of the relationship between theory and application, and may learn first hand about new developments in a particular field. An Academic Internship experience enables students to become aware of the changing dimensions of work. It is a key component in PLU’s fabric of investigative learning.

Faculty: Herbert-Hill, Director

TWO MODELS: An academic internship accommodates both part-time and full-time work schedules. Part-time work allows students to take on-campus courses concurrently. A full-time work experience requires students to dedicate the entire term to their co-op employment. In most cases, students will follow one or the other, but some departments or schools may develop sequences that combine both full-time and part-time work options.

THE PROCESS FOR STUDENTS: To be eligible for admission into an Academic Internship or Co-op course, a student must have completed 28 semester hours or 12 semester hours for transfer students and be in good standing.

Students who wish to enroll in an Academic Internship must contact their department faculty or the Director of the Co-op Program to determine eligibility, terms for placement, areas of interest, academic requirements, and kinds of positions available.

Students are responsible for completing a Learning Agreement including learning objectives, related activities, and academic documentation of learning during their Academic Internship experience. Each student must arrange for academic supervision from a faculty sponsor. Faculty are responsible for insuring that the work experience provides appropriate learning opportunities, for helping to establish the learning agreement, and for determining a grade.

Documentation of learning is established with a “Learning Agreement” and usually includes completing academic assignments and projects and periodic contact with the faculty sponsor. Learning is guided by an on-site supervisor who acts as a professional role model and mentor. The Learning Agreement, developed by each student with the assistance of a faculty sponsor, lists learning objectives, a description of how those objectives will be accomplished, and how the student will document what they have learned. The Learning Agreement is signed by the student, the faculty sponsor, the program director, and the work supervisor, each of whom receives a copy. Contact (personal, phone, electronic, etc.) between the faculty sponsor and the student must be sufficient to allow the sponsor to serve as a resource and provide academic supervision. Site visits may be made by the faculty sponsor or the Co-op program director in agreement with the faculty sponsor.

Employers are responsible to: (1) provide opportunities for students to achieve their learning objectives within the limits of their work settings; (2) help students develop skills related to the contextual aspects of the work world (such as relationships with co-workers); and (3) facilitate students’ integration into their work setting so that their employment proves valuable and productive.

Students are required to register for at least one semester hour after accepting an Academic Internship position. Throughout an undergraduate academic career a student may receive a maximum of 16 semester hours of credit through the Academic Internship/Co-op courses.

To view AICE/COOP course list, see the PLU Directory of Approved Courses beginning on page 141.

Anthropology

Anthropology as a discipline tries to bring all of the world’s people into human focus. Though anthropology does look at “stones and bones,” it also examines the politics, medicines, families, arts, and religions of peoples and cultures in various places and times. This makes the study of anthropology a complex task, for it involves aspects of many disciplines, from geology and biology to art and psychology.

Anthropology is composed of four fields. Cultural or social anthropology studies living human cultures in order to create a cross-cultural understanding of human behavior. Archaeology has the same goal, but uses data from the physical remains of the past cultures to reach it. Linguistic anthropology studies human language. Biological anthropology studies the emergence and subsequent biological adaptations of humanity as a species.

Faculty: Klein, Chair; Andrews, Brusco (on leave 2008-09), Guldin, Hedrick, Huelsbeck, Klein, Nosaka, Thomson.

BACHELOR OF ARTS MAJOR: 36 semester hours

Required: ANTH 102, 103, 480, 499.

Choose: ANTH 101 or 104; four semester hours from 330–345 (peoples courses); four semester hours from ANTH 350–465 (topics courses); eight additional hours in anthropology, at least four of which must be above ANTH 321.

MINOR: 20 semester hours. Required: ANTH 102.
Choose: ANTH 101 or 103 or 104; four semester hours from courses listed ANTH 330–345; four semester hours from ANTH 350–499; and four additional semester hours in anthropology.

DEPARTMENTAL HONORS
In recognition of outstanding work, the designation with Departmental Honors may be granted by vote of the anthropology faculty based on the student’s performance in the following areas:

- Anthropology course work: 3.50 minimum GPA.
- Demonstration of active interest in anthropological projects and activities outside of class work.
- Completion of a senior thesis. A paper describing independent research must be conducted under the supervision of departmental faculty. In this time of rapidly changing concepts and an almost daily emergence of new media, emphasis must be placed on a variety of experiences and creative flexibility for the artist and the designer. Students with professional concerns must be prepared to meet the modern world with both technical skills and the capacity for innovation. The department’s program therefore stresses individualized development in the use of mind and hand.

Students may choose among a generalized program leading to a Bachelor of Arts degree; a specific specialized program for the Bachelor of Fine Arts, in which each candidate develops some area of competence; or a degree program in art education for teaching on several levels.

Some students go directly from the university into their field of interest. Others find it desirable and appropriate to attend a graduate school. Many alumni have been accepted into prestigious graduate programs, both in this country and abroad.

The various fields of art are competitive and demanding in terms of commitment and effort. Nonetheless, there is always a place for those who are extremely skillful or highly imaginative or, ideally, both. The department’s program stresses both, attempting to help each student reach that ideal. Instructional resources, when coupled with dedicated and energetic students, have resulted in an unusually high percentage of graduates being able to satisfy their vocational objectives.

Faculty: Avila, Ebbinga, Co-chairs; Geller, Hallam, Mathews, Stasinios; assisted by Cornwall, Sobeck, Watts

Majors are urged to follow course sequences closely. It is recommended that students interested in majoring in art declare their major early to ensure proper advising. Transfer students’ status shall be determined at their time of entrance. The department reserves the right to retain, exhibit, and reproduce student work submitted for credit in any of its courses or programs, including the senior exhibition. A use or materials fee is required in certain courses.

The diversity of courses in the curriculum provides broad coverage of contemporary biology and allows flexible planning. Each biology major completes a three-course sequence in the principles of biology. Planning with a faculty advisor, the student chooses upper-division biology courses to meet individual needs and career objectives. Faculty members are also committed to helping students investigate career interests and abilities. Students are invited to use departmental facilities for independent study and are encouraged to participate in ongoing faculty research.

Faculty: M. Smith, Chair; Alexander, Auman, M.D. Behrens, Carlson, Crayton, Dolan, Egge, Ellard-Ivey, Laurie-Berry, Lerum, Main, Siegesmund, J. Smith, Teska.

BACHELOR OF ARTS or BACHELOR OF SCIENCE MAJOR

The major in biology is designed to be flexible in meeting the needs and special interests of students. For either the Bachelor of Arts or Bachelor of Science degree the student must take the principles of biology sequence (BIOL 161, 162, 323). Completion of this sequence (or an equivalent general biology sequence at another institution) is required before upper-division biology courses can be taken. Each of these courses must have been completed with a grade of C- or higher and cumulative biology GPA must be at least 2.00. Courses not designed for biology majors (BIOL 111, 116, 201, 205, 206) ordinarily cannot be used to satisfy major requirements. Independent study (BIOL 491) and internship may be used for no more than four of the upper-division biology hours required for the BS degree, and for no more than two of the upper-division biology hours required for the BA degree. Students who plan to apply biology credits earned at other institutions toward a PLU degree with a biology major should be aware that at least 14 hours in biology, numbered 324 or higher and including 499, must be earned in residence at PLU. Each student must consult with a biology advisor to discuss selection of electives appropriate for educational and career goals. Basic requirements under each plan for the major are listed below.

BACHELOR OF ARTS: 34 semester hours in Biology
- BIOL 161, 162, 323, and 499
- Plus: 20 additional upper-division biology hours.
- Required supporting courses: CHEM 115 and MATH 140.
- Recommended supporting courses: PHYS 125 (with 135 Lab) and PHYS 126 (with 136 Lab).

BACHELOR OF SCIENCE: 42 semester hours in Biology

- PHYS 126 (with 136 Lab) or PHYS 154 (with 164 Lab)

BIOLOGY SECONDARY EDUCATION

Students planning to be certified to teach biology in high school should plan to complete a BA or BS in biology. Upper-division biology course selection should be made in consultation with a biology advisor. See the Department of Instructional Development and Leadership section of the catalog for biology courses required for certification.

MINOR
- At least 20 semester hours selected from any biology courses.
- A grade of C- or higher must be earned in each course, and total Biology GPA must be at least 2.00.
- Course prerequisites must be met unless written permission is granted in advance by the instructor.

Chemistry

Chemistry involves the study of matter at the atomic and molecular level. Concepts and tools of chemistry are used to study the composition, structure, reactivity and energy changes of materials in the world around us. At PLU, students will find a chemistry program that supports their interests, whether in the chemistry of natural products, the environment, biological systems, polymers, or inorganic compounds, and that supports their educational goals, whether toward graduate study, the medical and health professions, biotechnology, education, business, or as a complement to other studies in the natural sciences, humanities, or social sciences. For good reason, chemistry is often called "the central science."

The chemistry department's courses, curriculum, faculty, and facilities are approved by the American Chemical Society. Students have hands-on use of sophisticated instrumentation in coursework and research with faculty, including 500 MHz Fourier transform nuclear magnetic resonance (FTNMR) spectroscopy, atomic force microscopy (AFM), inductively coupled plasma atomic emission spectroscopy (ICP AES), spectrofluorometry, differential scanning calorimetry (DSC), Fourier transform infrared (FTIR) and Raman spectroscopy, laser light scattering instrumentation, gas chromatography with mass selective detection (GCMS), high performance liquid chromatography (HPLC), and Linux workstations for molecular modeling and computational chemistry.

Faculty research projects involve undergraduate participation.

Chinese Studies Program

253.535.7216
www.plu.edu/~csp
csp@plu.edu

The Chinese Studies program is an interdisciplinary program which is designed to provide students interested in China a broad foundation in Chinese language, culture, and history, and an opportunity to focus on the cultural-philosophical world view and the economic and business structure of China. The program requires that major and minor students complete coursework in at least three different disciplines: Chinese language, history, and anthropology, with optional work in political science, the arts, religion, business, and other disciplines.

Students are strongly encouraged to participate in the university’s China exchange programs (currently at Sichuan University) and may request that credits earned through these programs be counted toward the major or minor. With the approval of the program director, selected January-term, summer, and experimental courses may be included in the major or minor.

Faculty: A committee of faculty administers this program: Manfredi, Chair; Barnowe, Byrnes, Cathcart, Dwyer-Shick, Guldin, Komjathy, Li, Youtz. Mr. Sidney Rittenberg serves as honorary advisor.
The Classics Program is a cooperative effort among the Departments of Languages and Literatures, History, Philosophy, Religion, and Art. Its goal is to unite the “heart of the liberal arts” with the mind, through history and philosophy, and the soul, through religion, and to embellish this trinity of themes with the visual experience of art.

This interdepartmental Classical Studies major requires the completion of 44 semester hours, including at least one year of one of the classical languages (Greek and Latin) and two of the other. The remaining courses are selected from the list below in consultation with the program coordinator.

Classics Committee: Snee, Coordinator; Batten, Jansen, McKenna, E. Nelson, Oakman.

CLASSICAL LANGUAGES MAJOR

grown out of rapidly evolving micro- and mini-computer technology. The curriculum consists of essential and advanced elements from computer science and electrical engineering, developing both hardware and software expertise. Electives permit concentration in areas such as integrated circuit design, robotics, microprocessor applications, computer design, computer security, application software development, and artificial intelligence.

In keeping with the university’s mission to prepare students for a life of service, there are four major goals of the Computer Science and Computer Engineering programs.

Goal I: To provide a solid education in computer science and computer engineering in a liberal arts setting that prepares the student for graduate study or entrance into a profession in computing technology.

Goal II: To foster an aptitude and desire for life-long learning.

Goal III: To provide courses and personnel that view computer science and computer engineering as part of the human endeavor, that is, to see computer science and computer engineering in relation to more general intellectual development and to the needs of society.

Goal IV: To help students develop the ability and mental precision necessary to analyze, think critically, consider alternatives, and finally to be creative in their field of study.

In other words, we want to turn out students who will not only contribute to the field but also succeed in life. These goals are reflected in our program objectives, which are designed to produce graduates who, as practicing engineers and computer scientists, are able to:

- Contribute to their field of study
- Apply sound design methodology and tools to solve problems
- Respect their role in society
- Expand their knowledge after graduation

We call these our CARE objectives. For a complete description of the CSCE Goals, Objectives, and Outcomes visit the department web site www.cs.plu.edu.

Computer Science

Computer science deals with the theory, design, and application of computing systems and the study of the storing and manipulation of information. The program at Pacific Lutheran University provides a broad base core of fundamental material that stresses analysis and design experiences with substantial laboratory work, including software development. In addition, students are exposed to a variety of programming languages and systems. Students can choose from a number of upper-division courses, which insure a depth of knowledge and an understanding of current developments in the field.

The Bachelor of Science degree program in computer science has been accredited by the Computing Accreditation Commission of ABET.

Computer Engineering

Computer engineering is an engineering specialty that has students wishing an introduction to the computer and applications of software packages.

• CSCE 144: Introduction to Computer Science
  For students majoring in computer science, computer engineering, mathematics, and most science majors, as well as others wishing a strong experience in computer programming.

• CSCE 270: Data Structures
  This is the second course in the major. With departmental approval, students with a strong programming background may receive advanced placement into this course.

Facilities

The Computer Science and Computer Engineering Department is located in the Morken Center for Learning and Technology, a $21 million facility that opened in February 2006. The state-of-the-art facility has more than seven miles of conduit running through the concrete floors to power advanced computing technologies. The building provides computer science students with exciting new facilities for learning and close collaboration with professors. The Morken building includes a computer lab for software development, an electronics lab for computer engineering and robotics, a Linux lab, the Wiegand Multimedia Lab, smart classrooms with recessed computers for each student, private student work areas, and dedicated student workrooms for capstone projects. There is wireless network access throughout the building and CSCE students have accounts on the department’s Solaris server.

COMPUTER SCIENCE AND COMPUTER ENGINEERING MAJORS

Students majoring in computer science may choose to earn either a Bachelor of Arts degree in Computer Science or a Bachelor of Science degree in either Computer Science or Computer Engineering.

The Bachelor of Arts program is the minimum preparation suitable for further professional study and is often combined with extensive study or a second major in an allied field.

The Bachelor of Science degrees are strong, scientific degrees that contain additional courses in computer science, mathematics, and science and serve both students going directly into employment on graduation and those going into graduate programs.

Students should take CSCE 144, 270 and MATH 151, 152 early in their program.

Education and Movement Studies, School of

The faculty of the School of Education and Movement Studies come together representing two disciplines, highlighting both their distinctiveness and overarching similarities.

The degree programs delivered within the two departments, and the communities each serves, are diverse and expand well beyond the traditional conceptualization of public school education with regard to both the locations for service and age of the learner. Both departments maintain a philosophy that education is the unifying element within each discipline. Further, both disciplines require students to develop the knowledge, values, skills and competencies central to educating others for lifelong learning across a wide range of educational environments within society.

The programs offered within both departments seek to prepare individuals for “lives of thoughtful inquiry, service, leadership and care—for other people, for their communities, and for the earth” (PLU 2010, p.1). The students who complete our programs are competent in their knowledge and skill as appropriate for their discipline, seek to care for, support, and nurture equitably the diverse individuals they serve, and provide leadership as stewards of their communities and professions. The notion of education as lifelong learning, critical to focused and sustaining lives, is a fitting constant across the shared work of these disciplines.

Engineering Dual-degree Program

253.535.7400
www.nsci.plu.edu/3-2program
nsci@plu.edu

The Dual-degree Engineering Program at Pacific Lutheran University provides students with the opportunity to combine a liberal arts education with rigorous study in engineering. Students who complete the program earn two degrees - one from PLU and the other from an engineering school accredited by ABET (Accreditation Board for Engineering and Technology). For the well- prepared student, the total length of study is five years - three years at PLU and two years at the engineering school; hence, the program is sometimes referred to as the “Three-Two Engineering Program.”

Most subdisciplines of engineering are available to students in the Dual-degree program, including electrical, mechanical, civil, chemical, aerospace and biomedical engineering. Formal agreements exist with Columbia University in New York City and Washington University in St. Louis. At both schools, Dual-degree students form a community. They share residence facilities and often are enrolled in many of the same courses. PLU students who have participated in the Dual-degree program report their rich cultural and academic experiences at both schools and are routinely very pleased with their decision to have participated in the dual-degree program.

THE PLU PROGRAM

The Dual-degree student is awarded a PLU degree when the PLU requirements are satisfied and the program of study at the engineering school is completed. The PLU degree that typically is awarded is the Bachelor of Arts in physics. The B.A. in physics is well recognized by engineering schools and is the most frequently awarded degree by four-year schools with dual-degree programs. The physics degree can be selected by Dual-degree students in all engineering subdisciplines, but students wishing to study chemical engineering may wish to consider the option of obtaining the B.A. in chemistry from PLU.

TRANSFER TO NON-AFFILIATED ENGINEERING SCHOOLS

Occasionally, PLU students choose to transfer to an engineering school that does not participate in the Dual-degree program. PLU nonetheless recognizes these students as participants in the Dual-degree program and awards the appropriate PLU degree upon successful completion of their program at the engineering school. Since the PLU curriculum may not mesh smoothly with courses at unaffiliated institutions, the total time for degree completion may be more than five years.

Student Advising

Individual departments do not provide advice on the Dual-degree program. All prospective Dual-degree students, regardless of their intended engineering subdiscipline, should consult with the Dual-degree director (in the Physics Department) very early in their academic program.

PLU and the participating engineering schools recommend that Dual-degree students use their time at PLU to secure their academic foundations in mathematics, physics, and chemistry. Math skills are particularly important to develop, and poor math skills are the most frequent reason prospective engineering students fail to succeed in the program. While at PLU, students should concentrate on the fundamentals and enroll in the engineering courses at the Three-Two affiliated engineering school.

PLU REQUIREMENTS

In order to earn a PLU degree in the Dual-degree program, the following requirements must be satisfied:

- Completion of the following science and mathematics courses
  - 44 semester hours
    - MATH 151, 152, 253 (12 semester hours)
    - MATH 351 or PHYS 354 (4 semester hours)
    - PHYS 153, 154, 163, 164, 223 (14 semester hours)
    - CHEM 115, 116 (eight semester hours)
    - CSCE 131, 144 (six semester hours)

- Completion of the general university requirements as specified in the catalog, except that the following general requirements are waived for all dual-degree (3-2) students:
  - Completion of a minimum of 12 semester hours of upper-division work; the requirement that the final 32 semester hours of a student’s program be completed at PLU; the requirement that the senior seminar/project be completed at PLU. Senior projects from the engineering school (a characteristic of ABET-accredited schools) will satisfy the PLU senior project requirement for Dual-degree students upon approval of the project by the appropriate PLU department chair.

B.A. IN PHYSICS

12 additional semester hours

- Completion of an additional 12 semester hours of electives in science and mathematics from the following courses:
  - MATH 331, 356
  - PHYS 240, 331, 333, 334, 336
  - CSCE 245
  - CHEM 341 may be substituted for PHYS 333.

The particular courses chosen will depend on the intended subdiscipline and the engineering school’s entrance requirements. Students should consult with the program director before choosing their electives.

B.A. IN CHEMISTRY

19 additional semester hours

Completion of organic chemistry (CHEM 331, 332, 333, 334) and physical chemistry (CHEM 341, 342, 343)

THE ENGINEERING SCHOOL PROGRAM

The course of study at the engineering school will depend on both the school and the subdiscipline. Between Columbia University and Washington University, approximately 20 different engineering subdisciplines are available to Dual-degree students. These include the more common subdisciplines (civil, chemical, electrical, mechanical) and others such as operations research, applied mathematics, earth and environmental engineering and systems science. Details are available from the PLU program director.

ACADEMIC EXPECTATIONS

For admission to their engineering program, Columbia University requires a cumulative PLU grade point average of 3.00 or higher, and a grade point average of 3.00 or higher in pertinent mathematics and science courses. For Washington University, the required grade point average is 3.25 both overall, and in science and mathematics courses. Students who do not meet these requirements are considered on a case-by-case basis. Although students who choose to transfer to another engineering school may be able to gain admission with slightly lower grades than those required by Columbia University and Washington University, all prospective engineering students are well advised to use the higher standard as a more realistic frame our approaches to literature and define the issues that keep literature meaningful and relevant in our lives.

Students considering English with an emphasis on literature as a major, but who are still undecided, might begin with a 200-level course. Even though no 200-level course is required for majors, students may request that one appropriate 200-level course be substituted for one similar Periods and Surveys course at the 300 level. Students are encouraged to take Shakespeare early in the major.

Courses offered through correspondence, on-line, and independent studies are not accepted to meet the literature requirement.

Geosciences

253.535.7563
www.nsci.plu.edu/geos

geos@plu.edu

The geosciences are distinct from other natural sciences. The study of the earth is interdisciplinary and historical, bringing knowledge from many other fields to help solve problems. Geoscientists investigate continents, oceans, and the atmosphere, and emphasize both the processes that have changed and are changing the earth through time and the results of those processes, such as rocks and sediments. Our fast-rising human population is dependent upon the earth for food, water, shelter and energy and mineral resources.

Study in the geosciences requires creativity and the ability to integrate. Geologists observe processes and products in the field and in the laboratory, merge diverse data, develop reasoning skills that apply through geologic time and create and interpret maps. The field goes beyond pure research science, and includes applied topics like the relationships of natural events such as earthquakes and volcanoes with human societies. The Department of Geosciences recognizes that it is no longer sufficient just to have knowledge of the facts of the field; successful students must have quantitative skills and be able to communicate clearly through writing and speaking. Laboratory experiences are an integral part of all courses. Many courses involve the use of microscopes, including the department’s scanning electron microscope. Computers are used in most courses to help students understand fundamental phenomena, obtain current information, and communicate results. Field trips are included in many courses.
Geosciences

Pacific Lutheran University is located at the leading edge of western North America, in the Puget Lowland, between the dramatic scenery of the Olympic Mountains and the Cascade Range. Pierce County has diverse geology, which is reflected in elevations that range from sea level to more than 14,000 feet.

Geosciences graduates who elect to work after completing a PLU degree are employed by the U.S. Geological Survey, natural resource companies, governmental agencies, and private-sector geotechnical and environmental consulting firms. Graduates who combine geosciences with education are employed in primary and secondary education.

Careers in geosciences often require post-graduate degrees. Many B.S. majors have been successful at major research Faculty: Whitman, Chair; Benham, Davis, Foley, Lowes, McKenney, Todd.

DEGREE OFFERINGS

The Bachelor of Science degree is intended as a pre-professional degree, for students interested in graduate school or working in geosciences. The Bachelor of Arts degree is the minimum preparation appropriate for the field and is best combined with other degree programs, such as majors in social sciences or the minor in Environmental Studies.

The department strongly recommends that all students complete MATH 140 or higher before enrolling in 300-level and higher courses in geosciences. The department also strongly encourages students to complete the Chemistry and Physics requirements as early as possible. Students should also note that upper-division courses are offered on a two-year cycle. Early declaration of majors or minors in geosciences will facilitate development of individual programs and avoid scheduling conflicts.

All courses taken for the major must be completed with grade of C- or higher.

Global Education Opportunities

www.plu.edu/wangctr
wangctr@plu.edu

PLU is committed to a vibrant array of global educational opportunities, linked to its mission and vision of educating to achieve a just, healthy, sustainable, and peaceful world.

Both on- and off-campus opportunities abound. Academic majors and minors provide on-campus study of global issues such as development, global resources and trade, and human rights as well as specific cultures and societies. Departmental courses and multidisciplinary programs are described in detail in their respective sections of this catalog. Please note among others the offerings in anthropology, history, international business (under business), languages and literatures, political science, and the following multidisciplinary programs: the Americas, Chinese studies, environmental studies, global studies, and Scandinavian studies.

Off-campus programs span the globe and the calendar. PLU encourages majors in all fields to participate in off-campus study – for a January term, semester, academic year, or summer term. The following outline suggests the types of programs available to undergraduates; consult the Wang Center for International Programs for comprehensive and more detailed information.

FEATURED PROGRAMS

China

Offered every fall semester, this study away program is based at Sichuan University in Chengdu. The curriculum is centered around Chinese culture and language, business, and global studies courses and includes unique study travel opportunities – including an educational excursion to Tibet. Service learning assignments and part-time international internships provide opportunities to apply knowledge gained in the classroom.

Students may arrange to spend the full year at Sichuan University. No prior Chinese language study is required. Students earn up to 17 semester credit hours.

England

Located in the Bloomsbury District, this program – offered every fall and spring term – uses London as its classroom. Students explore the city’s exceptional resources through an interdisciplinary study of literature, history, political science, theater, and art. Academic and cultural learning is enhanced through extensive co-curricular activities, weekend study tours, living with a British family, and optional service learning. Students earn up to 16 semester credit hours.

International Internships

PLU offers internship opportunities to selected locations around the globe, providing students the chance to apply their on-campus curriculum in an international work setting. International internships can be completed concurrently with a study away program (depending on the study away format and location) or independently with supporting university coursework. Every year PLU students explore career possibilities and enhance their skills by completing semester-long internships in England, Namibia, and beyond.

January Term

Every January a wide variety of off-campus “J-term” courses led by PLU faculty take students around the globe to destinations ranging from Neah Bay to New Zealand. In January 2006, PLU received national attention when it became the first U.S. university to have students studying on all seven continents at the same time. Nearly 400 students participate annually in these intensive J-term learning experiences, which fulfill many degree requirements. The application process occurs during the preceding spring semester, with remaining openings filled during summer and early fall. See the Wang Center website for current offerings: www.plu.edu/wangcenter/catalog.

Mexico

Designed for advanced Spanish language students with an interest in Latin American Studies this fall semester program – based in Oaxaca – explores the intersection of development, culture, and social change through the lens of the dynamic and evolving context of contemporary Mexico. Student learning is deepened through home stays, educational excursions, and the opportunity for academic internships. Prerequisites: completion of Spanish 202 (301 preferred). Students earn up to 16 semester credit hours.

Norway

This fall semester program is based at Hedmark University College in Hamar, Norway. All courses are taught in English. Student learning focuses on Norway’s democratic model and its successful implementation globally with respect to aid for developing countries and conflict resolution. Field study experience and research papers allow for analysis and reflection on a topic related to the student’s academic area. PLU’s innovative tripartite relationships with institutions in Norway and Namibia afford students unique comparative learning opportunities. No prior Norwegian language study is required. Students earn up to 16 semester credit hours.
Students earn up to 16 semester credit hours in the fall and up to 18 in the spring, which includes J-term.

Trinidad and Tobago

January to mid-May, this study away program provides students with unique opportunities to explore the islands and learn about the varied heritages of the country’s multicultural society. During January students take a core course, which varies from year to year, and begin preparations for the Carnival celebration. From February to mid-May students take a second core course, Caribbean Culture and Society, and choose two additional courses from the regular offerings at the University of the West Indies. Because of the direct enrollment feature at UWI, this program is suitable for a wide variety of academic majors and minors including studies in the natural sciences. Students earn up to 18 semester credit hours.

OTHER PROGRAMS

Sponsored Programs

Hundreds of PLU students participate in the featured programs listed above every year. However, sometimes a student’s particular academic goals are better served by a different program. Through collaborative partnerships with other universities and agreements with study abroad program providers, PLU offers an array of semester-long study away programs with courses in a wide variety of academic disciplines. Short-term study away programs are also available during the summer months. PLU awards academic credit for approved programs and locations. For details call the Wang Center for International Programs at 253-535-7577. Or, visit the on-line study away catalog at www.plu.edu/wangcenter/catalog.

Non-sponsored Programs

Opportunities to study abroad are made available through many other organizations and colleges in the United States. Some U.S. students choose to enroll directly in an overseas university. In these cases, special arrangements must be made in advance for appropriate credit transfer. PLU financial aid is not applicable.

Academic Planning for Study Away

With appropriate planning, it is possible for qualified students in almost any major to successfully incorporate study away into their degree plans. Prior to studying off-campus on semester or yearlong programs and on short-term sponsored programs, students work with their academic advisors to determine how courses taken and credits earned will fit with their academic goals and transfer back to PLU. Using a pre-departure academic planning worksheet, the student’s intended course of study is documented, approved by the appropriate academic chair, and filed with the Wang Center.

Application Process

Because off-campus study requires an additional level of independence and the ability to adapt to other cultures, the application, selection, and pre-departure review process is rigorous and includes a comprehensive evaluation of student records. Applications for off-campus study must be pre-approved by the university. Students must submit applications to the Wang Center by the relevant application deadline, which is typically six to twelve months prior to the program start date.

Application materials include, but are not limited to, an official transcript, an essay, letters of recommendation, and an application fee. Consult with the Wang Center for application requirements and deadlines by calling 253-535-7577 or visiting the web site at www.plu.edu/wangcenter. The university reserves the right to decline an application for off-campus study and/or to cancel the participation of an accepted student before departure or during the program.

Grading Policy and Credits

Students participating on approved study away programs receive PLU credit and letter grades for their coursework. Courses, credits and grades are recorded on the PLU transcript. However, study away grades are only calculated into the PLU G.P.A. for courses taught by PLU faculty and and in the School of Business. Study away courses are not pass/fail.

Program Costs and Financial Aid

Financial aid may be applied to all PLU approved programs. This includes State and Federal financial aid (with the exception of work study), university grants and scholarships, and government loans. While abroad, students continue to be billed by PLU and are expected to maintain their payment plan arrangements. Tuition remission benefits apply to the cost of study away tuition on PLU approved programs, but not to housing and meal charges. Tuition exchange benefits apply only to the tuition component of these PLU-directed programs: Norway, China, Mexico, Trinidad, and International Internships. Tuition exchange benefits do not apply to any other study away programs offered through third party providers, consortia, etc.

Grants for Global Involvement

The Wang Center for International Programs awards grants on a competitive basis to students interested in advanced research and experiential learning in a global context, building on previous international experience.

Post-graduation Opportunities

PLU graduates pursue their global interests in many ways after they complete their degrees. These include Fulbright awards, Rotary scholarships, and Wang Teaching Fellowships in China. Contact the Wang Center at 253-535-7577 for more details.
Global Studies

253.535.8107
www.plu.edu/~glst
glst@plu.edu

The Global Studies Program aims to encourage and enable students to achieve global literacy defined as a multidisciplinary approach to contending perspectives on global problems, their historical origins, and their possible solutions. To this end, the Global Studies program offers courses and experiences designed to equip students with the factual knowledge and analytical skills necessary to comprehend, and engage with, foundational questions of global analysis (e.g., the commonalities and variations between human cultures), identifiable global themes (e.g., war and peace, economic development, globalization and trade, environmental sustainability), and the specifics of particular contemporary global problems (e.g., regional conflicts, weapons proliferation, environmental degradation, movement for political integration and autonomy, the AIDS crisis).

COURSE OF STUDY

Students electing the Global Studies major are required to declare a primary major before they declare a Global Studies major. No more than two courses (eight semester hours) can be taken in any one discipline to fulfill the requirements for the issue concentration for the Global Studies major. In addition, students may not apply more than two courses (eight semester hours) from each other major or minor.

Faculty: The Global Studies Committee administers this program: Crawford-O’Brien, Chair, Grosvenor, Keller, Martinez-Carbajo, Nosaka, Storfjell, Thomson.

At least four credits must be related directly to the student’s global studies concentration. For example, this study abroad requirement could be met by taking two appropriate J-term courses, or by eight semester hours of appropriate coursework taken during a semester abroad. Language study coursework does not necessarily count for this requirement; coursework must deal with the contemporary world and its issues. Obtaining pre-approval for credit is encouraged. Local internships related to an area concentration and involving a cross-cultural setting may be allowed in exceptional circumstances. The Global Studies chair must approve exceptions.

- Senior Research Project
  - The senior project is a general university requirement in all programs and majors. Students will normally satisfy this requirement by completing a research project or paper in GLST 499.

The Humanities faculty at Pacific Lutheran University are excellent teachers and scholars who model the possibilities of the life of the mind. The Humanities cultivates an intellectual and imaginative connection between a living past, embodied in the diverse array of cultural traditions, and the global challenges of our contemporary world.

The Division of Humanities at PLU invites students to develop critical and flexible minds as part of their becoming persons of commitment, vision, and action in the world. Drawing on the rich traditions of religion, philosophy, languages and literatures, students and faculty work together to explore complex perspectives on a variety of human concerns. Students in the Humanities are encouraged to develop the critical and reflective ability to:

- embrace complexity and ambiguity
- engage other peoples and perspectives
- appreciate the living past in the present and future
- engage traditions creatively and critically
- link theory and practice, and the public with the private
- seek connections among diverse cultures and academic disciplines
- understand themselves and consider what makes life worth living

In short, study in the Humanities teaches ways of living, thinking, and being in the world. It helps students to situate their beliefs within a wider frame of reference and to understand and critically analyze assumptions, traditions, truths, and histories. Study in the Humanities assists students to see their responsibility for the quality of the lives they lead. It challenges students to realize the importance of participating in a larger and broader service to the common good.

Faculty: Oakman, Dean; faculty members of the Departments of English, Languages and Literatures, Philosophy, and Religion.

As a division within the College of Arts and Sciences, the Division of Humanities offers programs in each constituent department leading to the BA degree. Course offerings and degree requirements are listed under:

- English
- Languages and Literatures
- Philosophy
- Religion

Committed to the interdisciplinary nature of knowledge, the Humanities supports and participates in the following programs: Chinese Studies, Classics, Environmental Studies, Global Studies, the International Core: Integrated Studies of the Contemporary World, International Programs, Legal Studies, Publishing and Printing Arts, Scandinavian Area Studies, and Women’s and Gender Studies.

Individualized Major

253.535.7619

Supervised by the Faculty Council for Individualized Majors, this program offers junior and senior students the opportunity to develop and complete a personally designed, interdisciplinary, liberal arts major. The course of study culminates in a senior thesis, to be agreed on by the council, the student, and his or her advisor.

Successful applicants to this program will normally have a cumulative grade point average of 3.30 or higher, although in exceptional cases, they may demonstrate their potential in other ways to the Faculty Council for Individualized Majors.

Admission to the Individualized Program

Admission to the program is granted by the council on the basis of a detailed plan of study, proposed and written by the student, and submitted to the council any time after the beginning of the second semester of the student’s sophomore year. The proposal must outline a complete plan of study for the time remaining until the granting of a degree. Study plans may include any of the traditional elements from a standard BA or BS degree program.

Once approved by both the faculty sponsor and the Faculty Council for Individualized Majors, the study plan supplants usual degree requirements, and, when completed, leads to conferral of the B.A. degree with Special Honors.

STUDY PROPOSALS

Study proposals must include the following:

A. Statement of Objectives, in which the student describes what the degree is expected to represent and why the individualized course of study is more appropriate than a traditional degree program.
B. A Program of Study, in which the student describes how the objectives will be attained through sequences of courses, reading programs, regular course work, independent study, travel, off-campus involvement, personal consultation with faculty members, or other means.

C. A Program of Evaluation, in which the student describes the criteria to be used to measure achievement of the objectives and specifies the topic of the senior thesis.

D. A Statement of Review, in which the student describes how previous course work and life experiences have prepared him or her for the individualized study program.

E. Letters of Recommendation. The study proposal must be written in close consultation with the chair of the Faculty Council for Individualized Majors and with a faculty member who agrees to act as primary sponsor and advisor to the student throughout the course of study. The faculty sponsor must comment on the feasibility of the proposal and on the student’s ability to carry it out. It is strongly recommended that a secondary faculty sponsor be asked to co-sponsor and endorse the proposal.

All subsequent changes in the study plan or the senior thesis must be submitted in writing to the Faculty Council for Individualized Majors for approval. Further information is available from the Academic Advising Office.

Special Note: Upper class students currently enrolled in the International Core Program will have available to them a selection of high quality 200 and 300-level INTC courses in which to enroll so they may complete their program requirements. 200-level courses will be offered through Spring 2009. 300-level courses will be offered through Fall 2009. International Honors Program

www.plu.edu/~external/majors/honors-program

The International Honors Program is a challenging and creative way to satisfy most core curriculum requirements, reflecting PLU’s unique mission and emphasis upon the liberal arts. Consisting of interdisciplinary and some team-taught courses, this multi-year program consisting of seven required courses, explores contemporary issues and their historical foundations through an integrated and multi-national approach. The program attracts inquisitive, caring students from all disciplines. Many Honors students choose to live in a designated wing of Hong International Hall, our international residence; whether inside or out, participants in the IHON Program form a thriving living/learning community.

Faculty Committee: Finstuen, Director; Halvorson, Palerm, Ronning, Torvend, others to be designated.

INTERNATIONAL HONORS REQUIREMENTS

Seven courses, 28 semester hours distributed as follows:

- International Honors 111-112 (190): Origins of the Contemporary World
  Eight semester hours
  Normally taken sequentially in the first year. These courses explore from a global perspective the historical roots of contemporary events, values and traditions.

- Four 200-level International Honors courses
  16 semester hours
  Normally taken in the second and third year. A wide range of these courses are offered every semester, and during J-Term.

- One 300-level International Honors course
  Four semester hours
  Taken after or with the last 200-level course.

POLICIES AND GUIDELINES FOR INTERNATIONAL HONORS

The three levels of IHON courses are built sequentially upon one another in terms of content and learning objectives. In order to acquire a common background, IHON students generally take the required IHON 111-112 (190) sequence in their first year, before taking their choice of 200-level courses. Exceptions to this sequence can be made for transfer students, or for students who are accepted into the Honors Program during their first year at PLU.

With prior approval by the IHON chair, an appropriate semester-long course abroad may take the place of one 200-level IHON course. Such a course must focus on a contemporary issue, be international in scope, interdisciplinary, and require honor’s-level critical thinking and writing. One 301 modern language course intentionally designed to meet program objectives (Chinese, French, German, Norwegian, Spanish) may also replace one 200-level IHON course when the student completes supplementary IHON expectations.

Multiple sections of IHON 111 are offered every Fall semester; and sections of IHON 112 (190) every Spring semester; beginning Fall 2008, varying IHON 200-level courses will be offered every semester including J-Term; IHON 300-level courses will be offered every semester beginning Fall 2009. Students are strongly encouraged to complete the required seven courses in the IHON Program by the end of their junior year at the latest in order to focus on completion of majors and related research during their senior year.

GPA REQUIREMENTS

Students in the International Honors Program must maintain a cumulative overall GPA of 3.00. Names of students who fall below a 3.00 will be forwarded to the student’s IHON advisor. Students will have one semester to bring their GPA up to a 3.00. If the 3.00 GPA is not achieved, students will be asked to dis-enroll from the program. Procedures for assignment of general education credits will be in place for students who do not complete the Honors Program.

To view the International Honors Program (IHON) courses, go to the PLU Directory of Approved Courses on Page 180.

Languages and Literatures

253.535.7678
www.plu.edu/~lang
lang@plu.edu

In-depth understanding of world cultures and an ability to speak languages other than one’s own are in increasing demand in today’s competitive workplace. These skills are viewed as essential to successful leadership and full participation in the integrated yet culturally diverse world of the twenty-first century. The study of languages and literatures at PLU is a serious academic enterprise as well as an exciting and dynamic cross-cultural adventure. While advancing their proficiency in a language, students develop critical and aesthetic sensibilities in addition to highly sought after cross-cultural skills and experience. Additionally, students develop an enhanced appreciation of their own language and cultural history. All students of languages are strongly encouraged to participate in one of the numerous study abroad courses offered during the January term as well as fall and spring semester programs. For further information, see the Global Education section in this catalog or visit the Wang Center for International Program’s Study Away Catalog.

The department offers a wide range of courses, not only in languages at all levels, but also in cultures, literatures, and linguistics, both in the original language and in English translators. Instruction is given in American Sign Language through the Department of Communication and Theatre.

Students with an interest in foreign language and global issues are encouraged to apply to live in Hong International Hall, a living-learning community consisting of five language and cultural houses: Chinese, French, German, Norwegian, and International Honors. Located in the middle of upper campus, Hong is a hub for campus activities focused on language, culture and international issues that seeks to create “a supportive home and a hopeful environment that challenges residents and the campus to become fluent in languages and conversant with international issues.” Hong International Hall thus promotes global awareness through intentional language immersion and culture engagement. Go to the Hong International Hall website at www.plu.edu/~hong/home.html for further information.

Legal Studies is an interdisciplinary minor program of study focusing on the nature of law and judicial process. Consistent with the purposes of the American Legal Studies Association, the Legal Studies Program at PLU provides alternative approaches to the study of law from the academic framework of the Divisions of Social Sciences and Humanities and the Schools of Communication and Art and of Business. The faculty teaching within the program emphasize the development of a critical understanding of the functions of law, the mutual impacts of law and society, and the sources of law. Students completing a minor in Legal Studies pursue these objectives through courses, directed research, and internships in offices and agencies involved in making, enforcing, interpreting, and communicating “the law” in contemporary American civil society.

Mathematics

253.535.7400

www.plu.edu/~math

math@plu.edu

Mathematics is a many-faceted subject that is not only extremely useful in its application, but at the same time is fascinating and beautiful in the abstract. It is an indispensable tool for industry, science, government, and the business world, while the elegance of its logic and beauty of form have intrigued scholars, philosophers, and artists since earliest times.

The mathematics program at PLU is designed to serve five main objectives: (1) to provide backgrounds for other disciplines, (2) to provide a comprehensive pre-professional program for those directly entering the fields of teaching and applied mathematics, (3) to provide a nucleus of essential courses which will develop the breadth and maturity of mathematical thought for continued study of mathematics at the graduate level, (4) to develop the mental skills necessary for the creation, analysis, and critique of mathematical topics, and (5) to provide a view of mathematics as a part of humanistic behavior.

Faculty: M. Zhu, Chair; Benkhalti, B. Dorner, Heath, Meyer, Simic-Muller, Sklar, Stuart, Wu.

Beginning Classes

 Majors in mathematics, computer science and engineering, and other sciences usually take MATH 151 and MATH 152 (calculus). Math 151 is also appropriate for any student whose high school mathematics preparation is strong. Those who have had calculus in high school may omit MATH 151 (see Advanced Placement section) and enroll in MATH 152 after consultation with a mathematics faculty member. Those who have less mathematics background may begin with MATH 140 before taking MATH 151. MATH 115 provides preparation for MATH 140.

Business majors may satisfy the requirement for the business degree by taking MATH 128, 151, or 152. (Math 115 provides preparation for MATH 128.)

Elementary education majors may satisfy the requirement for the education degree by taking Math 123. (Math 115 provides preparation for MATH 123.)
For students who plan to take only one mathematics course, a choice from MATH 105, 107, 123, 128, 140, or 151 is advised, depending on interest and preparation.

Placements Test

A placement test and background survey are used to help insure that students begin in mathematics courses that are appropriate to their preparation and abilities. Enrollment is not permitted in any of the beginning mathematics courses (MATH 105, 107, 115, 123, 128, 140, 151) until the placement test and background survey are completed. The placement test is available at http://banweb.plu.edu/pls/pap/hxskmplc.p_mathIntro.

Advanced Placement Policy

The policy of the Mathematics Department regarding mathematics credit for students who have taken the AP Calculus exams (AB or BC) or the International Baccalaureate Higher Level Mathematics Exam (IBHL) is as follows:

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Exam</th>
<th>Score</th>
<th>Credit</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>AB</td>
<td>3*</td>
<td>MATH 151*</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>AB</td>
<td>4,5</td>
<td>MATH 151</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>BC</td>
<td>3</td>
<td>MATH 151</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>BC</td>
<td>4,5</td>
<td>MATH 151 and 152</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>IBHL</td>
<td>4,5</td>
<td>MATH 151</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>IBHL</td>
<td>6,7</td>
<td>MATH 151 and 152</td>
</tr>
</tbody>

*Consult with instructor if planning to take MATH 152.

If a student has taken calculus in high school and did not take an AP exam or IBHL exam, then the student may enroll in MATH 152 after consultation with a mathematics faculty member. In this case no credit is given for MATH 151.

Mathematics and General University Requirements

(see General University Requirements)

All mathematics courses will satisfy the mathematical reasoning requirement (line two of the general university requirements). At least four semester hours are needed. All mathematics courses will satisfy the natural sciences, computer science, mathematics (NS) GUR. At least four semester hours are needed. A course cannot simultaneously satisfy mathematical reasoning (MR) and science and scientific method (SM) GURs.

In fulfilling the Math Reasoning Requirement, students with documented disabilities will be given reasonable accommodations as determined by the Coordinator for Students with Disabilities and the appropriate faculty member in consultation with the student.

Mathematics and the College of Arts and Sciences Requirement

(see College of Arts and Sciences Requirements)

All mathematics courses will satisfy the logic, mathematics, computer science or statistics part of Option III of the College of Arts and Sciences requirement. A course cannot simultaneously satisfy Option III of the College of Arts and Sciences requirement and a general university requirement.

Mathematics Major Requirements

- The foundation of the mathematics program for majors includes:
  - MATH 151, 152, 253: Three-semester sequence of calculus
  - MATH 331 (Linear Algebra)

Students with a calculus background in high school may receive advanced placement into the appropriate course in this sequence.

Students who have taken calculus in high school but do not have credit for MATH 151 do not need to take MATH 151 for the mathematics major or minor. However, they still need to complete the number of hours in mathematics as stated in the requirements.

Upper-division work includes courses in introduction to proof, linear algebra, abstract algebra, analysis, geometry, differential equations, statistics and numerical analysis. See the description of the courses and the major (either Bachelor of Arts or Bachelor of Science) for more detail. Students majoring in mathematics should discuss scheduling of these courses with their advisors. For example, MATH 499 extends over two semesters beginning with MATH 499A in the fall semester. May graduates begin this capstone course in the fall semester of the senior year, while December graduates must begin this course in the fall semester of their junior year. MATH 499A is only offered in fall semester and must be taken before MATH 499B which is only offered in the spring.

Movement Studies and Wellness Education

253.535.7350
www.plu.edu/~mswe
E-mail: mswe@plu.edu

The primary mission of the Department of Movement Studies and Wellness Education (MSWE) is to provide quality academic professional preparation for undergraduate students in areas related to the study of human movement, especially as it supports the pursuit of lifelong physical activity and well being (i.e. health & fitness education, recreation, exercise science, pre-physical therapy, pre-athletic training and health & fitness management). We strive to prepare leaders who will positively impact the health behaviors of individuals and of society through the education and promotion of life-sustaining and life-enhancing pursuits. The successful completion of our majors demands a strong integration of the liberal arts and sciences with thorough professional preparation in light of respective state and national standards, accrediting bodies and certification programs. Internship experiences are an integral element of all majors in the department and allow for students to further develop and apply their education and training in real world, professional settings. In addition, we provide a diverse array of physical activity instruction for students as part of the General University Requirements (GUR) of the university. The goals of these classes are to 1) develop in each student a fundamental respect for the role of physical activity in living, including the assessment of physical condition and the development of personally designed, safe, effective and functional fitness programs with attention to lifetime activities and 2) to expose students to a diversity of physical activities and experiences in a manner which enhances understanding of their educational, social, spiritual, ethical and moral relevance. Our programs provide opportunities for all participants to develop and apply a knowledge base regarding physical activity and psychomotor and behavioral skills, which encourages the development of lifelong health and wellness.

The department offers three degree programs: the Bachelor of Arts degree in Recreation (B.A.Rec.), the Bachelor of Arts Degree in Physical Education (B.A.P.E. w/ teacher certification option), and the Bachelor of Science Degree in Physical Education (B.S.P.E.) which offers four different pre-professional concentrations: Health & Fitness Management, Exercise Science, Pre-Physical Therapy and Pre-Athletic Training. Students completing these degrees often go on for further graduate study in physical therapy, sport psychology, athletic training, exercise science, recreation, public health etc., or enter into professions such as teaching, personal training, promotions and management, youth programming, coaching and other areas and do so in diverse settings such as schools, private health clubs, non-profit agencies, corporations, professional sport teams, youth clubs, hospitals, parks and recreation departments and health departments, among others. In addition, five distinct minors can be used to compliment majors within the department, or can be pursued by majors outside the department in areas of personal or professional interest. These minors are Coaching, Fitness & Wellness Education, Personal Training, Sport & Recreation Management and Sport Psychology.

Faculty: McConnell, Associate Dean; Briseno-Wendel, Evans, Johnson, Hacker, Moore, Tingstrom, Wood.

GENERAL UNIVERSITY REQUIREMENT
Four one-semester hour courses (PHED 100–259), which must include PHED 100, are required for graduation.

No more than eight of the one-semester hour PE activity courses may be counted toward graduation. Students are encouraged to select a variety of activities at appropriate skill levels. All physical education activity courses are graded on the basis of A, Pass, or Fail and are taught on a coeducational basis.

MUSIC MAJOR DEGREES

General Requirements

- Entrance Audition
  To be admitted to a music major program, prospective students must audition for the music faculty.

- Declaration of Major
  Students interested in majoring in music should complete an academic program contract declaring a music major during their first semester of enrollment in the program. Majors can always be changed later.

- Ensemble Requirement
  Music majors are required to participate every semester in one of the music ensembles specified in their major. (Exception: semesters involving study abroad and/or student teaching.)

- Keyboard Proficiency
  Basic keyboard skills are required in all music majors (B.M., B.M.E., B.M.A., B.A.). Attainment of adequate keyboard skills is determined by successful completion (letter grade of “C” or better) in MUSI 122: Keyboarding II.

- Language Requirement
  Vocal performance majors are required to take at least one year of language study (two regular semesters) in French or German (see department handbook).

- Music Electives
  MUSI 111 and/or MUSI 113 may not count for music electives in a music major degree program.

Music

The music program at PLU strives to provide every student at the university with a meaningful and enriching arts experience, ranging from non-major private lessons or ensemble participation to core courses to four distinctive academic majors and two academic minors. Nearly one quarter of the undergraduates at PLU participate in music annually. The National Association of Schools of Music accredits the PLU Music Program and its graduates go on to distinguished and satisfying careers in teaching and performing.

Facilities for exploring the musical arts are outstanding. The Mary Baker Russell Music Center, with its exquisite Lagerquist Concert Hall, provides state-of-the-art focus to music study at PLU. Media-rich classrooms and labs augment studios and individual practice spaces. Private study in keyboard is available in piano, organ, and harpsichord. Other private study includes voice and all string, wind, and percussion instruments, taught by regularly performing musicians. Professional-quality experience is available to qualified performers in band, orchestra, choir, jazz, and chamber ensembles.

For introductory courses to the field of music, see the descriptions of MUSI 101, 102, 103, 104, 105, 106, and 120.

Natural Sciences, Division of 253.535.7560

www.nsci.plu.edu
nsci@plu.edu

The Division of Natural Sciences fulfills a two-fold purpose, preparing its majors for careers as science professionals and providing all students the grounding in the scientific awareness vital for being a citizen in the modern world and participating in a democracy.

To meet the first purpose, the six departments in the division offer rigorous programs in biology, chemistry, geosciences, physics, mathematics, and computer science and computer engineering. Inquiry-based learning is emphasized in laboratories, research courses, and capstone projects. The division-wide undergraduate research program supports one-on-one investigations with faculty in which students are immersed in all aspects of actually “doing” science.

To meet the second purpose, both major and non-major courses address the basic philosophy and methodologies of science. This encourages an awareness of the limitations of science as well as an appreciation for its benefits. Courses also attempt to place science and technology in its larger socio-cultural context, connecting developments in one discipline with those in another and with influences outside the sciences.

Regardless of their major, students will find in the Natural Sciences Division a faculty devoted to teaching. Opportunities for close interactions abound, and the development of the whole person is a central concern.

Faculty: Alexander, Dean; faculty members of the Departments of Biology, Chemistry, Computer Science and Computer Engineering, Geosciences, Mathematics, and Physics.

As a division within the College of Arts and Sciences, the Division of Natural Sciences offers major programs in each department leading to B.A. and B.S. degrees, minor programs, and core courses that fulfill general university requirements. The departments provide supporting courses for interdisciplinary programs within the sciences and for other schools of the university. Courses for B.A. in Education degrees with majors and minors in the natural sciences are available; see the Education section of this catalog for specific degree requirements. See also the sections on Environmental Studies and on the Health Sciences (under Pre-Professional Programs) for related programs.

Descriptions of specific course offerings and degree requirements offered within the Natural Sciences are listed under:

- Biology
- Chemistry
- Computer Science and Computer Engineering
- Geosciences

Nursing, School of 253.535.7672

www.plu.edu/~nurs
nurs@plu.edu

The School of Nursing is a professional school that combines nursing science with a strong foundation in natural sciences and the liberal arts. It prepares undergraduate students for generalist nursing practice; builds upon undergraduate educational experiences to prepare nurses for advanced practice in designated specialties; and responds to the education needs of practicing nurses to remain current, competent practitioners or to revise the focus of their practice.

The School exemplifies the university’s mission of educating for lives of service and care in an environment that encourages inquiry, diversity, lifelong learning and spirituality as vital elements in the human quest for wholeness. Nursing’s educational programs offer dynamic learning opportunities that challenge students to develop skills, attitudes, values, and roles which facilitate individuals, families, and communities to meet their health and wellness needs.

Degree programs within the School of Nursing include:
1. Bachelor of Science in Nursing for basic nursing students, licensed practical nurses and ADN-RNs;
2. Master of Science in Nursing program for B.S.N. prepared registered nurses;
3. RN-non-nursing baccalaureate degree or higher to M.S.N.
4. Entry-level M.S.N. for non-nursing baccalaureate graduates.

A program leading to Educational Staff Associate certificate is available for school nurses through Continuing Nursing Education (CNE). Course work is offered in collaboration with the Office of the Washington State Superintendent of Public Instruction. Workshops and short courses for nurses and others involved in health care are frequently offered through the year by CNE.

The Wellness Center is an integral part of the School of Nursing that includes a nurse-managed, practitioner-staffed clinic. The center provides nursing services to the community and serves as a practice site for undergraduate and graduate students.

Faculty: T. Miller, Dean; Barta, Carr, Dolan, Dubois, Frank, Hom, Jenkins, Latta, Lizzi, Maloney, McCann, Mize, Olson, Pendrak, Roberts, Roth, Schaffler, Schaffner, Schultz, Shull, Swett, Wolfer, Wood, Zaichkin.
Accreditations and Affiliations

The School of Nursing at Pacific Lutheran University is a member of the American Association of Colleges of Nursing and The National League for Nursing. The B.S.N. and M.S.N. programs are approved by the Washington State Nursing Care Quality Assurance Commission and fully accredited by the Commission on Collegiate Nursing Education. The school is part of the Psi Chapter-at-Large of Sigma Theta Tau International, the Honor Society of Nursing.

Undergraduate Programs

The Basic undergraduate program is designed for students who do not hold licensure in practical or registered nursing. The LPN to B.S.N. program is designed for persons holding LPN licensure.

The school collaborates with over 100 health agencies to provide optimal clinical learning experiences for its students, under the supervision of its faculty members.

Graduates who successfully complete the program will earn the Bachelor of Science in Nursing degree and are eligible to sit for the NCLEX-RN examination for licensure as registered nurses in all 50 states and two US Territories. They are prepared to begin professional nursing positions throughout the health care system. The undergraduate programs provide a strong foundation for graduate study in nursing.

High School Preparation

Applicants are expected to have completed a program in high school that includes: four years of English; two years of mathematics (preferably algebra and geometry); two years of social sciences; two years of one foreign language; and two years of laboratory sciences (including chemistry).

Liberal Arts Foundation

An understanding and appreciation for the integration of liberal arts and the art and science of nursing are necessary for success in the B.S.N. program. Applicants are expected to have completed at least 12 semester credits of liberal arts courses prior to beginning the nursing program, in such study areas as anthropology, fine arts, history, languages, literature, philosophy, political science, religion or writing.

Admission to the University

Applicants must be accepted by the university before consideration for acceptance by the School of Nursing. Pacific Lutheran University welcomes applications from all students who have demonstrated capacities for success at the baccalaureate level. Students who present appropriate academic records and personal qualities are admitted to either summer, fall, or spring terms. Application procedures and other details are found elsewhere in this catalog.

Admission to the School of Nursing

Students seeking admission to the undergraduate nursing program’s Basic, LPN-B.S.N. sequence, or the ADN-B.S.N. sequence must make formal application to both the university and the School of Nursing. Applications for admission to the nursing major are available from the School of Nursing. All application materials, including official transcripts, are reviewed by the School’s Recruitment, Admission and Progression (RAP) Committee and evaluated according to the admission criteria.

Undergraduate students desiring admission should submit their applications by the priority deadline for any term in the following year. The selection of students for admission is competitive because available spaces each semester are limited. If there are more applicants for any term than can be accommodated, qualified candidates may be placed on a waitlist or admitted to a later term. Students are admitted to the term of their choice if it is possible. Persons on the waitlist for the year who are not admitted, but who continue to desire admission to the nursing major, must submit a new application to be considered for the following year.

Individuals whose applications have been received after the priority deadline for all terms will be considered on a space available basis.

All prospective or pre-nursing students are urged to seek early academic advisement in order to enroll for appropriate prerequisite courses and avoid unnecessary loss of time. The School of Nursing reserves the right of curriculum and program modification and revision.

Admission Criteria

BASIC-B.S.N., LPN-B.S.N. AND ADN-B.S.N.

Applications must be submitted to Pacific Lutheran University before being considered for admission to the School of Nursing. Admission is a selective process and meeting minimum requirements does not imply or guarantee admission. Admission to the university does not imply or guarantee admission to the School of Nursing. Minimum criteria that applicants must meet to be considered for admission to the Basic to B.S.N., LPN to B.S.N. or ADN to B.S.N. programs of study include the following:

- Successful completion, or pending satisfactory completion, of specific prerequisite courses at PLU, an accredited community college or another accredited university.
- Successful completion, or pending completion, of at least 30 semester credits or 45 quarter credits (sophomore class standing).
- Competitive grade point average. Admitted students usually have significantly higher grade point averages than the minimum because of the competitiveness of the program:
  - A minimum grade of 2.00 on a 4.00 scale in each nursing prerequisite and co-requisite course.
  - A minimum cumulative grade point average of 2.75 on a 4.00 scale in the prerequisite courses.
  - A minimum PLU cumulative grade point average of 3.00 on a 4.00 scale. Transfer students who matriculate to PLU and the School of Nursing simultaneously must meet the cumulative transfer grade point average as determined by the Registrar’s Office.
- No more than one repeat of any single prerequisite or co-requisite course. Applicants who have either repeated courses, both general and nursing specific, due to failure, or have withdrawn from courses, are considered less competitive.

- Completion of the university math entrance requirement, which is intermediate algebra at the college level with a minimum grade of 2.00 on a 4.00 scale, or completion of two years of college preparatory (high school) algebra with average grades of 2.00 on a 4.00 scale.
- Physical and mental health with emotional stability sufficient to meet the demands of all generalist nursing roles and to provide timely, safe patient care.
- Fluency in speaking, reading, writing and comprehending university-level English.
- Civil, administrative and criminal history clearance in all states as well as any other applicable territory or country.
- Submission of all required application documents to the School of Nursing by the School’s designated deadlines.

Continuation Policies

- All nursing courses have prerequisites and must be taken in sequence and/or concurrently as identified in the student’s school-approved curriculum plan as well as in the catalog.
- A minimum grade of 2.00 on a 4.00 scale (“C”) must be achieved in all required nursing courses. A student receiving a grade less than a 2.00 in any course that is a prerequisite to another nursing course may not continue in the nursing sequence until the prerequisite course is repeated with a grade of 2.00 on a 4.00 scale or above.
- No course may be repeated more than one time. Failure in any two nursing courses will result in dismissal from the School of Nursing.
- Incomplete grades in nursing courses must be converted to a passing grade (2.00 on a 4.00 scale or above) before the first day of class of the subsequent term.
- Students taking approved withdrawals from nursing courses may return to the School of Nursing in accordance with policies listed in the Undergraduate Nursing Student Handbook on a space-available basis, noting that they may be subject to new program requirements.
- The School of Nursing reserves the right to withdraw nursing students who fail to achieve and maintain academic or clinical competence, or who do not demonstrate professional accountability or conduct. Unsafe and/or unethical practice constitutes grounds for immediate dismissal from the clinical component and/or the program.
- All students must comply with confidentiality according to HIPAA, School of Nursing, and university regulations.
- Other policies regarding progression/continuation are found in the Undergraduate Nursing Student Handbook.

Health

Nursing students are being developed as professional role models and are responsible for optimal health practices. Specific health-related documentation and certification are required before beginning the program, and must be current throughout the course of study. It is the responsibility of each student to provide appropriate and timely documentation as required. Students failing to comply with any of these requirements may be dismissed from the nursing program and/or be subject to monetary fine. It is the student’s responsibility to report to the School of Nursing any changes in his or her physical or psychological health.

English Proficiency

A university-level of English proficiency is necessary for academic success in nursing and for patient safety. Students for whom English is not their first language must first comply with university requirements as described elsewhere in this catalog.

In addition, before their applications to the School of Nursing will be considered, all students for whom English is not their first language must take and achieve specific scores on the TOEFLiBT, unless the applicant has successfully completed all K-12 education in English. Test fees are the responsibility of the student. Guidelines and policies can be obtained from the School of Nursing. All students for whom English is not their first language should also be aware that they may not be able to complete the program of study within the usual time frame.

Non-Majors Enrolled in Nursing Courses

Students who have not been admitted to the nursing major but wish to enroll in nursing courses must first obtain permission of the course instructor(s) and the School’s Dean.

Additional Costs

A user support fee is charged to each student’s account each semester. This fee supports the purchase of equipment, materials and supplies in the practice labs and Learning Resource Center, as well as computer materials and software. The fee is paid with tuition following registration for specific courses.

In addition to regular university costs, students must provide their own transportation between the university campus and the clinical areas beginning with the first nurse course. Public transportation is limited, so provision for private transportation is essential.

Students are required to carry professional liability insurance in specified amounts during all periods of clinical experience. For Basic program students, this insurance is available under a group plan at a nominal cost to the student. LPN to B.S.N. and ADN to B.S.N. program students must carry their own professional liability insurance. Health requirement fees, laboratory fees, student uniforms and any necessary equipment are the responsibility of the student.

Prerequisite and co-requisite courses

- BIOL 201: Introductory Microbiology
- BIOL 205: Human Anatomy and Physiology I
- BIOL 206: Human Anatomy and Physiology II

All the above named courses are offered by academic departments other than the School of Nursing, and are administered by those respective departments in regard to scheduling, evaluation, grading and other matters. To be awarded a BSN degree, all students must meet both nursing and university requirements.

B.S.N. SEQUENCE FOR BASIC STUDENTS

The curriculum plan for the Basic student, those who do not hold practical or registered nursing licensure, is designed to foster growth and professional accountability. Nursing (NURS) courses must be taken concurrently or in sequence as indicated in the following sample curriculum, and, if the student is enrolled full time, normally extend over six semesters. Students who have completed transferable nursing credit from another accredited institution, and/or who hold licensure as certified nursing assistants, should seek advisement from School of Nursing Admissions Coordinator(s) regarding their prospective curriculum plan.

General university and other specific requirements needed for completion of the baccalaureate degree are not listed above. Applicants to the LPN to BSN sequence are strongly encouraged to seek advising from the School of Nursing Admission Coordinator(s) for assistance with the completion of their program of study.

B.S.N. SEQUENCE FOR LICENSED REGISTERED NURSES

The A.D.N. to B.S.N. program begins with the foundation of the knowledge, skills and experience of the registered nurse and builds an expanded framework for advanced nursing practice in today’s health care delivery systems. Designed for the registered nurse with at least one year of direct care nursing experience, this sequence enables students to earn both a bachelor’s and a master’s degree in nursing.

Upon successful completion of the B.S.N. degree with a cumulative 3.00 PLU grade point average, and successful completion of the Graduate Record Exam (GRE), the student may begin an expedited application process for the M.S.N. program. (See Graduate Studies.)

A program designed for those who have previously earned a baccalaureate or higher degree in an academic discipline, an Associate Degree in Nursing, and are licensed as a Registered Nurse. Those interested are strongly advised to seek early advisement from the School of Nursing at 253.535.8872. See Graduate Studies section of this catalog for further details.

MINOR IN HEALTH SERVICES:

Health care is a complex system, which now represents 16% of the U.S. Gross National Product. Many disciplines outside of nursing require familiarity with systems and issues within health care. The Health Services minor is designed to support non-nursing majors, including biology, business, chemistry, social work and other fields. Prior to declaration for a minor in Health Services, student must receive advising and approval from the School of Nursing. The Health Services minor requires the completion of 18 semester hours.

Philosophy

253.535.7213
www.plu.edu/~phil
phil@plu.edu

Philosophy is the parent academic discipline that gave birth to today’s variety of arts and sciences. It examines basic issues in all fields and explores connections among diverse areas of life. In philosophy the most fundamental and enduring of questions are addressed: How can humans gain knowledge about their world? What limits are there to that knowledge? What is the ultimate nature of the universe? In particular, what is the nature of the human person, and what role or purpose is ours? How should we live? Are there moral, aesthetic, and religious values that can be adopted rationally and used to guide our decisions? Study in philosophy acquaints students with major rival views of the world, encourages them to think precisely and systematically, and helps them to see life critically, appreciatively, and whole.

Faculty: G. Johnson, Chair; Cooper, Kaurin, McKenna (on sabbatical 2008-09), Phelps.

Uses of Philosophy

Courses in philosophy help students who (1) recognize philosophy as a central element in a quality liberal arts education; (2) wish to support their undergraduate work in other fields, such as literature, history, political science, religion, the sciences, education, or business; (3) plan to use their study of philosophy in preparation for graduate study in law, theology, or medicine; or (4) are considering graduate work in philosophy itself, usually with the intention of teaching in the field.

Undergraduate study in philosophy is not meant to train specifically for a first job. Instead, it serves to sharpen basic skills in critical thinking, problem solving, research, analysis, interpretation, and writing. It also provides critical perspective on and a deep appreciation of ideas and issues that have intrigued humanity throughout the ages, including those central to the Western intellectual heritage. This prepares students for a great variety of positions of responsibility, especially when coupled with specialized training in other disciplines. Those with the highest potential for advancement generally have more than just specialized training; rather, they bring to their work breadth of perspective, intellectual flexibility and depth, and well-honed skills in critical thought and communication.

Why a Philosophy Requirement

Students who take philosophy engage in a systematic and sustained examination of the basic concepts of life, such as justice, knowledge, goodness, and the self. By scrutinizing methods, assumptions, and implications, they are able to explore lifelong questions of meaning, thought, and action. They acquire historical perspective on the diversity of human thought and tolerance for the considered opinions of others. Through the collective exploration of, and reasoned argument over, difficult ideas, students develop autonomy in Physics

The scientific study of the material universe at its most fundamental level: the mathematical description of space and time, and the behavior of matter from the elementary particles to the universe as a whole. A physicist might study the inner workings of atoms and nuclei, the size and age of the universe, the behavior of high-temperature superconductors, or the life cycles of stars.

Physicists use high-energy accelerators to search for quarks; they design new laser systems for applications in medicine and communications; they heat hydrogen gases to temperatures higher than the sun’s core in the attempt to develop nuclear fusion as an energy resource. From astrophysics to nuclear physics to optics and crystal structure, physics encompasses some of the most fundamental and exciting ideas ever considered.

Faculty: Louie, Chair; Gerganov, Greenwood, Hay, Rush, Starkovich.

PHYSICS MAJOR

The physics major offers a challenging program emphasizing a low student-teacher ratio and the opportunity to engage in independent research projects. There are two introductory course sequences, College Physics and General Physics; the General Physics sequence incorporates calculus and is required for the Bachelor of Science major.

- Completion of the departmental reading program of primary sources. Honors majors in philosophy are expected to complement their regular courses by reading and discussing three or four important works under the personal supervision of department faculty. The reading list should be obtained at an early date from the department chair. It is best that the reading program not be concentrated into a single semester, but pursued at a leisurely pace over an extended period.
- At least a 3.30 grade point average in philosophy courses, including at least a “B” in PHIL 493.

The student of politics seeks to understand how governments are organized and structured, how political processes are employed, and the relationship of structures and processes to societal purposes. Political activity embodies and reflects the full range of human values. The study of politics includes real world events while at the same time asking how well political systems work, what purposes they ought to serve, and what effects result from political activity. Political science encourages a critical understanding of government and politics in the belief that a knowledgeable, interested, and aware citizenry remains vital to a democratic society.

Faculty: Kelleher, Chair; Chavez, Dwyer-Shick, Grosvenor, Olufs.

Courses in political science explore various topics in American government and politics, international relations and foreign policy, comparative government and area studies, political philosophy and theory, and public policy and law. The department provides pre-professional training leading to careers in teaching, law, government, and related fields.

Students of political science are strongly encouraged to combine the academic study of government and politics with practical experience by participating in one of the internship programs sponsored by the department.

The department sponsors or otherwise encourages active student participation in political life through class activities and through such campus organizations as the Young Democrats and the Young Republicans.

There are no prerequisites for political science courses, except as noted. Prior consultation with the instructor of any advanced course is invited. Students wishing to pursue a major or minor in political science are requested to declare the major or minor with the department chair as soon as possible.

Pre-Professional Studies

The following pre-professional studies do not constitute academic majors, but are programs of study designed to facilitate further graduate or professional work after completion of a disciplinary major at PLU.

HEALTH SCIENCES
www.nsci.plu.edu/hsc

The Division of Natural Sciences health sciences committee advises students aspiring to careers in the health sciences. Students having such interests are encouraged to obtain a health sciences advisor early in their program. Summarized below are pre-professional requirements for many health science areas; additional information is available through the health science committee. Catalogs and brochures for many schools and programs are available in the Rieke Science Center.

Dentistry, Medicine, and Veterinary Medicine

The overwhelming majority of students entering the professional schools for these careers have earned baccalaureate degrees, securing a broad educational background in the process. This background includes a thorough preparation in the sciences as well as study in the social sciences and the humanities. There are no pre-professional majors for medicine, dentistry or veterinary medicine at PLU; rather students should select the major which best matches their interests and which best prepares them for alternative careers. In addition to the general university requirements and the courses needed to complete the student’s major, the following are generally required for admission to the professional program:

- BIOL 161, 162, 323
- CHEM 115, 116, 331, and 332 (all with laboratories)
- MATH 140
- PHYS 125 and 126 or PHYS 153 and 154 (with appropriate laboratories)
- Check with a health science advisor for exceptions or for additions suggested by specific professional schools.

Medical Technology

The university no longer offers a medical technology degree, but continues to provide academic preparation suitable for admission to medical technology, hematology, and clinical chemistry programs. Minimal requirements include:

- BIOL 161, 162, 323, 328, 407, 448
- CHEM 115, 116, 331 (with 333 lab), 332 (with 334 lab)
- MATH 140
- Recommended courses include: BIOL 332, 348, 441; CHEM 403; PHYS 125, 126, 135, 136.

Optometry

Although two years of pre-optometry study is the minimum required, most students accepted by a school of optometry have completed at least three years of undergraduate work. A large percentage of students accepted by schools of optometry have earned a baccalaureate degree. For those students who have not completed a baccalaureate degree, completion of such a degree must be done in conjunction with optometry professional studies.

The requirements for admission to the schools of optometry vary. However, the basic science and mathematics requirements are generally uniform and include:

- BIOL 161, 162, 323
- CHEM 115, 116, 331 (with 333 lab), 332 (with 334 lab)
- One year of college mathematics, including calculus (at least through MATH 151)
- PHYS 125 and 126 or PHYS 153 and 154 (with appropriate laboratories)

In addition, each school of optometry has its own specific requirements. Check with a health science advisor.

Pharmacy

Although the pre-pharmacy requirements for individual schools vary (check with a health science advisor), the following courses are usually required: one year of general chemistry with laboratory; one year of organic chemistry, with laboratory; college-level mathematics (often including calculus); one year of English composition. Other courses often required include microbiology, analytical chemistry, statistics and introductory courses in communication, economics, and political science. For example, the University of Washington School of Pharmacy has approved the following courses as being equivalent to the first two years of its program leading to the Doctor of Pharmacy degree:

- BIOL 161, 162, 201 or 328
- CHEM 115, 116, 331 (with 333 lab), 332 (with 334 or 336 lab)
- MATH 128 or 151; STAT 231
- WRIT 101
- A second course in writing; electives from humanities and social sciences.
- Total credits should not be fewer than 60 semester hours.

Physical Therapy

Acceptance to schools of physical therapy has become increasingly competitive in recent years, and students interested in physical therapy are strongly encouraged to meet with a health science advisor as early as possible to determine prerequisites for specific schools. All physical therapy programs are doctoral programs. Therefore, potential applicants should plan on completing a baccalaureate degree in conjunction with satisfying admission requirements. The School of Physical Education offers a Bachelor of Science degree in Physical Education with a pre-physical therapy track.

The requirements for admission to schools of physical therapy vary. However the basic science and mathematics requirements are generally uniform and include:

- BIOL 161, 162, 323
- CHEM 115, 116, 331; MATH 140; PHYS 125 and 126 (with laboratories)
- In addition to the principles of biology sequence, applicants must complete courses in anatomy and physiology.
- This admission requirement is met by either the combination of BIOL 205 and 206 or the combination BIOL 361 and 441.

Biology majors should take BIOL 361 and 441, the clear preference of several schools of physical therapy.
In addition to the science and mathematics requirements, the various schools have specific social science and humanities requirements.

Check with a health science advisor regarding these requirements.

LAW
253.535.7595
www.plu.edu/~legalstd

Preparation for law school at PLU is an advising system rather than a curriculum of prescribed major/minor or otherwise organized courses. The primary reason for such an approach is that the admissions committees of U.S. law schools generally recommend that applicants be well and broadly educated. They tend to seek applicants who are literate and numerate, who are critical thinkers and articulate communicators. In essence, they value exactly what a sound liberal arts education provides—indeed, requires.

Therefore, regardless of their declared majors and minors, students considering law school are encouraged to demonstrate proficiency in courses selected from across the disciplines and schools while undergraduates at PLU. An appropriate curricular program should be structured from a mix of the students’ personal academic interests, their professional inclinations, and coursework aimed at developing intellectual skills and resources apt to generate success in legal study and practice.

Recent successful PLU applicants to law schools have taken such diverse courses as those in the anthropology of contemporary America, social science research methods, American popular culture, English Renaissance literature, newswriting and argumentation, recent political thought, international relations, free-lance writing, intermediate German, animal behavior, neuropsychology, public finance, logic, and moral philosophy. Diversity and challenge are crucial to preparation for the study of law.

However, pre-law students are also advised to take courses, chosen in consultation with the pre-law advisor, that will help them to identify, develop, and explore perspectives on the character of U.S. law. Courses in U.S. government and history, judicial and legislative processes, research materials and methods, and internships may be particularly useful in this regard. Finally, students with an interest in the law are encouraged to participate in the activities of PLU’s chapter of Phi Alpha Delta Fraternity International, a professional service organization composed of law and pre-law students, legal educators, attorneys, judges, and government officials. Regardless of their major or minors, students interested in pre-law advising and activities are invited to register with the Pre-Law Center in the Department of Political Science.

MILITARY SCIENCE (ARMY ROTC)
253.535.8200
www.plu.edu/~rotc
rotc@plu.edu

The objective of the military science instruction within Army ROTC (Reserve Officer Training Corps) is to prepare academically and physically qualified college women and men for the rigor and challenge of serving as an officer in the United States Army-Active, National Guard, or Reserve. To that end, the program stresses service to country and community through the development and enhancement of leadership competencies which support and build on the concept of service leadership.

Army ROTC is offered to PLU students on campus. The lower-division courses are open to all students and are an excellent source of leadership and ethics training for any career. They do not require a military commitment for non-scholarship students. The upper-division courses are open to qualified students. ROTC is traditionally a four-year program; however, an individual may complete the program in two or three years. Contact the PLU Military Science Department for details.

Participation in the introductory Military Science courses at PLU is open to all students. Students may choose to continue in the advanced courses with the goal of receiving a commission after successful completion of the program and receiving a university degree. Students seeking a commission are often recipients of an ROTC scholarship. Being commissioned in the military and/or receiving a scholarship involves meeting requirements established by the United States military. For specific requirements in contracting or scholarship eligibility, students may contact the Military Science Department.

Financial assistance in the form of two-, three-, and four-year scholarships is available to qualified applicants. Scholarships awarded pay full tuition and fees, plus a book allowance of $1,200 per year and a monthly stipend of $300-$500. Students in upper-division courses not on scholarship also receive a $450-$500 stipend. To be commissioned an officer in the United States Army, a graduate must complete the military science curriculum, including successful completion of a four-week advanced camp during the summer before the senior year. Additional information on the Army ROTC program may be obtained by writing Army ROTC, Pacific Lutheran University, Tacoma, WA 98447.

Faculty: Lt. Colonel Keith, Chair

The basic course consists of two hours of academic instruction and military training per week each semester of the first and second years. Students beginning the course as sophomores can compress the basic course by attending additional academic instruction. There is no military commitment for non-scholarship students in the basic course.

The advanced course consists of additional academic instruction and physical conditioning plus a four-week advanced summer training at the Leader Development and Assessment Course (LDAC) at Fort Lewis, Washington.

Students are furnished with uniforms and selected textbooks for military science courses.

Note: A maximum of 24 semester hours earned in ROTC programs may be applied toward a baccalaureate degree at PLU.

Students receiving more than 12 semester hours of ROTC credit toward a PLU degree are required to take one of the following:

- HIST 231: World War Two in China and Japan, 1931-1945 - C, S1 (4)
- HIST 329: Europe and the World Wars, 1914-1945 - S1 (4)
- HIST 352: The American Revolution - S1 (4)
- HIST 356: American Diplomatic History - S1 (4)
Psychology is a scientific discipline that seeks to understand human and nonhuman behavior. Psychology is also a profession that seeks to change behavior for the betterment of humankind. Through its curriculum, research activities, and use of community resources, the Department of Psychology provides students with a balanced exposure to psychology as a scientific discipline and profession.

The major in psychology (a) introduces students to scientific methods of psychology, to theories and research findings from the core areas of psychology, and to the history of psychology; (b) provides students with opportunities to explore advanced topics in scientific and professional psychology, conduct psychological research, and gain exposure to the practice of psychology in community settings; and (c) helps prepare students for postgraduate work in psychology or in related professions, such as social work, education, medicine, law, and business. The major is an excellent general preparation for employment in a variety of settings.

The psychology program is designed to meet the needs of a variety of students. To this end, two degrees are offered: the Bachelor of Arts and the Bachelor of Science. Either degree provides a solid foundation in psychology, and either can serve as preparation for postgraduate study or employment. However, for those students who intend to pursue the doctorate in psychology following graduation from PLU, the Bachelor of Science degree is likely to provide an especially strong preparation. The Bachelor of Science degree is also an excellent pre-professional degree for those students who plan to enter the fields of dentistry, medicine (all branches, including psychiatry), public health, or veterinary medicine. Many in business, education, nursing, and social work find a double major with psychology to be a valuable addition to their training.

Faculty: Shore, Chair; Anderson, Ceynar, Graham, Grahe, Hansvick, Moon, Moritsugu, Taylor, Toyokawa.

Publishing and Printing Arts

253.535.7241

www.plu.edu/~ppa

For more than 30 years Pacific Lutheran University’s Department of English has offered a way to help students translate a love of books into an exciting professional career in publishing. The distinctive interdisciplinary curriculum in Publishing and Printing Arts (PPA) is highly respected by employers because it combines pre-professional skills and experience with the solid foundation of a liberal arts education. This six-course minor is designed to give students with talents and interests in writing, graphic design, communications, or business a head start into the world of publishing and a broad variety of related professions.

The PPA program readily complements majors concerned with language and the written word, such as English, languages, education, public relations, journalism, marketing, and graphic design. But students majoring in a wide spectrum of disciplines—from biology to music to anthropology—have discovered the value of a PPA minor, too. It both helps to connect them to publishing career opportunities in those fields and provides a richer understanding of the complex roles that written communications of all sorts play in our lives and in our modern world.

Faculty: S. Robinson, Director.

Religion

253.535.8106

www.plu.edu/~reli

reli@plu.edu

Religion is an attempt to understand the meaning of human existence. Different religious and cultural communities express that meaning in many ways. Located within an ELCA-related university, the Department of Religion stands within a Lutheran Christian and global context.
In a university setting this means the serious academic study of the Bible, of the history of the Christian tradition, of Christian theology, and of world religious traditions. Critical study calls for open and authentic dialogue with other religious traditions and seeks to understand a common humanity as each tradition adds its unique contribution. It calls for a critical yet constructive interchange with contemporary society. Finally, it calls for a sharing of insights with other disciplines in the university as each sheds light on the human condition.

To these ends the Department of Religion offers a wide range of courses and opportunities. Furthermore it calls students, majors and non-majors alike, to consider questions of meaning, purpose, and value in a society that all too often neglects these questions.

Faculty: Torvend, Chair; Breazeale (sabbatical), Crawford, Finitsis, Finstuen, Frenz, Hickey-Tiernan, Ihssen, Killen, Komjathy, Oakman, O’Brien, Peterson, Trelstad, Zbaraschuk

Scandinavian Area Studies

253.535.7314
www.plu.edu/~scan scan@plu.edu

Scandinavian Area Studies at PLU is an interdisciplinary program that develops a critical, comparative understanding of the societies and cultures of Scandinavia. The major presents a broader and deeper exploration of Scandinavia than heritage and tradition, encouraging serious academic study of the dynamic and internationally engaged societies of the Nordic region of today. Together, required courses in language, cultural history, and literature, and electives in disciplines such as political science, religion, and history equip students with analytical and linguistic skills, global knowledge and cross-cultural flexibility required for work, study and life beyond PLU.
Study in Scandinavia for a J-Term or semester is encouraged. The major (40 semester hours) is easily combined with a major in another discipline.

Faculty: Storfjell, Chair and Program Director; Berguson, Grosvenor, Reiman, Rønning, Rowe, Young.

Students enrolled in the Scandinavian Area Studies program are expected to demonstrate the equivalent of:

- Two years of Norwegian, Swedish or Danish language instruction (16 semester hours)
- Eight semester hours in Scandinavian cultural history
- Four semester hours in Scandinavian literature

MAJORS

40 semester hours in total

Students will choose from an approved list of additional Scandinavian and cross-disciplinary courses in accordance with personal interests and goals and in consultation with the program director.

- Eight semester hours as follows:
  - Cross-disciplinary course (four semester hours)
  - Elective course (four semester hours)
  - Senior Project (four semester hours)

With the approval of the Scandinavian Studies director, selected January-term, summer, experimental courses and an internship may be included in the major program.

No more than eight semester hours may be offered to meet both the Scandinavian Area Studies major and general university requirements or requirements for a second major. Such cross-application of courses must be approved by the Scandinavian Studies director.

The cross-disciplinary courses listed below offer an opportunity to view the Scandinavian countries in comparison with other world regions. They are regular departmental offerings in which students enrolled in the Scandinavian Area Studies major focus their reading and work assignments to a significant extent on the Nordic region. Students must consult with the program director concerning registration for these courses.

Students are encouraged, though not required, to study in Scandinavia as part of their program.

Financial aid applies to PLU’s partnership program, “Contemporary Global Issues: The Norwegian Approach,” that takes place each fall semester at Hedmark University College in Norway. Study is also available at Telemark University College either fall or spring semester. This program is ideally suited for language majors. Study opportunities are also available at a variety of other institutions in Norway, Sweden and Denmark. Appropriate coursework completed abroad should be submitted to the Scandinavian Studies director for approval toward the major.

The faculty within the Division of Social Sciences seek to provide a challenging education in the social sciences that critically analyzes the past and the present social history and structures of human interaction. Instruction is vibrant and relevant to the time and world in which we live and encourages responsible citizenship for today and tomorrow. Through classroom learning and applied settings such as supervised internships, students in the social sciences acquire an understanding of society while developing the analytical tools with which to provide solutions to a diverse range of social problems.

The Division of Social Sciences fully supports interdisciplinary programs. The programs in Legal Studies and Women’s and Gender Studies are housed within the division. In addition, Social Sciences faculty also participate actively in other interdisciplinary programs including Chinese Studies, Environmental Studies, Global Studies and the International Honors Program.

The Forest Foundation Severtson Undergraduate Fellowship supports students conducting research in the social sciences.

Sociology and Social Work

253.535.7294

www.plu.edu/~soci

Sociology and social work, as distinct disciplines, are concerned with understanding contemporary social issues, policies, and solutions. While sociology emphasizes research, interpretation, and analysis, social work emphasizes intervention and practice. The disciplines share an interest in human relationships and experience, contemporary family life and family policies, ethnic diversity and race relations, poverty and social stratification, social justice and community organization. Both disciplines encourage hands-on learning through field placements, internships, and service learning projects.

Students may major or minor in either sociology or social work, or complete a double major in sociology and social work. Social work majors are encouraged to minor in sociology.

Faculty: Gregson, Chair; Ciabattari, Leon-Guerrero, Keller, Luther, McNalley, Moran, Russell (Social Work Director).

SOCIOLOGY

Sociology examines the processes and structures which shape social groups of all sizes, including friends, families, workplaces, and nations. The study of sociology provides students with unique interpretive tools for understanding themselves and others in a changing world. Sociology has broad appeal to those who are interested in developing practical skills and analytical talents. Some of the practical pursuits enabled by sociological training are in the areas of program development, counseling, research, criminal justice, management, and marketing. The academic preparation is valuable to those interested in pursuing degrees in law, administration, social work, theology, or the social sciences.

The department’s curriculum offers a variety of courses in sociological analysis while permitting an optional concentration in the specialized areas of family/gender or crime/deviance. The curriculum is deliberately flexible to permit students to study individual subject areas, or to pursue majors or minors in the field. Students majoring in business, nursing, education, and computer science find the sociological minor particularly useful for broadening their understanding of social rules and relationships, programs and solutions, and continuity and change.

The faculty is attentive to the individual needs of students in their efforts to provide academic excellence to a diverse student body.

Social Work

Within a program that is firmly based in the liberal arts, the social work major is designed to prepare students for beginning professional social work practice. Social work has both a heavily multidisciplinary-based body of knowledge and its own continuously developing knowledge base. The complexity of social issues and social problems that confront the modern-day social worker require this broad theoretical perspective. Social workers are involved in areas that are influenced by political, economic, social, psychological, and cultural factors. To that end, the program stresses an understanding of social science theories and methods. The curriculum provides a foundation for understanding the interaction of individual, family, and community systems, as the basis for generalist practice. Students learn a multi-method approach to social work practice that enables them to address a wide range of individual, family, group, and community needs. Students enhance their commitment to informed action to remove inequities based on race, ethnicity, culture, gender, social class, sexual orientation, disability, and age.

The social work faculty place a high value on the integration of academic and experiential learning. The program provides fieldwork experience in community settings. Social work majors have access to a rich variety of social service agencies in Tacoma and Pierce County that provide field-learning sites. Students work with experienced, caring supervisors who help make these placements valuable learning experiences. Students are prepared to work in a variety of settings, including child welfare, health, mental health, corrections, aging, and community-based agencies.

Social work majors should consult with a departmental advisor to plan their course of study. The faculty encourage students to take advantage of learning opportunities that emphasize multicultural awareness and diversity, including study abroad.

The social work program is accredited by the Council on Social Work Education.

Admission to the Social Work Program: Students seeking the Bachelor of Arts degree in Social Work must first apply and be accepted into the program. The social work program welcomes diversity and invites interest and applications from persons who seek to participate in a profession committed to helping people, now and in the future. Students may begin taking social work courses before being admitted to the program, but only admitted students are allowed to take 400-level courses. Students will be admitted to the Social Work Program for fall semester only. The priority date for applications is April 10, though applications will be accepted until available positions are filled. Enrollment is competitive based on intended graduation date.

Admission is determined by faculty evaluation of student applications on the basis of the following criteria:

- Transcript that documents the completion of at least 40 semester hours of prescribed course work with a minimum grade point average of 2.75. In addition, the student must show successful completion of the following prerequisites: ANTH 102, BIOL 111, PSYC 101, SOCI

Women's and Gender Studies

253.535.7296
www.plu.edu/~womensstu
womensstu@plu.edu

At the core of the Women's and Gender Studies (WMGS) program at PLU is a vibrant, diverse, and supportive community of feminist women and men, working to enhance and reinforce the individual goals and strengths of each student. This multiplicity of resources and talents allows our courses to draw upon many different academic areas, explore themes such as gender and sexual identity, emphasize critical examination of racism, classism, and other forms of inequity and discrimination, and focus on the pursuit of social justice.

Women's and Gender Studies courses offer critical analysis of traditional social institutions, such as religion, arts, science, law, education, medicine, and the family, and their relationship to each person's gender, sexual identity, class, and race. Reflecting the importance of dialogue and collaboration in feminism, classroom activities include a rich mix of group-based projects, discussion, and other forms of inquiry. The multidisciplinary nature of our program invites Women's and Gender Studies students to sample many topics and learn through a variety of intellectual and life experiences, from reading the literatures of under-represented communities to creating visual artwork, visiting a prison for women, and learning how to initiate, mediate and engage in an ongoing discourse about challenging issues.

The Women's and Gender Studies senior capstone exemplifies our program's emphasis on combining inquiry with experience. For the capstone, each Women's and Gender Studies major works with faculty mentors to design an internship or service learning project that fits creatively her or his unique vocational and academic interests. One student with a background in nursing or biology, for example, might work in a program that offers pre-natal care for low-income women, while another student with expertise in social work and public policy might assist an organization working to reduce domestic violence, or a student interested in feminist theater could work with the Women's Center or from the list of approved WMGS courses.

The Women's and Gender Studies program gives students the important tools, resources, and language needed for personal empowerment, especially useful since it is easy to feel overwhelmed and resigned in the face of injustices. Upon completion of this program, each PLU Women's and Gender Studies graduate is prepared to creatively and effectively pursue social justice in her or his own way. As teachers, scientists, volunteers, artists, writers, entrepreneurs, or family members, our graduates are making positive changes in the way gender and sexual identity are understood globally in the 21st century. We invite you to join our community of scholars and agents of social change.

Faculty: Women's Studies Executive Committee: Marcus, Chair; Barot, Ciabattari, Gregson, Hughes, Kraig, Lisosky, Mathews, Simic-Muller, Sklar, Taylor, Urdangarain.

MAJOR

The Women's and Gender Studies major is a multidisciplinary and interdisciplinary complementary major. Conferred of a baccalaureate degree with a major in Women's and Gender Studies requires completion of a second major from any discipline in the university. Students are encouraged to declare both majors simultaneously and to plan a program of study designed to complement both majors.

Women's and Gender Studies major allows application of courses from the second major and for general university requirements to the Women's and Gender Studies major.

Electives

Eight semester hours

Students must complete two additional courses beyond the core courses required. These may be selected from:
• Additional WMGS core courses not taken to satisfy the Program Core Courses requirement
• Courses from an approved list published in the Women’s & Gender Studies section in class schedules
• Courses from any discipline for which at least 60% of the assignments center on women, feminism, gender, and/or sexuality. This allows the integration of Women’s and Gender Studies perspectives into courses that are not explicitly or entirely structured around those perspectives. Consent of the instructor is required. Students should consult the Women’s and Gender Studies chair about this option before the course begins (when possible) and will be assignments to the Women’s and Gender Studies Executive Committee for approval upon completion of the course.

• Capstone Experience: Women’s and Gender Studies and Vocation
Four semester hours
This requirement can be satisfied in three ways:

1. WMGS Service Learning
Four semester hours total of WMGS 491: Independent Study: Service Learning - SR

Service learning refers to those broad or introductory experiences with groups, in agencies or organization that enable the student to gain awareness, to develop ideas, and to pursue social justice. Student identify a faculty sponsor approved by WMST, arrange for a service learning experience through the Center for Public Service or directly with the site of the service, then, develop, with the approval of the WMST sponsor, a learning contact that includes learning objectives specific to women, feminism or gender. Service learning contracts also require the approval of the agency or organization supervisor.

2a. WMGS Internship
Four semester hours total of WMGS 495: Internship (SR)

Internships are pragmatic, employer based experiences in which students apply knowledge they’ve already acquired, build competence, and test values in setting like those in which they may seek employment. Students identify a faculty member approved by WMST, arrange for an internship through the Center for Public Service or directly with the site of the service, then, with the approval of the WMST sponsor, develop a learning contract that includes learning objectives specific to women, feminism or gender. Internship learning contacts also require the approval of the agency or organization supervisor.

2b. WMGS Internship concurrent with another, non-WMGS internship
Two semester hours of WMGS 495, plus at least two internship semester hours from another discipline

Some fields of study allow or require students to complete an internship in which they integrate knowledge, demonstrate skills and act upon values learned in the classroom with current practice in an agency or organizational setting. For such an internship to count toward the WMGS major, students must select a faculty member approved by WMGS and develop a learning contract that pertains to the internship in the other major but reflects WMGS skills, knowledge, and applications. The student must then arrange for two additional internship credits in WMGS 495 with the sponsoring WMST faculty member. Internship learning contracts also require the approval of the agency or organization supervisor and the PLU faculty member supervising internship within the discipline. Earning credits from both WMGS and another department may not always require additional hours at the site, but the learning contact will require additional research, reading and writing to incorporate content specific to women, feminism or gender.

Requests for credit toward the Women’s and Gender Studies major and minor from transfer courses must be approved by the Women’s and Gender Studies Executive Committee. Submit syllabus and course assignments to the Women’s and Gender Studies chair. At least 17 hours of the major and 10 hours of the minor must be completed at PLU.

MINOR:
20 semester hours, including:

• WMGS 201 (Four semester hours)
• Two program core courses (Eight semester hours):
  • Four semester hours from Group A or B: Women and Feminism
  • Four semester hours from Group C or D: Gender and Sexuality.
  • Select from the Program Core courses as listed above under the WMGS Major.
• Two elective courses (eight semester hours) approved by the WMGS program chair or from the list of approved WMGS courses.

• Students must complete two additional courses beyond the core courses required. These may be selected from:
  • Additional WMGS core courses not taken to satisfy the Program Core Courses requirement.
  • Courses from an approved list published in the Women’s & Gender Studies section in class schedules.
  • Courses from any discipline for which at least 60% of the assignments center on women, feminism, gender, and/or sexuality. This allows the integration of Women’s and Gender Studies perspectives into courses that are not explicitly or entirely structured around those perspectives. Consent of the instructor is required. Students should consult the Women’s and Gender Studies chair about this option before the course begins (when possible) and will be required to submit the syllabus and relevant assignments to the Women’s and Gender Studies Executive Committee for approval upon completion of the course.

Information and Technology Services
(Library and Computing Services)
253.535.7500 and 253.535.7525
www.plu.edu/~libr and www.plu.edu/~comptelc

Information & Technology Services (I&TS) provides library and computing services for the campus. Located in Mortvedt Library, I&TS personnel are committed to making technology work for everyone while striving to make research in both print and electronic collections a rewarding experience. More information regarding I&TS services is available on the PLU website.

Computer accounts are essential for all PLU students. The PLU ePass provides students with a PLU email account, an expanding set of online student services, a rich collection of electronic research sources and tools, and other services and resources for the exclusive use of the PLU community. Students starting each fall will receive mail early in the summer from the university with instructions on requesting the ePass account online.

Anti-virus software is required on all student computers that connect to the PLU network. PLU provides this software free. Visit our web page to get additional information and download the program: www.plu.edu/antivirus.

Check out books and multimedia equipment and materials (e.g., videos, DVDs, digital cameras) with your student ID card. This card with the barcode on the back serves as your PLU library card.

General access computers are located throughout campus. The largest concentration is in Mortvedt Library, where the Haley Center provides over 50 workstations for access to electronic information resources and other research activities in an atmosphere that promotes individual and group study, immediate access to reference and technology help, and the relaxing ambiance of a nearby espresso kiosk. Also in the library is the Language Resource Center for foreign language learning.

Personalized assistance in computing and library services can be obtained in a variety of ways. These I&TS departments are good starting points:

- For assistance with multimedia equipment or services (including audio, television, and classroom technologies),

- For assistance with computer accounts, email, supported software, and related resources, visit the Computing and Telecommunication Services CATS) help desk on the main level of Mortvedt Library, call the help desk at 253-535-7525, email them at comptelc@plu.edu or visit them online.

- For assistance with multimedia equipment or services (including audio, television, and classroom technologies), visit Multimedia Services on the main floor of the library, call them at 253.535.7509, send email to media@plu.edu, or visit www.plu.edu/~media.

- For support developing web resources or instruction in using digital media and web development tools, visit the Digital Media Center on the second floor of the library. You can also contact the DMC at 253.535.8728, dmc@plu.edu, or www.plu.edu/~dmc.

Residence hall rooms all have Ethernet network connections. To connect to the network, students need an Ethernet card in addition to ePass access and anti-virus software (above). For information or assistance on setting up a computer for access to the network (ResNet), students should visit the CATS homepage or contact the CATS help desk. Ethernet cards for most computers are available at the PLU bookstore.

Off-campus students need an Internet service provider in addition to the PLU ePass. These services usually entail a monthly charge. Additional information on connecting to the PLU network from off campus can be found at www.plu.edu/~comptelc.

Wireless network zones are located throughout campus, including University Center, Mortvedt Library, Xavier Hall and Rieke Center. The Morken Center for Learning and Technology has both fixed and wireless network, a digital multimedia lab, an open lab for students, and department computing labs.

www.plu.edu/new

New Student Orientation assists students and their families with the transition to PLU. The four-day fall program introduces students to many dimensions of PLU life and includes meeting with an advisor, talking in small groups with other new students, becoming acquainted with campus services and having relaxed time with other students before classes begin. Special activities are also planned for parents and families. While January and spring orientations are more condensed, they also provide new students with an introduction to academic life and co-curricular activities.

Center for Public Service
253.535.7459
www.plu.edu/public-service

The Center for Public Service connects the PLU campus to the surrounding communities by providing opportunities for students, staff and faculty to serve community needs as part of their university experience.
There are many ways PLU people can become involved in community service at PLU. They can work with all ages—preschoolers through senior citizens—at the Family and Children’s Center, a coalition of social service agencies housed together in PLU’s East Campus that closely cooperates with the Center for Public Service. Students can also become involved in community work through academic service-learning classes that explore the relationship between an academic subject and community service experience. The Center for Public Service is a resource to faculty teaching these courses, which are available in many departments, and can help students find out about them. For a variety of volunteer work, individuals and student groups can also use the Volunteer Center, part of the Center for Public Service, to browse through listings of more than 100 volunteer opportunities on and near the PLU campus and to learn about residence hall or student club service projects.

To find out more about how to become engaged in the community, call the Center for Public Service, or stop by Ramstad Room 116.

Residential Life
www.plu.edu/residential-life

There is a reason why living on-campus at PLU is so important...community. Residential Life strives to create respectful, diverse, and safe communities that enhance student learning. The residential community is an environment that challenges you to live and grow, create meaningful relationships with your roommate and hall-mates, try out leadership experiences, and carve out a legacy for yourself. The residence halls are a place where you can draw connections between what’s happening in the classroom and what’s happening in your life.

Toward these ends, Residential life provides a variety of living options including: intentional living/learning communities dedicated to enhancing language and cultural understanding and acquisition, and social action and leadership; an all-women’s residence hall; several “traditional” residence halls; two “alternative” options for older students. Those students who have attained a minimum of 20 years of age and/or junior standing may choose to live in either an all-single residence hall or an apartment-style living community.

Each residence hall is managed by a full-time professional Resident Director (RD). The RD oversees all aspects of community life including the implementation of the co-curricular program, community building, housing and facility needs, and supervision of the student hall staff members who are the primary contact and initial resource for residents. Each traditional residence hall also has a Residence Hall Council (RHC). This residential government is comprised of volunteers from within the hall community and provides programs for and advocates on behalf of hall residents.

Residential living is an important component of a PLU education. As such the university requires all full-time (12 or more semester hours) students to live on campus unless they meet one of the following conditions:

- is living at home with parent(s), legal guardian(s), spouse or child(ren).
- is 20 years of age or older on or before September 1 for the academic year, or February 1 for the spring semester.

- has attained junior status (60 semester hours) on or before September 1 for the academic year, or February 1 for the spring semester.

Student Code of Conduct
253.535.7195
www.plu.edu/sil

Within any community certain regulations are necessary. Pacific Lutheran University adopts only those standards believed to be reasonably necessary and admits students with the expectation that they will comply with those standards. All members of the university community are expected to respect the rights and integrity of others. Conduct on-campus or off-campus which is detrimental to students, faculty, staff, or the university, or which violates local, state, or federal laws, may be grounds for sanctions or for dismissal. The university prohibits the possession or consumption of alcoholic beverages on campus and limits the hours when students may have visitors of the opposite gender in their residence hall rooms. The Student Code of Conduct applies to all students and is available online at www.plu.edu/print/handbook. The student conduct coordinator may be reached at 253.535.7195.

Student Activities
www.plu.edu/sil

Student activities are regarded as essential factors in higher education. Some are related to courses of instruction such as drama, music, and physical education; others are connected more closely to recreational and social life. Involvement in student activities provides practical experience and at the same time develops an understanding of self in relation to others. Co-curricular programs include student government (Associated Students of PLU, and Residence Hall Association), sports activities (varsity, intramural and club sports), student media (newspaper, social justice journal, artistic magazine, radio and television), student clubs and organizations, Campus Ministry Council and community service programs. With over 100 student activities in which to become involved, there is sure to be at least one that will enrich a person’s college experience.

Student Employment
www.plu.edu/~stuemp

Within the university, approximately 1,500 students will have on campus employment. Campus employment provides excellent opportunities for students to consider and connect their work experience to their career possibilities with an emphasis on vocation. Employment on campus is also excellent training for students with limited experience as well as those students who have significant work experience. Experience, convenience and flexibility are major attractions to campus employment. Federal work-study is available for on-campus jobs. Jobs are posted on the Student Employment website. The online application is also available.

The Student Employment Office, located in Ramstad Hall room 112, also manages the Washington State Work Study program. This program is designed to provide, para-professional off campus work experience for students in fields related to their career goals. Contact our office at 253 535-7459.

The environment produced is conducive to a life of vigorous and creative learning. Pacific Lutheran University also recognizes that liberal education is for the total person and that a complementary relationship exists between students’ intellectual development and the satisfaction of their other individual needs. Interaction with persons of differing life experiences, application of classroom knowledge to personal goals and aspirations, and co-curricular experiences are all available and total components of education at PLU. Admission

www.plu.edu/~admi

Pacific Lutheran University welcomes applications from students who exhibit capacities for success at the baccalaureate level. Applicants must present evidence of scholastic ability and demonstrate qualities of good character in order to be accepted for admission. The Vice President of Admission and Enrollment Services reserves the right to admit, deny, or withdraw admission for any applicant/student based on these criteria. Applications for admission are evaluated without regard to race, color, creed, religion, gender, national origin, age, mental or physical disability, marital status, sexual orientation, or any other status protected by law.

Entrance Requirements (First-year/Transfer Students)

In evaluating applications, the Office of Admission interprets grade point average and class rank in relation to the quality of the curriculum that the applicant has pursued in high school and at the baccalaureate level. For example, a standard high school program in preparation for college should include the following:

- English: 4 years
- Mathematics: 3 years: (algebra, 2 years; and geometry, 1 year)
- Foreign Language: 2 years
- Social Studies: 2 years
- Laboratory Sciences: 2 years
- Fine, Visual, or Performing Arts: 1 year
- Electives: 3 years (selected from the areas listed above, as well as courses in computer science, speech, and debate.)

Minimum Entrance Requirements:

Two years of college preparatory mathematics (exclusive of computer science) with an average grade of C or higher, or an approved course at the college level, or demonstrated equivalent proficiency.

- Two years of one foreign language in high school, with an average grade of C or higher, or one year at the college level or demonstrated equivalent proficiency. Courses in American Sign Language may fulfill this requirement.

Students who have not satisfied one or both of these requirements may still be admitted but must make up the deficiency as an additional degree requirement.

Additional study of both mathematics and foreign language is advisable for certain areas in the arts and sciences and in some professional programs. Those who follow the above preparatory program will find most curricular offerings of the university open to them and may also qualify for advanced placement in some areas.

Students are admitted to either the fall or spring semester. Acceptance to the fall term carries permission to attend the previous summer sessions. Acceptance to the spring term carries permission to attend the previous J-Term session. The following application priority dates are recommended: Fall Semester-February 15; Spring Semester-December 15.

Application Procedures (First-year and Transfer Students)

Students planning to enter as first-year students may submit application materials anytime after completion of the junior year of high school. Admission decisions are made beginning October 1. Candidates are notified of their status as soon as their completed applications have been received and evaluated.

Transfer students who began their higher education at other regionally accredited colleges or universities are encouraged to apply for admission with advanced standing. Over 300 students transfer to the university each year with an average grade point in excess of 3.00 (B). Candidates must have good academic and personal standing at the institution last attended full-time. The recommended minimum grade point average to be considered for admission as a transfer student is a 2.50 cumulative grade point average in college-level work from regionally accredited institutions. In reviewing an applicant’s file, the Office of Admission examines grade point average, academic progress, essay, and recommendations. For applicants with less than sophomore standing (30 semester hours or 45 quarter hours), secondary school records and standardized test scores will also be considered.

Credentials required are:

- Formal Application: Submit the PLU Application for Admission available from high school counselors, any Washington state community college transfer center or the PLU Office of Admission. Students may also apply online at www.plu.edu.

- $40.00 Application Fee: The application fee will be waived for a student who applies online. A $40 fee must accompany the paper application or be mailed separately. Admission • International Baccalaureate (IB): A maximum of 30 semester hours may be granted for completion of the IB Diploma. A maximum of 5 semester hours per course may be granted for courses identified on an IB Certificate if a grade of 4 or higher is awarded. Students are advised to contact the Registrar’s Office for specific details.

Students who participate in this program will be awarded college credit in a manner consistent with PLU’s policy on transfer of credit from other institutions.

• Other Programs: Students who have completed college courses while in high school may receive credit in a manner consistent with PLU’s policy on transfer of credit from other institutions. The university reserves the right to make decisions on an individual basis.

Transfer of Credits from Other Universities

• Courses must be listed in the official college catalog, be a part of the regular college curriculum of a regionally accredited college or university, and be posted on an official college or university transcript.

• Courses completed with a grade of C- or higher at other regionally accredited colleges or universities normally will be accepted for graduation credit with passing grades and will not be calculated into the PLU grade point average. Before registering, reentering students must resolve previous financial obligations to the university and have a current health clearance from University Health Services.
• Students who wish to return to the university after the six-year admission period expires must reapply for admission. Applicants for readmission are required to submit a completed application and official transcripts from any college attended during their absence. Application forms may be obtained from and submitted to the Office of Admission. Students who are readmitted to the university must meet the requirements of the current PLU catalog to earn a degree.
• An academically dismissed student may apply for reinstatement by submitting a letter of petition to the director of advising. The petition is acted on by the Committee on Admission and Retention of Students. A student whose petition is approved will be reinstated on probation and must participate in the probationary semester plan. Refer to the Academic Status section for a description of probation. A student whose petition is denied may apply again for reinstatement after one semester has elapsed unless informed otherwise. A dismissed student may petition for reinstatement only once per semester.
• An academically dismissed student may be reinstated after one semester if the student presents new evidence of potential academic success.
• Students who have been dropped for academic or disciplinary reasons and then reinstated must identify a faculty member willing to act as a sponsor and advisor.

TIME LIMITS
Students are expected to meet all requirements for the undergraduate degree within a six-year period. Students who remain at PLU for longer than six years must meet the requirements of the most current PLU catalog in order to earn a degree. Students who are readmitted to the university must meet the requirements of the current PLU catalog to earn a degree.

NON-MATRICULATED STUDENTS
(Non-Degree Seeking) Students

Students who are not officially admitted to the university may accrue a maximum of nine (9) semester hours. Exceptions may be granted by individual departments in conjunction with the registrar.
Recognizing that many students who want to attend Pacific Lutheran University would be unable to meet all expenses of enrollment from personal or family sources, the university attempts to provide financial assistance to all eligible students. Any student approved for enrollment or currently enrolled may request financial aid. Approximately 90 percent of the university’s students receive help in the form of gift assistance (that is, scholarships, artistic achievement awards, or grants), low-interest deferred loans, or employment. In many cases a financial aid award will be a combination of these forms of assistance.

The offer of financial aid is based on the cost of attendance, which is the university’s estimate of how much it costs students in various circumstances to attend PLU. A student’s resources are subtracted from the projected costs to determine financial need.

Several different budgets are used, taking into account a student’s tuition, the cost of books, supplies, housing, food, transportation, and personal expenses.

Parents’ contributions are computed for all dependent students by the federal processor. It is based on a federally established formula for determining parental ability to contribute toward a student’s education. The university also expects students (and their spouses, if married) to contribute toward expenses.

All applicants are offered the maximum amount of aid for which they qualify, as funds permit.

If financial circumstances change, students may contact the Financial Aid Office to discuss their situation with a financial aid administrator at any time.

If students or their families have unusual circumstances (such as loss of employment or major medical expenses) that might affect the need for student financial aid, the Financial Aid Office should be contacted. Unusual circumstances must be described in writing, with the student’s name, student ID number, and all pertinent dollar amounts indicated.

Students who receive scholarships from sources outside the university must inform the Financial Aid Office in writing with the name of the scholarship and the yearly amount. In most cases, PLU may be required by federal regulations to adjust a financial aid package. Loans and work study will be adjusted first. Scholarships and grants will be adjusted only as a last resort.

Financial assistance is available to all qualified students regardless of race, color, creed, religion, gender, national origin, age, mental or physical disability, marital status, sexual orientation, or any other status protected by law.

APPLICATION PROCEDURE
To ensure timely processing of your FAFSA, file online at www.fafsa.ed.gov. Applications must be submitted by the following priority-funding dates for PLU to be considered for maximum funding.

- Entering First-year Students:
  - Priority Date - March 1
  - PLU strongly recommends FAFSA completion by March 1 to meet priority-funding date.

- Entering Transfer Students:
  - Priority Date - March 1
  - PLU strongly recommends FAFSA completion by March 1 to meet priority-funding date.

- PLU Continuing Students:
  - Priority Date - April 1
  - PLU strongly recommends FAFSA completion by April 1 to meet priority-funding date.

An application for financial aid may be completed at any time, but failure to meet the priority date may result in a reduction of aid even though need is demonstrated. The Financial Aid Office will consider all applicants for any award for which they might be eligible. Aid awards are for one year and most are renewable provided reapplication is completed on time, financial need continues, and satisfactory academic progress is maintained. Aid is not automatically renewed each year.

Notification of Award Decisions

- Award decisions for first-year and transfer students who meet the priority date will be sent actual notification beginning in March.

- Financial aid decisions for continuing PLU students are sent to students who meet the priority funding date of April 1. FAFSAs received after April 1 will be sent on a rolling basis thereafter.
Validating the Aid Offer

Aid offers must be validated by returning the signed Offer of Financial Aid. First-year and transfer students must also submit the $200 advance payment required by the Office of Admission. This should be done as soon as possible, but must be received by May 1. No advance payment is required from continuing students. All students must complete a satisfactory payment arrangement with the Student Services Center. Applicants who do not return their acceptance of an award by the reply date specified will have their awards cancelled. If an applicant later decides to reapply, the application will be reviewed with the group currently being processed.

Aid, with the exception of College Work Study and Washington State Need Grants, is credited to the student’s account when all paperwork has been completed. Half of the award is disbursed each semester. Parents and students are responsible for the charges in excess of the award.

In some cases aid is awarded in excess of direct university charges to help with living expenses. To expedite a refund students can request remaining funds from their account by contacting the Student Services Center.

Under federal regulations, adjustments to an award package must be made if a student receives additional awards of aid from sources external to the university. In every case, however, the Financial Aid Office will attempt to allow the student to keep as much of the award package as possible. By treating aid received from external sources in this way, additional awards from the university’s resources can be made to other qualified students.

Rights and Responsibilities

The basic responsibility for financing an education at PLU rests with students and their families. In addition to expected contributions from parents or guardians, students are expected to assist by contributing from their savings and summer earnings. Financial assistance from the university is therefore supplementary to the efforts of a student’s family. It is provided for students who demonstrate need.

- Additional rights and responsibilities of financial aid recipients include:
  - Accept and sign (either electronically on Banner Web or via original hardcopy) your initial Financial Aid Award Letter each year.
  - Notifying the Student Services Center in case of a change in credit hours attempted; a change in marital status; a change in residence (off-campus or home); or receipt of additional outside scholarships.
  - Providing a copy of their parents’ income return (Form 1040) and/or a copy of their own individual income tax return if requested.
  - Complete entrance interview if first-time borrower of the Federal Perkins, Nursing or Stafford Loans.
  - Have the right to decline at any time any portion of an aid award.

Satisfactory Progress Policy

The policy of the university is to allow students to continue receiving financial assistance as long as they are in good standing. To do otherwise could create a severe hardship on students who must devote their efforts to achieving satisfactory grades. However, no institutional grants will be awarded to students with cumulative grade point averages below 2.00. Moreover, federal regulations require that after four terms or more of attempted enrollment, students below 2.00 cumulative grade point average will have their federal financial aid revoked. Pacific Lutheran University’s Schools of Business and Education require a minimum grade point average of 2.50.

To be given priority for most types of financial aid, an applicant must be enrolled as a full-time student. For Federal Financial Aid programs, a full-time student is defined as any person enrolled for a minimum of 12 credit hours or more per semester. Adjustments in an award may be made during the year if an aid recipient has not enrolled for a sufficient number of credit hours. However, each financial aid recipient must maintain satisfactory academic progress in the course of study he or she is pursuing in order to continue to receive financial assistance awarded by the Pacific Lutheran University Financial Aid Office.

The following requirements are expected of each financial aid recipient:

To make satisfactory progress toward a degree, an undergraduate student must complete 24 semester hours of credit each academic year. For this purpose, an academic year is defined as the fall semester and the spring semester. Financial aid is awarded for 34 hours to complete a bachelor’s degree in four years.

For full-time undergraduate students receiving financial aid, the maximum number of credit hours that may be attempted is 192 and the maximum time frame for completing a baccalaureate degree is six years. Even if a student changes his or her major or academic program, only 192 credit hours may be taken qualifying for financial aid, and the maximum time frame of six years for receiving a degree is enforced. Some financial aid programs (e.g., most university gift aid programs) allow aid to be awarded a maximum of four academic years for entering first-year students, and two years for entering transfer students or a maximum of 153 hours.

For part-time undergraduate students, a minimum of 12 credit hours must be completed each academic year and a degree must be achieved within a maximum time frame of 10 years. (The maximum number of credits allowable is 192.)

* Less than 1/2 time enrollment applies to the Pell Grant Program only. Less than 1/2 time enrollment will cause a student's loan to be canceled and may jeopardize deferment status.
Satisfactory progress is reviewed for financial aid purposes after the end of spring semester. For Washington State Need Grants, the Washington State Work Study Program, Educational Opportunity Grand (EOG), Washington Scholars, Wave, TRIO, and any other State of Washington funded program, satisfactory progress is reviewed at the end of each semester.

The following grades do not indicate successful completion of academic credit applicable toward a degree: incompletes (I), withdrawals (W), and grades of E and F.

Any courses in which grades are received are, however, included in the maximum number of credits that may be attempted (192) and are considered to be within the maximum time frame allowable for achieving a degree (six years).

All credits earned by examination, which are applicable toward a degree, will be included in the limitation on credits that can be attempted while eligible for financial aid.

Once a course has been completed successfully, the credit hours earned are counted toward the maximum number of hours that can be taken under financial aid eligibility. If a course is successfully completed more than once, it is counted only once toward a student’s degree requirements and toward the maximum number of hours that can be taken under financial aid eligibility.

The university’s curriculum includes very few noncredit courses or courses whose credit hours are not applicable to a degree. If any such courses are taken by financial aid recipients, the hours will be included in the limitation on credits that may be attempted and will be considered within the time frame allowable for achieving a degree.

In the event that a student fails to meet the criteria for satisfactory progress during a particular semester, he or she will be placed on financial aid probation. Failure to regain satisfactory financial aid academic status will result in the cancellation of financial aid.

Once unsatisfactory financial aid progress has been determined, students receive official notification. Students who have had their aid denied due to unsatisfactory progress may apply for reinstatement by submitting a letter of petition to the Financial Aid Office.

Students whose financial aid has been denied may petition for reinstatement of their aid in one of two ways:

- They may complete one semester of full-time enrollment using their own financial resources, or
- They may submit an appeal to the Financial Aid Office documenting the unusual circumstances which have made it impossible to make satisfactory progress during the semester in question.

Summer sessions may also be used as terms during which a student on financial aid probation may regain satisfactory academic status. However, students enrolling in summer sessions for this purpose must use their own financial resources and are ineligible for financial aid through the university.

SCHOLARSHIPS, GRANTS, LOANS, & WORK STUDY

Your Aid Package

Students are usually eligible for several different types of aid from various sources; therefore we offer a financial aid “package” of funds. Funds offered will depend on a number of factors, including your status as an undergraduate or graduate student, the funds available at the time you applied, and the amount of your financial need. As you review your offer, refer to the following explanation of the most commonly awarded funds.

Scholarships and Grants

Scholarships and grants are “gift assistance,” funds that do not have to be repaid. A student’s package includes gift assistance whenever guidelines and funding levels permit. Where applicable, the combination of Tuition Remission and/or other institutionally funded resources (Clergy Dependent, Alumni Dependent, Regents, etc.) cannot be awarded in excess of the PLU tuition cost.

PLU grants or scholarships are awarded for fall and Spring semesters only. To receive this assistance you must fulfill all of the following criteria:

- Be admitted to PLU as a matriculating student.
- Enrolled in a minimum of twelve non-repeated credit hours each term.
- Have financial need, unless otherwise noted.
- Be an undergraduate student, unless otherwise noted.
- Maintain satisfactory academic progress as defined in the catalog.

* Institutionally controlled scholarships and grants are provided by the university and/or donors to the university. If it is determined that all or a portion of your award is provided by a designated fund or donor, an updated offer of financial aid will be sent to you, renaming your scholarship/grant award with this funding source.

PLU SCHOLARSHIPS AND GRANTS

(Academic, Artistic, Entitlements and Donor Funded)

The maximum PLU gift amount established for each student at the time of admission may be met by one or more of the following PLU funding sources:

- Faculty Excellence Scholarship
- Confirmand Award
- Academic Achievement Scholarship

PLU Achievers Matching Grant
Faculty Merit Award
Alumni Dependent Grant
PLU Grant
Clergy Dependent Grant

All or a portion of the above funds may be renamed at any time during your enrollment to honor a major contributor of scholarship funds at PLU.

Designated Scholarships
(funded by the University or donors)

Some PLU gift assistance has been sponsored by the generosity of one or more donors to the PLU endowment fund. Alumni and friends establish scholarships here because they believe strongly in the value of a PLU education. Donor contributions are largely responsible for the generous level of academic, talent, or need-based scholarships that currently benefit deserving students. Designated (named) scholarships will be awarded throughout the academic year to students who fit specific, donor-designated criteria. In most cases, a named endowed scholarship will replace a student’s existing PLU need-based and/or merit gift award. All named-scholarship recipients are encouraged to write letters of appreciation.

PLU Funded Merit-Based Award

Regents’ and President’s Scholarships are awarded to freshmen in recognition of outstanding academic achievement, leadership and service in high school and in anticipation of continued excellence at PLU. Contact your lender or our Student Services Center if you wish to complete a paper application. Loan funds are electronically transmitted to the university by all lenders found on our Lender List.

We strongly recommend you choose a lender from this list to:

• Avoid the 3% loan origination fee that will reduce the funds you receive (depending on the lender).

• Avoid the delay in processing your application due to postal delivery between you and your lender.

• Avoid standing in line in the Student Services Center to endorse (sign) your paper check.

• Receive borrower benefits that could reduce the cost of your student loan.

If you are borrowing the FFELP for the first time, you must complete an entrance counseling session before loan funds can be released to your account. Not completing a session will result in the loan funds being returned to your lender, causing a possible delay in settling your account and possibly incurring additional finance charges. The entrance interview can be completed at www.mapping-your-future.org.
Subsidized Federal Stafford Loan

- Amount: Up to $3,500 per year for first year students; $4,500 for sophomores; $5,500 for juniors and seniors; $8,500 for graduate students.
- Repayment: Principal and interest payments begin six months after the student graduates, withdraws, or drops to less than half-time attendance. The annual rate of interest is fixed at 6.8% for undergraduates and 6.8% for graduate students.
- Comments or Conditions: The federal government pays the interest on your loan on your behalf until you enter repayment. You are responsible for selecting a lender, and if borrowing a Stafford Loan for the first time, completing the application/promissory note and entrance interview. Loan eligibility is determined by filing the Free Application for Federal Student Aid (FAFSA).

Additional Unsubsidized Federal Stafford Loan

- Amount: Up to $2,000 per year for dependent undergraduate students. Independent undergraduate students are eligible for $5,000 as a first or second year student; $7,000 per year as a junior or senior, or as a post-B.A. teacher certification student; $12,000 as a graduate student.
- Repayment: Principal and interest payments begin six months after the student graduates, withdraws, or drops to less than half-time attendance. Unsubsidized means you are responsible for the accruing interest on the loan, which begins on the date the loan is disbursed; however, interest payments may be deferred until you enter repayment. The annual rate of interest is fixed at 6.8%.
- Comments or Conditions: Financial need is not a requirement. However, eligibility for the loan requires filing the Free Application for Federal Aid (FAFSA). You are responsible for selecting a lender from the lender list at www.plu.edu/~faid. Your parent may go directly to the lender's web site to apply for a PLUS Loan.

Non-Need Based Loans

Unsubsidized Federal Stafford Loan

- Eligibility: Students attending at least half-time (six credit hours) or a graduate student attending at least half-time (four credit hours) who does not qualify for all or part of the maximum Subsidized Federal Stafford Loan.
- Amount: Up to $3,500 per year for freshmen; $4,500 for sophomores; $5,500 for juniors and seniors; and $10,000 for graduate students.
- Repayment: A fixed interest rate of 6.80% and monthly principal and interest payments begin six months after the student graduates, withdraws, or drops to less than half-time attendance. Unsubsidized means you are responsible for the accruing interest on the loan, which begins on the date the loan is disbursed; however, interest payments may be deferred until you enter repayment.
- Comments or Conditions: Financial need is not a requirement. You are responsible for selecting a lender from the lender list at www.plu.edu/~faid. You have the option to select a lender not on the list. However, be aware that doing so will usually result in a more expensive loan, a delay in receipt of your loan funds, require you to endorse a paper check in the Student Services Center, and your loan is unlikely to have the financial repayment incentives available through our lenders.

Federal PLUS Loan

- Eligibility: Parents of dependent student.
- Amount: Parents may borrow up to the full cost of their student’s college education minus the amount of any financial aid the student is receiving.
- Repayment: A fixed interest rate of 8.50% and monthly principal and interest payments begin 60 days after the final disbursement of funds. (Interest begins accruing from the date the funds are first disbursed.)
- Comments or Conditions: Financial need is not a requirement for this loan program; however, the borrower must have an acceptable credit record to qualify. Either (or both) parents may borrow this loan for the student. The parent is responsible for selecting a lender from the lender list at www.plu.edu/~faid. Your parent may go directly to your chosen lender’s web site to apply for a PLUS Loan. We will be notified of your on-line pre-approval application by your lender and will then certify to the lender how much your parent is eligible to borrow. If your parent is not approved for this loan, then the student will be eligible for additional unsubsidized Stafford Loan. See “Additional Unsubsidized Federal Stafford Loan listed below.

Graduate PLUS Loan

- Eligibility: Graduate students attending at least half-time (four credit hours). To be eligible, students must complete the Free Application for Federal Student Aid (FAFSA) and accept the maximum Federal Stafford Loan before borrowing a Graduate PLUS Loan.
- Amount: Cost of attendance minus any other financial aid received by the student.
- Repayment: Repayment on the loan principal begins within 60 days of the loan’s final disbursement for the year. You may defer your payment obligations while you are in-school. Check with your lender about the in-school deferment option.
- Comments or Conditions: This loan has an 8.5% fixed interest rate set by the federal government. However, lenders have the option to offer a lower interest rate and many do. You are responsible for selecting a lender from the lender list at www.plu.edu/~faid. You have the option to select a lender not on the list. However, be aware that doing so may delay your receipt of your loan funds, may require you to endorse a paper check in the Student Services Center, and your loan may not offer interest rate discounts or repayment incentives which lowers the cost of the loan available through the lenders on our list.

Additional Unsubsidized Federal Stafford Loan

- Eligibility: Independent student or dependent student whose parents are denied a PLUS Loan.

- Amount: Up to $4,000 per year for freshmen and sophomores and $5,000 for juniors and seniors.

- Repayment: A fixed interest rate of 6.80% and monthly principal payments begin six months after the student graduates, withdraws, or drops to less than half-time attendance. Unsubsidized means you are responsible for the accruing interest on the loan, which begins on the date the funds are first disbursed; however, interest payments may be deferred until you enter repayment.

- Comments or Conditions: Financial need is not a requirement. You are responsible for selecting a lender from the Lender List at www.plu.edu/~faid. You have the option to select a lender not on the list. However, be aware that doing so will usually result in a more expensive loan, a delay in receipt of your loan funds, require you to endorse a paper check in the Student Services Center, and your loan may not have the financial incentives available with our lenders while you are in repayment.

Alternative Loans

- Eligibility: All independent/dependent students must meet lender specific creditworthy criteria which may require a cosigner.

- Amount: Up to the Cost of Education minus Financial Aid offered.

- Comments and Conditions: Various Alternative Loans are provided for all students, including those not qualifying for Title IV aid. Please see the PLU Financial Aid Web Site for information on Alternative Loan Lenders: http://www.plu.edu/~faid/typesofaid/loans/alternative.html

Lender Lists

If you have been awarded and choose to accept a loan under the Federal Family Education Loan Program, you will be borrowing this loan from a lender participating in this federal program. You are free to choose to borrow your loan from any of the over 1300 lenders participating in the FFELP. To assist you in the selection process, however, PLU has created a short list of lenders for each loan program, based on the cost of repaying the loan, the percentage of students who have benefited from each lender’s repayment incentive programs, customer service to both borrowers and PLU, and a minimum level of administrative capabilities to match PLU’s loan processes. To view and compare each lender’s loan programs, please go to www.plu.edu/~faid.

If you select a lender from our short list, you may apply directly with that lender, using the link to their electronic loan application website. If you decide to use a lender not on our short list, application should be made directly with that lender on their respective website.

Federal and State Work Study

The primary goals of Work-Study are to help you earn part of your financial aid through employment that will prepare you for a career when you graduate. Unlike all other aid, earnings will not be deposited to your account. Earnings are paid by check just like any part-time job.

Your Offer of Financial Aid will list your Work-Study eligibility. If you have been offered Federal Work-Study, your employment will generally be on-campus. Eligible upper-division students (juniors and seniors) will often be offered State Work-Study, which attempts to place you in a position off campus, related to your career or academic area of interest.

Federal Work Study

Eligibility for this program allows you to work at any on campus job. Campus jobs are available on first come, first serve basis. You don’t need to sign up. You can find postings for open positions on the Student Employment website. Campus jobs will normally pay between 8.07 and $9.00 per hour. They are convenient, do not require transportation and usually offer flexible schedules. Paychecks are available through direct deposit or for pick up at the Business Office (see published pay dates) around the 25th of each month.

You may not exceed 20 hours per week when classes are in session and 40 hours during vacations and breaks. The average PLU student works 13 hours per week. Before you can work on campus, you must complete Federal I-9 and W-4 forms. A Passport, Picture ID, and an original Social Security Card or Birth Certificate (original or certified copies) are the documents presented most often by students to complete the I-9. A complete list of acceptable documents is listed on the back of the I-9 form. These forms are to be completed in the Student Employment Office and only need to be completed one time while employed as a student employee at PLU.

Washington State Work Study

State Work-Study is a complementary program to your academic or career interests. Before you talk to a State Work Study employer, you must obtain a referral form from the Student Employment Office, Student Services Center or the Financial Aid Office.

State Work-Study is used to employ PLU students with for-profit and non-profit employers in the local community. Job referrals are made with the intent to give you an opportunity to work in a position that is within or related to your career or academic interest. The program offers to reimburse an employer up to 100% of your earnings if they create a position that has academic relevance or career interest for you. Because of the reimbursement and the paraprofessional nature of the positions, salaries are normally higher than campus jobs. Most jobs will pay between $8.50 and $12.00 per hour.
Students can work a maximum of 19 hours per week when classes are in session and 40 hours per week during vacation and breaks.

Remember

- You must be enrolled at least six credits and maintain satisfactory academic progress to work.

- Work-Study eligibility is neither a guarantee nor an assignment of a job. The Student Employment Office does not provide job placement services.

- You may not begin working until all of the appropriate employment forms are processed.

Veterans Affairs and Vocational Rehabilitation

Pacific Lutheran University’s academic programs of study are approved by the Washington State Higher Education Coordinating Board’s State Approving Agency (HECB/SAA) for enrollment of persons eligible to receive educational benefits under Title 38 and Title 10 USC.

Veterans, widows, widowers, and children of deceased or disabled veterans who wish to inquire about their eligibility for benefits should contact the Regional Office of the Veterans Administration, Federal Building, 915 Second Avenue, Seattle, WA 98174. Persons within the State of Washington may telephone 800-827-1000.

Students should gain admission to the university and see the university’s Veterans Affairs Coordinator before making application for benefits. Students are required to register at the Veterans Affairs Coordinator’s Office located in the Student Services Center (Room 102, Hauge Administration Building), before each term to insure continuous receipt of benefits.

Alternative Transportation Subsidy
PLU encourages students and with benefits faculty/staff to use alternative transportation by subsidizing the cost of a transit pass and by providing carpool and bicycle parking. PLU pays $49 a month per eligible commuter towards the purchase of a transit pass. A description of the transit benefit program and application are online at www.plu.edu/~commute.

Apply for a carpool parking pass by registering your carpool at Campus Safety. For more information on using alternative transportation, see www.plu.edu/~commute.

Unpaid Fine
Unpaid fines such as those for parking violations, overdue library materials, etc., will be charged to the student account. Students must pay these fines as incurred to avoid interest charges and financial holds.

TRANSCRIPT FEE
253.535.7135
www.plu.edu/~ssvc/transcript.html

Unofficial and official transcripts are processed by the Student Services Center. There is a $5 fee for each official transcript. Unofficial transcripts (up to two at a time) are issued at no charge. In addition, the student and/or his or her parent(s) or legal guardian is required to complete and submit a Payment Contract to the university each academic year. The university agrees to make available to the student certain educational programs and the use of certain university facilities, as applicable and as described in this catalog. A failure to pay when due all university bills shall release the university of any obligation to continue to provide applicable educational benefits and services, including, but not limited to, the right for further registration, statements of honorable dismissal, grade reports, transcripts or diplomas. The student shall also be denied admittance to classes and the use of university facilities in the event of default.

Payment Information
Payment may be made in the form of cash; personal, business, or cashier’s check; money order; wire; or debit or credit card (VISA or MasterCard). Billing Questions Questions regarding the student bill should be directed to the Student Services Center. The university must be contacted in writing within 60 days of the statement date of the first bill on which the error appeared. After 60 days it is presumed that there were no errors and the billing was correct.

Lute Discount
A $75 discount, per semester (fall and spring), from tuition and other costs will be applied to the student account if the specific criteria for eligibility of the discount is met and a Lute Discount Form is submitted. The Lute Discount Form is mailed with the Fall Student Pre-Bill Statement in July and the Spring Student Pre-Bill Statement in December.

Payment Options
- Payment in Full: Must be made by the 25th of the month preceding each term (Fall, J-Term and Spring) or by the first day of each summer term.
- Financial Aid and Other Resources Cover Costs: Student grants, scholarships, loans and other resources listed on the Offer of Financial Aid exceed total university charges for the academic year.
- Monthly Payment
  - Interest-free monthly payments made to Tuition Management Systems (TMS), our third-party administrator.
  - Enrollment fee for the eight or ten month annual plan is $85.
  - Enrollment fee for the four or five month semester plan is $57.

The university has the right to cancel a TMS payment plan after the second monthly payment is missed. A 1.5 percent monthly interest charge or a minimum of $2.00 will be assessed by the university on the canceled plan amount.

Missed Payments
- Past due balances are subject to a 1.5 percent monthly interest charge or a minimum of $2.00.
- Failure to make payment as agreed upon in the payment contract will result in a financial hold being placed on the student account.
- It is the student’s responsibility to see that all financial aid accepted on the Offer of Financial Aid is credited to their student account. Financial aid includes but is not limited to loan applications, verification forms, entrance counseling, etc. All financial aid and other resources must be applied to your student account by September 30, 2008 for fall and February 28, 2009 for spring.

- Students currently enrolled who have been sent to a collection agency will be withdrawn from the university effective immediately. Students will receive a W grade on their transcripts.
- All collection costs, attorney fees, and interest incurred and allowable under federal and Washington state statutes and laws will be charged to the student by the collection agency and are the responsibility of the student to pay.
- A student account that has been sent to collections will have a permanent Collection Hold, even after the account is paid in full. If the student wishes to return to the University, he/she must pay in full all of their estimated charges prior to registration. Clearance to return to the University is issued by the Accounts Receivable Department.

Advance Payment
A $200 advance payment is required of new undergraduate students to confirm their offer of admission. The payment is refundable until May 1 for fall, December 1 for the January term, and January 1 for spring. Requests for a refund must be made in writing to the Admission Office.

Returning students wanting to reserve a room for the following year must sign a Housing Contract. Cancellations must be submitted in writing to the Residential Life Office. Cancellations received by June 1 will not be subject to a penalty. Cancellations received between June 2 and July 1 will be subject to a $200 penalty charge. Cancellations received after July 1 will be subject to a $400 penalty charge.

Credit Balances
If a credit balance occurs on a student account, the university calculates and issues refunds according to pertinent federal, state, banking and university regulations. Title IV, HEA program funds are refunded according to the Code of Federal Regulations 34 CFR Ch. VI Section 668.164. Bankcard payments are refunded, to the extent of the original payment(s), back to the bankcard that made the original payment(s). Checks are issued for all other refunds. Refund requests are processed by the Student Services Center.

Student Holds
There are 26 types of holds that are placed on student accounts and records for different circumstances. Each hold prevents basic University privileges, such as, but not limited to the right to register, add/drop classes, cash checks or receive copies of unofficial/official transcripts or a diploma. Listed below are the types of holds that are placed on accounts and the offices to contact regarding them.

For description on holds not listed, you may contact the Student Services Center for assistance.

Academic Hold
The Registrar's Office, Student Life Office or Residential Life Office can place an account on academic hold. Registration for classes is precluded until any pending matter with those offices is settled.

Collection Hold
The collections holds will permanently remain on a student account. Any student wishing to return to the university must pay in full all of their estimated charges prior to registration. Clearance to return to the university is issued by the Accounts Receivable Department.

Credit Balance Hold
Any student with a credit balance on their student account who is not registered for a future term or is listed as a graduating senior will be placed on a Credit Balance Hold. The Revised Code of Washington (RCW) 63.29 Uniform Unclaimed Property Act requires the university to forward all unclaimed student account balances to the Washington State Department of Revenue unless the student requests a refund or donates their credit balance to the university.

Financial Hold
If a student account is past due, a financial hold will be placed.

Medical Hold
A medical hold prevents a student from registering if Health Center has not received the Medical History Form or if the student does not have the necessary immunizations.

No Address Hold
All students are required to keep a current permanent address with the university. If mail becomes undeliverable, an address hold will be placed.

Non-Sufficient Funds Hold

Policies and Procedures Relating to the Return of Title IV and Institutional Financial Aid Funds if a Student Withdraws from the University

The university calculates and returns Title IV funds according to Federal Title IV policy 34CRF 668.22. The amount of Title IV funds (other than Federal Work Study) that must be returned to the Title IV programs is based solely on the length of time the student was enrolled before withdrawing. This policy is effective for complete or full withdrawal from a semester in which a student receives Title IV federal funds.

For fall and spring semester only, if a student withdraws before 60 percent of the semester has elapsed, a percentage of Title IV funds will be returned to the federal program based on the length of time the student was enrolled before withdrawal. After 60 percent of the semester has elapsed, the student is considered to have used all aid received for the semester.

The return of Title IV funds is dependent upon the date a student withdraws during the semester.

Withdrawal date is defined as one of the following:
- The date the student began the withdrawal process;
- the date the student otherwise provided the school with official notification of the intent to withdraw; or
- For the student who does not begin the university’s withdrawal process or notify the school of the intent to withdraw, the midpoint of the payment period or period of enrollment for which Title IV assistance was disbursed (unless the university can document a later date); If attendance is taken, the withdrawal date is determined from the attendance records.

The university will:
- Determine date of withdrawal
- Calculate the percentage of aid deemed to have been used by the student
- Calculate the percentage of aid not used by the student, which must be returned to federal programs.

Order of Return of Title IV Funds:
If the withdrawal date results in a percentage of used Title IV aid, then the return of Title IV aid will occur in the following order:
- Unsubsidized Federal Stafford loans
- Subsidized Federal Stafford loans
- Federal Perkins loans
- Federal PLUS loans
- Direct PLUS loans
- Federal Pell grants
- Federal SEOG grants
- Other assistance under this Title for which a return of funds is required, to include Washington State Need Grants.

Procedures for Obtaining a Refund Upon Full Withdrawal from the University
- Student requests withdrawal approval from the Registrar’s Office via the Student Services Center, using a withdrawal form.
- Financial Aid processes the student withdrawal request according to the Federal Title IV policy 34CFR 668.22. Aid will be revised according to published federal policy.
- The Registrar’s Office makes a tuition adjustment, if applicable, to the student account for the percentage of tuition allowed to be refunded for that time period during the term (as determined by the Registrar’s Office and the University Tuition and Course Fees Refund Policy).
- Examples of the Return of Title IV Funds if a Student Withdraws are available in the Financial Aid Office.

Note: Please be aware that a tuition refund due to withdrawal from the university can adversely affect what is owed to the university by the student. A tuition adjustment is applied to the student account, but aid is also adjusted, sometimes creating a larger owing balance. Students should check with the Financial Aid Office to determine the effect a withdrawal will have on their student account.

Admission

253.535.7151, 800.274.6758
www.plu.edu/gradadmission

Pacific Lutheran University welcomes applications from students who exhibit capacities for success at the graduate level. Applicants must present evidence of scholastic ability and demonstrate qualities of good character in order to be accepted for admission. The dean of graduate studies reserves the right to admit, deny or withdraw admission for any applicant/student based on an individual’s meeting these criteria. Admission decisions are made by the dean of graduate studies upon recommendation of the associate dean and the person responsible for graduate admission in each academic unit. Applications for admission are evaluated without regard to race, color, creed, religion, gender, national origin, age, mental or physical disability, marital status, or sexual orientation.

Students seeking admission to any graduate program must hold a bachelor’s degree from a regionally accredited college or university. Applicants for the M.F.A. in Creative Writing may hold a bachelor’s degree or equivalent professional certification. For all graduate programs, except Business and M.F.A. in Creative Writing, a cumulative undergraduate grade point average of at least 3.00 (on a 4.00 scale) is required for admission as a regular status graduate student. Those students with an average of less than 3.00 may be granted provisional status and will not be considered for admission to regular status until they have demonstrated their ability to do graduate work by completing a minimum of 8 semester hours of work with a cumulative grade point average of at least 3.00. For requirements in Business, see Classification of Students under Policies and Standards.

At the minimum, all application evaluations are based on scholastic qualifications, a statement of professional goals, letters of recommendation, and preparation in the proposed field of study. Some graduate programs may require additional evidence for admission including, but not limited to, autobiographical statements, personal interviews, standardized tests, or other evidence of professional accomplishment. Listings for each program detail these additional admission requirements.
A $300 advance tuition payment is required for all international graduate students, and for U.S. students lacking adequate English skills are not officially admitted. International students who have applied for graduate studies before completing their undergraduate work may be admitted as regular or provisional status students with the condition that work cannot begin until they have successfully completed their bachelor’s degree and official transcripts with the degree have been received by the Office of Admission. International students lacking adequate English skills are not officially admitted.

Non-matriculated - Students holding a bachelor’s degree who wish to pursue course work with no intention of qualifying for an advanced degree at PLU are classified as non-matriculated students. A non-matriculated student may take a maximum of nine semester hours of 500-level courses. A non-matriculated student may take an unlimited number of continuing education hours.

Full-time: Graduate students enrolled for eight or more semester hours in fall or spring semester are considered full-time.

Half-time: Graduate students enrolled for at least four but less than eight semester hours in fall or spring semester are considered half-time.

CHANGE OF STUDENT STATUS

Provisional to Regular - Student status will be changed from provisional to regular after the following conditions have been met: satisfactory fulfillment of course deficiencies; satisfactory completion of eight semester hours of graduate work with a cumulative grade point average of 3.0 or higher; or satisfactory completion of departmental or school requirements.

Non-matriculated to Regular/Provisional - Student status will be changed from non-matriculated to regular/provisional after the non-matriculated student completes the normal application process and is accepted into a regular degree program. Credit earned during non-matriculated classification may count toward a graduate degree, but only as recommended by the faculty advisory committee or program’s dean, and approved by the dean of graduate studies after the student has been admitted to a degree program. No such credit can be counted that carries a grade lower than B-. In all cases, a letter indicating change of status will be sent to the student, with a copy to the advisor and/or program director.
INTERNATIONAL STUDENTS

To allow ample time for visa and other departure procedures, international applicants should have their application and all supporting documents on file in the Office of Admission no less than four months before a proposed date of entry. The following documents are necessary before an application can be processed.

- Formal application for admission and statement of goals with the $40.00 non-refundable application fee (which cannot be waived for any reason).
- Official transcripts with English translation from each college or university attended in the United States, home country, or other country. All transcripts must be sent directly to the PLU Office of Admission from the institution providing the transcript.
- Two letters of recommendation from school officials or persons of recognized standing. Applicants transferring from a U.S. college or university should request their international student advisor to send a recommendation.
- Demonstrated university level proficiency in the English language. Minimum requirements are as follows:
  - For all graduate programs, except business and nursing, minimum scores of 213 on the Computer-Based Test (CBT) or 80 on the Internet-Based Test (IBT) are required on the Official Test of English as a Foreign Language (TOEFL). The PLU TOEFL score request code is: 459702.
- Master of Business Administration
  - Minimum TOEFL-IBT score of 88 or TOEFL-CBT score of 230
  - Minimum IELTS score of 6.5 accepted in place of TOEFL scores
  - International students lacking adequate English proficiency are not officially admitted. Prospective MBA students who are lacking required English proficiency may contact the PLU School of Business at 253.535.7330 or Embassy CES at 253.535.8660 for more information regarding ESL instruction and conditional admission to the MBA Program.
- Master of Science in Nursing
  - Minimum combined TOEFL-IBT score of 86, with minimum individual scores of 26 in speaking, 20 in reading, and 20 in listening
  - The TOEFL requirement is waived for applicants who hold current unrestricted United States Registered Nurse licensure.
- Official scores from specific tests as required for certain programs or concentrations. See individual master’s programs for further information.

International students are required to submit a non-refundable $300.00 advance payment following an offer of admission. This payment is the student’s acknowledgment of acceptance and is credited to the student’s account to be applied toward expenses of the first term of enrollment.

An I-20 form (Certificate of Eligibility for Non-Immigrant Student Status) will be issued only after all documents have been received, the application has been reviewed, the student has been offered admission and accepted, a certification of finances has been received, and the $300.00 advanced payment has been received. Certification from banks or embassies is permissible. A financial statement form is available on the Web or from the Office of Admission upon request. The I-20 form should be taken to the U.S. Consulate when requesting a visa to come to the United States for a graduate program.

International students are required by immigration regulations to enroll as full-time students (a minimum of eight credit hours per semester for graduate studies). They are also required to submit the appropriate medical forms to the university’s Health Service. Students may also be required to have a physical exam.

Before enrolling for classes, all international students are required to have health and medical insurance, which is obtained through the university after arrival on campus.

International students must also report to International Student Services at 253.535.7194, upon registration for purposes of immigration and university record-keeping.

ADVISING

Upon admission each student will be assigned an advisor responsible for assisting the student in determining a program of study. When appropriate, the advisor will chair the student’s advisory committee. Students are encouraged to meet with their advisors early in their programs.

HOURS REQUIRED FOR THE MASTER’S DEGREE

A minimum of 32 semester hours is required. Individual programs may require more than the minimum number of semester hours, depending upon prior preparation and specific degree requirements. Any prerequisite courses taken during the graduate program shall not count toward fulfillment of graduate degree requirements.

TRANSFER OF CREDIT

Graduate work from another institution may be accepted for transfer upon petition by the student and approval by the program director. Eight semester hours may be transferable to a 32-semester-hour program.

In degree programs requiring work beyond 32 semester hours, more than eight semester hours may be transferred. In any case, the student must complete at least 24 semester hours of the degree program at Pacific Lutheran University.

TIME LIMIT

All requirements for the master’s degree, including credit earned before admission, must be completed within seven years. The seven-year limit covers all courses applied to the master’s degree, credit transferred from another institution, comprehensive examinations, research, and final oral examination. The seven-year limit begins with beginning date of the first course applicable to the graduate degree. (See also Satisfactory Progress Policy.)

RESIDENCY REQUIREMENT

All candidates for the master’s degree must complete 24 semester hours of Pacific Lutheran University courses.
IMMUNIZATION POLICY

All graduate students are required to provide a university health history form with accurate immunization records of measles, mumps, rubella, and tetanus-diphtheria to Health Services. Students born before January 1, 1957, must provide documentation for tetanus-diphtheria (Td) booster within the last 10 years. All international students are required also to have a tuberculosis skin test. This test will be done at Health Services after arrival at the university. The cost is $20.00. Students with questions or concerns about the immunization policy should contact Health Services at 253.535.7337. PLU Health Insurance Plan is not available to graduate students. Nursing has additional health requirements.

COURSES TAKEN ON A PASS/FAIL BASIS

If a graduate student’s program includes a course where students may elect a letter grade or the pass/fail option, graduate students must opt for the letter grade.

COURSES ACCEPTABLE FOR GRADUATE CREDIT

All 500-numbered courses described in this catalog are graduate level. In some graduate programs, a limited number of 300-level and 400-level courses may be accepted for graduate credit. (See Directory of PLU Approved Courses for graduate course descriptions.) A maximum of four semester hours of continuing education credit may be accepted toward a master’s degree. The School of Business does not accept continuing education credit taken at PLU or transferred from another university. All courses accepted for any master’s degree are subject to the approval of the program director and the dean of graduate studies.

ENTRY-LEVEL MASTER OF SCIENCE IN NURSING

All required undergraduate level coursework in Nursing (or its equivalent) in the Entry-Level Master of Science in Nursing Program is considered part of the Entry-Level M.S.N. graduate program.

GRADUATE CREDIT FOR SENIORS

If, during the last semester of the senior year, a candidate for a baccalaureate degree finds it possible to complete all degree requirements with a registration of fewer than 16 semester hours of undergraduate credit, registration for graduate credit may be permissible. However, the total registration for undergraduate requirements and elective graduate credit shall not exceed 16 semester hours during the semester. A memorandum stating that all baccalaureate requirements are being met during the current semester must be signed by the appropriate department chair or school dean and presented to the dean of graduate studies at the time of such registration. This registration does not apply toward a higher degree unless it is later approved by the student’s graduate program advisor and/or advisory committee.

PETITIONS

It is the student’s responsibility to formally petition the graduate program’s director or dean for transfer credit, change of program or advisor, or any exception to policy. Petition forms may be obtained from advisors.

STANDARDS OF WORK

The minimum standard acceptable for the master’s degree is a grade point average of 3.00 in all graduate work. Graduate-level credit will not be given for any class in which the grade earned is lower than a C.

A student whose grade point average falls below 3.00 is subject to dismissal from the program. In such instances, the recommendation for dismissal or continuance is made by the student’s advisory committee and acted upon by the dean of graduate studies.

ACADEMIC PROBATION

A student pursuing the master’s degree who fails to maintain a cumulative grade point average of 3.00 may be placed on academic probation. A graduate student on probation who fails to attain a cumulative grade point average of 3.00 in the next term of enrollment may be dismissed from the program. A graduate student cannot earn a master’s degree with less than a 3.00 cumulative grade point average in all graduate-level work.

THESIS AND RESEARCH REQUIREMENTS

Students are required to present evidence of ability to do independent research. This can be demonstrated in three ways. See each program section for explanation of research options within each graduate program.

The first method is a thesis. Those students writing theses must submit their original theses for binding and microfilming by ProQuest of Ann Arbor, Michigan. In addition, a Dissertation Services publishing form and an abstract of 150 words or fewer must be submitted with the publishing fee, to Office of the Provost and Dean of Graduate Studies, no later than three weeks before graduation. Fees for microfilming, publishing abstracts, and binding original theses for the permanent PLU library collection are paid by students (see Tuition and Fees section).

The second method is a research paper. If a program requires or students elect research paper options, one original paper must be submitted to the Provost and Dean of Graduate Studies with an abstract of 150 words or fewer, no later than three weeks before graduation. Research papers will be microfilmed at PLU and placed in the PLU library collection. Microfilming fees are paid by students.

Theses and research papers that have been approved and signed must be submitted to the Office of the Provost and Dean of Graduate Studies not later than three weeks before graduation. All theses and papers presented must be clean, error-free, and follow the approved style manual for the respective academic program.

The third method of fulfilling research requirements used in some programs is paper presentations or culminating projects in specific courses designed to comprehensively integrate a program’s material while promoting independent research and study.

EXAMINATIONS

Written comprehensive examinations through the submission of documented entries are required in all School of Education and Movement Studies graduate programs at three separate points. These must be passed before continuing in subsequent semesters. An oral defense of the thesis is presented under the direction of the student’s adviser and must be completed successfully no later than three weeks before commencement.

GRADUATION

All courses must be completed, final grades recorded, examinations passed, and thesis/research requirements fulfilled in order for a degree to be awarded. Graduate students must apply for graduation by the following dates:

RESPONSIBILITIES AND DEADLINES

It is the responsibility of each graduate student to know and follow the procedures outlined in this catalog and to abide by established deadlines. See individual master’s programs and concentrations for specific degree requirements.

- Upon acceptance, meet with the assigned advisor as soon as possible to establish the program of study.
- Register for thesis or research paper as required. Deadline: The last acceptable registration date is the semester in which the student expects to receive his or her degree.
- Apply for graduation. File your application for graduation with the Registrar’s Office. Students are responsible for ordering their own cap and gown.
- Submit theses and research papers in final form to Office of the Provost and Dean of Graduate Studies three weeks prior to graduation. At this time the binding/microfilming fee must be paid.

Tuition and Fees

In some programs, tuition charges for graduate students are determined by the number of semester hours for which a student registers and are based on a semester hour rate.

www.plu.edu/~faid

Financial assistance for graduate students is available in the forms of Federal Perkins, Federal Stafford, Federal Nursing, and Graduate PLUS loans, graduate fellowships, federal or state work study, and a limited number of scholarships. To apply for assistance, students must complete the Free Application for Federal Student Aid (www.fafsa.ed.gov). Students must be admitted to a graduate program before an offer of financial aid will be extended. Applications and information may be obtained from the Financial Aid Office or by visiting the Web site.

A limited number of graduate fellowships are available. Contact the Office of the Provost or individual graduate program directors for applications and information. The priority date for submission of applications for the academic year beginning in September is April 15; fellowships are awarded on a rolling basis.

Satisfactory Progress Policy

Graduate and professional students must meet the same satisfactory progress requirements as undergraduate students in order to continue receiving financial assistance, with the following exceptions:

- Minimum grade point average: Each graduate program monitors the grade point average of its students. In general, graduate students must maintain a minimum grade point average of 3.00.
- Minimum credit requirement for graduate financial assistance:

Note: Less than half-time enrollment will cause a student loan to be cancelled and may jeopardize deferment status.

- Maximum graduate financial aid time allowed:
  1. The maximum number of full-time graduate credit hours that may be attempted is 72, and the maximum time allowed to complete a graduate degree is 4.5 years.
  2. The maximum number of part-time graduate credit hours that may be attempted is 72, and the maximum allowed to complete a graduate degree is 7 years.
The purpose of the graduate programs in education is to provide qualified persons with opportunities to develop their skills in teaching and prepare themselves for educational leadership and service roles requiring advanced preparation. The major fields of concentration are designed to provide maximum flexibility in an experience-oriented environment. Graduate concentrations are offered in Residency Certification, Educational Leadership, Administrative Certification. Requirements for each concentration are listed separately following this section.

Accreditation

The School of Education and Movement Studies is accredited by the National Council for the Accreditation of Teacher Education (NCATE).

Coordinating Master’s Degree with Continuing and Professional Certification Program

Students holding an Initial or Residency Certificate may coordinate the Master of Arts in Education (M.A.E.) degree with the requirements for Continuing or Professional Certification. Graduate students pursuing the Continuing or Professional Certificate should discuss their programs with the program coordinator or their advisor in the Department of Instructional Development and Leadership. Students intending to work toward a master’s degree must complete formal application for admission to the Office of Admissions. Students intending to complete requirements for the Professional Certificate must complete a formal application to the Office of Partnerships and Professional Development.

Admission

For regular admission to master’s degree programs and to professional certificate programs, applicants must have completed a B.A. or B.S. degree from a regionally accredited institution of higher education and must submit recommendations and test scores from appropriate screening tests. Students may be required to have a personal interview with the director of graduate programs before admission. (See individual concentrations for tests and prerequisites specific to the concentration.) Students admitted provisionally must fulfill the following requirements in order to be granted regular status: Completion of 12 hours of graduate course work with a minimum grade point average of 3.00 or other requirements.

Examinations

Students complete comprehensive examination through the submission of documented entries (DEs). DEs are completed at scheduled points throughout each program and must meet acceptable levels for students to continue in the program.

M.A.E. WITH CERTIFICATION (RESIDENCY)

Coordinator: Ronald Byrnes

The Master of Arts with Residency Certification Program helps to prepare preservice teachers in their work to establish a socially just and responsible world. To facilitate this, the program encourages candidates to explore their vocation as teachers and to work for meaningful social change by recognizing the perspectives of the students and families in the communities they serve; by providing opportunities for powerful and authentic learning grounded in the lived experiences of their students; by facilitating candidate inquiry into the formulation of critical educational questions; by honoring the vast array of cultural and linguistic resources in schools, classrooms and communities; and by modeling the skills, habits and ethical passions required for effective democratic citizenship. These program goals align directly with the department’s core values of care, competence, difference, leadership and service.

Concentration Objective

The primary aim of the program is to educate teachers who are ready to assume a variety of roles in 21st-century schools. Faculty work with students to develop understandings and skills for their functions as leaders, inquirers, and curriculum/instructional specialists. Course work in the program is designed around specific themes that serve as a focus for individual and group projects and intersect with the functions of teachers as leaders, inquirers, and curriculum/instructional specialists.

Program Overview

Students enrolled in the M.A. with Certification Program begin studies in mid-June and complete program requirements the following August. In addition to course work required for the residency certificate, students complete an inquiry project as well as documented entries that allow M.A. candidates to demonstrate mastery of the program’s core values.

The inquiry project, an empirical study grounded in the internship experience, is designed to assist M.A. candidates in becoming familiar with the purposes, theories, and processes of educational inquiry. The intent is to provide the opportunity for program participants to explore an educational topic in a systematic way in order to enrich their understanding of the topic, and generally, the strengths and limitations of educational inquiry.

An important program component is the completion of a year-long internship in a public school. For the intern experience, students are clustered at sites selected by the university as representative of programs reflecting specific attention to current trends in education.

Prerequisites

For regular admission, applicants must have completed a baccalaureate degree from a regionally accredited institution of higher education. A minimum grade point average of 3.00 and official scores from the Graduate Record Exam (GRE) or other admission examination approved by the director are required. Applicants are invited to meet with the program director before submitting the completed application in order to clarify questions about the program and admissions procedures.

College of Arts and Sciences
Division of Social Sciences
Marriage and Family Therapy

Norris Peterson, Ph.D., Dean, Division of Social Sciences
Charles York, Ph.D., Chair, Department of Marriage and Family Therapy; David Ward, Director of Clinical Training; Jane Ryan, Clinic Director.

Purpose
The primary objective of the Marriage and Family Therapy (MFTH) program is to train clinicians interested in counseling children, adults, couples, or families with a wide range of mental health problems, ranging from the chronically mentally ill to troubled children, from a marriage and family therapy perspective. Students participate in an intensive 20-hour-per-week, four or five semester clinical experience which includes 500 hours of therapy under close supervision in an on-campus clinic and in a community placement. The on-campus clinic and four off-campus sites offer all students a managed care clinical experience. Academic courses are scheduled at 3:00 p.m. to allow students to work full-time during their first academic year while they prepare for their clinical experience. Because faculty recognize that adult students bring expertise with them, students are highly involved in learning via exercises, classroom discussion, and real-life activities. The program is secular in nature and emphasizes the application of theory to practice, rigorous evaluation, and direct supervision of one’s clinical competency.

Accreditation
The program is accredited by the Commission on Accreditation for Marriage and Family Therapy Education of the American Association of Marriage and Family Therapy (AAMFT) and also complies with Washington State licensure requirements for marriage and family therapists.

Prerequisites
Applicants who have a degree in family studies, human services, psychology, sociology, social work, or the equivalent have met any program prerequisites. Applicants who do not have a degree in any of these areas are required to complete a minimum of 15 semester hours (22.5 quarter hours) in family social sciences, human services, psychology, sociology, or social work.

Admission
The MFTH program is looking for individuals who have professional goals consistent with the program, volunteer or professional experience in the social services, the ability to handle the academic rigor of the program, and the personal qualities required of couple and family therapists. Our goal is to have a student body highly diverse in spirituality, age, race, ethnicity, gender, sexual orientation, and also inclusive of international students. To be considered for admission, applicants must: have a bachelor’s degree, submit transcripts of all undergraduate work, have a specific interest in MFTH, provide a current resume, obtain two letters of recommendation, complete an application, and prepare a career statement.

The comprehensive career statement (maximum of five double-spaced typed pages) should address the following questions:

• What significant cultural experiences have most influenced your present development and your desire to be a couple and family therapist?
• What are your professional career goals after completing your degree?
• What are your strengths that will help you achieve your professional goals?
• What do you consider to be areas for personal growth that may need the most attention during your training as a therapist at Pacific Lutheran University?

This statement replaces the required goal statement on the application form.

Based on a committee review of applicants’ written materials, a pool of applicants to be interviewed is established. The primary purpose of the interview is to determine the fit between the applicants’ professional goals and the purpose and mission of the MFT program.

Application Deadline for Fall
Application file completed in Office of Admission: January 31
Interview Notification: Mid-February through end of April.
Interview date: To be determined.

Advance Deposit
Accepted applicants must make a $300 advance payment to confirm their acceptance of an offer of admission within three weeks of their acceptance date.

Program Requirements

Successful completion of three years of creative mentorship, four summer residencies, a successful off-campus field experience, and submission of an acceptable thesis consisting of a critical paper as well as an original portfolio of fiction, nonfiction, or poetry (work may be in more than one genre). The critical paper should arise from the areas of study and will usually be completed during the third year. It should serve as the basis for a class to be taught by the graduating student during the final residency. Each thesis will be read by two faculty members and the director. Graduating students will also give a public reading from their work.

M.F.A. Degree Requirements: (36 semester hours)

M.F.A. Summer Residency

Faculty will include distinguished writers, editors and literary agents. (Four credits per residency, 12 semester hours required for graduation)

M.F.A. Writing Mentorship

The Master of Science in Nursing (M.S.N.) degree prepares professional nurses for advanced roles such as family nurse practitioner, clinical nurse specialist, clinical nurse educator, and clinical nurse leader. The program also prepares the graduate for doctoral studies. The M.S.N. curriculum is evidence-based and practice-oriented, and consists of a common core (theory, advanced practice roles, evaluation and outcomes research, leadership, and management, as well as advanced health promotion), specialty didactic and clinical/practicum experiences, and a capstone course (scholarly inquiry or thesis). Each M.S.N. student completes coursework leading to either the Family Nurse Practitioner concentration or the Care and Outcomes Manager concentration. The latter may be further differentiated through focus areas, including clinical nurse specialist, clinical nurse leader, informaticist, or clinical nurse educator.

The School of Nursing offers three program options leading to the Master of Science in Nursing degree. The regular Master of Science in Nursing program is designed for Bachelor of Science in Nursing (B.S.N.) prepared registered nurses. The RN-B to EL-M.S.N. is designed for registered nurses with a ADN and B.A. non-nursing degree. The Entry-Level Master of Science in Nursing program is an accelerated program designed for students with a prior non-nursing baccalaureate degree to gain RN licensure and complete the M.S.N. degree in 36 months of study.

Graduate-level nursing classes are structured to accommodate the part-time working nurse. M.S.N. core and concentration requirements may be completed in four to five full-time semesters over two years. Part-time study is an option for students in the B.S.N. to M.S.N. route; Entry-Level M.S.N. students must maintain full-time status throughout their entire program of study.

Accreditation

The School of Nursing is a member of the American Association of Colleges of Nursing (AACN) and is approved by the Washington State Nursing Care Quality Assurance Commission. The Master of Science in Nursing program is accredited by the Commission on Collegiate Nursing Education (CCNE). Both the Family Nurse Practitioner and the Care and Outcomes Manager curricula meet the requirements for several national certification examinations, including Advanced Registered Nurse Practitioner-Family, Clinical Nurse Specialist (various specialties) and Certified Nurse Educator.

M.S.N. Application Priority Deadlines

M.S.N. candidates may apply for admission at any time during the year; however, application and admission well in advance of the entry date will enhance the applicant’s potential for arranging financial assistance.

B.S.N. to M.S.N.: March 1/Rolling admissions for admission to the following fall semester.

Entry-Level M.S.N.: November 15 for admission to the following summer (June)

Admission Criteria

The following are the minimum criteria for consideration of admission to Master of Science in Nursing program (B.S.N. to M.S.N. and Entry-Level M.S.N. options). Admission to the School of Nursing programs is selective; meeting minimum criteria does not guarantee admission.

- Completion of a baccalaureate degree from a regionally accredited college or university.
- B.S.N. to M.S.N. applicants only: Hold a baccalaureate degree in nursing from a nationally accredited school of nursing.
- A minimum cumulative GPA of 3.00 (‘B’) on a 4.00 scale for all college work.
- Minimum grade of 3.00 (‘B’) on a 4.00 scale in each prerequisite course.

  - B.S.N. to M.S.N. applicant minimum scores: 450 in both the Verbal and Quantitative sections, and 4.00 in the Analytical Writing section.
  - Entry-Level M.S.N. applicant minimum scores: 500 in both the Verbal and Quantitative sections, and 4.00 in the Analytical Writing section.
- Professional resume.
- Professional statement of goals.
- Two letters of recommendation.
- Fluency in speaking, reading, writing and comprehending graduate-level English (see policy and procedures in the Graduate Application Addendum).
- Any applicant who has previously attended any school/college of nursing must submit additional documentation (see policy and procedures in the Graduate Application Addendum).
- Civil, administrative, and criminal history clearance in all states, as well as any other applicable territory or country.

Program Prerequisites

All prerequisite courses must be completed at an accredited college or university with a minimum grade of 3.00 (‘B’) or higher on a 4.00 scale before beginning the nursing program. Prerequisites vary for the two M.S.N. options:

B.S.N. to M.S.N. Applicants:
- Introductory Statistics (including inferential and descriptive)

Entry-Level M.S.N. Applicants:
- Introductory Statistics (including inferential and descriptive)
- Human Anatomy and Physiology I (with lab)
- Human Anatomy and Physiology II (with lab)
- Introductory Microbiology (with lab)
- Lifespan Developmental Psychology

Advance Deposit

There are limitations on the numbers of students accepted into the M.S.N. programs and concentrations each year. Applicants accepted into the program are required to make a $300 non-refundable advance tuition payment to confirm their acceptance of an offer of admission within two weeks of their acceptance date.

Program Requirements

All admitted nursing students must provide valid documentation of the following by designated dates and before enrollment in any practicum/clinical course:

- Immunization and health status;
- CPR certification;
- Comprehensive personal health insurance; and
- Civil, administrative, and criminal history clearance in all states, as well as any other applicable territory or country.

In addition to these requirements, all B.S.N. to M.S.N. and Entry-Level M.S.N. students in M.S.N. concentration coursework must also provide documentation of:

- Unrestricted licensure as a registered nurse in the State of Washington; and
- Professional liability insurance.

Advising

The Graduate Admissions Coordinator typically completes initial advising and program planning with applicants and admitted students. M.S.N. applicants are strongly encouraged to seek advising prior to applying to the program. Upon matriculation, all students are assigned a graduate advisor.

Non-Matriculated Students

B.S.N.-prepared registered nurses may enroll in up to nine semester credits of M.S.N. courses on a non-matriculated basis with School of Nursing approval. Non-matriculated students are not guaranteed admission into any School of Nursing programs. For more information on non-matriculated status, see p. 159.

OPTION FOR REGISTERED NURSE-BACHELOR’S ENTRY-LEVEL M.S.N.

The RN-B ELM program is designed for candidates with a previous non-nursing bachelor’s or higher degree and an associate degree in nursing to gain the M.S.N. degree. The sequence of study recognizes the academic success of the non-nursing graduate and RN licensure as groundwork for graduate study. A limited number of candidates is admitted each year and admission is competitive.

The RN-B to EL-M.S.N. program is clinically and academically intensive to assure the student of adequate development in an advanced practice role (clinical leader, clinical educator, family nurse practitioner or clinical nurse specialist) at completion of the program. Students are expected to have completed the same prerequisite courses as the EL-M.S.N. students with the addition of NURS 430, Situations with Communities, at the time of admission.

Prerequisite Courses

- Introductory Statistics (including inferential and descriptive)
- Human Anatomy and Physiology I (with lab)
- Human Anatomy and Physiology II (with lab)
- Introductory Microbiology (with lab)
- Lifespan Developmental Psychology

The Entry-Level M.S.N. (EL-M.S.N.) is a cohort program designed to prepare candidates with a previous bachelor’s or higher degree to gain RN licensure and the M.S.N. degree. The sequence of study recognizes the academic success of the non-nursing graduate by providing a focused immersion into nursing followed by graduate study. Students do not receive a B.S.N. degree, but following successful completion of the first 15-months of study, they are eligible to sit for the NCLEX-RN for registered nurse licensure and to continue in the M.S.N. program. A limited cohort is admitted each year and admission is competitive.

The EL-M.S.N. program is clinically and academically intensive to assure the student of adequate exposure to the RN role and responsibilities, as well as to develop an advanced practice role (clinical leader, clinical educator, family nurse practitioner or clinical nurse specialist) at completion of the EL-M.S.N. program. Students are expected to complete the entire 36-month program with their cohort.

After completing the pre-licensure curriculum and upon successfully obtaining RN licensure in Washington State, students continue the Entry-Level M.S.N. curriculum as a generalist COM. Admission to the EL-M.S.N. program does not guarantee progression into any specializations (FNP, CNS, etc.). EL-M.S.N. students must apply and be selected for specialization at the completion of their first post RN licensure semester. The advanced practice portion of the curriculum is structured for the student to be able to work part-time as a registered nurse while completing the remaining credits required for the M.S.N. degree.

MASTER OF SCIENCE IN NURSING CONCENTRATIONS

Care and Outcomes Manager (COM) Concentration

This course of study allows students to focus on care management, using an outcomes approach skill set necessary for being responsive in a continually changing health care environment. The program prepares the student for an advanced role as a clinical nurse specialist, clinical nurse educator for schools or agencies, or clinical nurse leader/administrator at the systems level (e.g., case manager, utilization review coordinator, risk manager, or nursing informaticist).

This concentration prepares students to provide quality, cost effective care in a defined context, to participate in the design and implementation of an evaluation and outcomes model, to assume a leadership role in managing health care resources, and to integrate clinical and evaluation competencies for care and outcomes management. Successful completion of the COM concentration in the clinical nurse specialist or clinical nurse educator focus qualifies graduates to sit for national certifying examinations in their respective specialties (i.e., Clinical Nurse Specialist (various areas) or Certified Nurse Educator).

Family Nurse Practitioner (FNP) Concentration

This course of study focuses on client-centered clinical practice, and prepares nurses to respond to the needs of today’s and tomorrow’s health care consumers, to manage direct care based on advanced assessment and diagnostic reasoning, to incorporate health promotion and disease prevention interventions into health care delivery, and to recognize their potential for professional growth, responsibility and autonomy.

Successful completion of the Family Nurse Practitioner program qualifies students to sit for national Advanced Registered Nurse Practitioner certifying examinations for family practice, making them eligible under Washington State law for ARNP licensure.

Pacific Lutheran University is committed to enlarging and maintaining the representation of ethnic, gender, cultural and economic diversity among its Employees, as well as among its student population. PLU is further committed to the reasonable accommodation of persons with disabilities, whether students or Employees. In furtherance of these goals and in accordance with state and federal law, Pacific Lutheran University has adopted an Affirmative Action Plan that reflects its intent to provide applicants, Employees, and students equal opportunity in all aspects of employment and education and to provide a working and learning environment free from unlawful discrimination and harassment.

In accordance with the plan, the University has appointed an Affirmative Action Officer who is responsible for implementing and monitoring the goals set forth in the Affirmative Action Plan. The Affirmative Action Plan is regularly reviewed and may be modified from time to time to serve the needs of the PLU community consistent with the University’s affirmative action goals. The current Affirmative Action Plan may be reviewed at any time by contacting the Human Resource Services Office.

POLICY ON ACCOMMODATION OF PERSONS WITH DISABILITIES

As stated in the Equal Opportunity policy, Pacific Lutheran University will not discriminate against any student because of the presence of a mental or physical disability. As part of its long-range plan, the University has committed the financial and human resources necessary to provide access to the University facilities according to the recommendations and requirements of the ADA. Where a student with a disability is able to perform essential academic/program requirements or job functions, the University may be obligated to provide reasonable accommodation to the needs of that student, unless such accommodations would provide undue hardship to the University. Students with medically recognized and documented disabilities and who are in need of special accommodation, have an obligation to notify the University of their needs. Students in need of accommodation should contact the Director of Disability Support Services in Ramstad 106. Students with disabilities who want to appeal a decision regarding accommodation should contact the Director of Counseling Center per the guidelines outlined in the Policy, Procedures and Guidelines for Nondiscrimination on the Basis of Disability for Students Attending Pacific Lutheran University.

POLICY ON SEXUAL MISCONDUCT

• Introduction
In accordance with its equal opportunity policy, Pacific Lutheran University prohibits any discrimination in education or employment on the basis of gender. Moreover, PLU is committed to providing an environment in which students and Employees can work, live and study free from all types of sexual misconduct. Sexual misconduct has a serious negative impact on the quality of the education and work experience. The range of sexual misconduct includes sexual harassment, intimidation, coercion, sexual assault, and certain consensual sexual relationships.

As set forth below, the University does not and will not tolerate sexual misconduct by or against any of its students or Employees. The University will work to prevent and eliminate such behavior by providing a comprehensive education program to promote awareness of acceptable and non-acceptable behaviors.

This policy is intended to meet the requirements of applicable federal and state law. If this policy is inconsistent with any applicable law, it is the University’s intent to follow applicable law.

• Policy Scope
This policy applies when the conduct prohibited by this policy occurs between any member of the student body or Employee population and any other member of the student body or Employee population. This policy also applies when the prohibited conduct occurs between a member and a non-member of the student body or Employee population, such as an off-campus vendor, independent contractor, work-study employer, intern-ship supervisor, prospective student or volunteer.

The University may impose sanctions if the prohibited conduct occurs on University premises or in connection with a person’s participation in a university-sponsored organization, program or activity, or if the conduct poses a risk of harm to any member of the campus community, including but not limited to any of the harmful effects encompassed by the definition of sexual harassment.

• Sexual Harassment
Sexual harassment is a form of sex discrimination which is prohibited by Title VII of the Civil Rights Act of 1964, Title IX of the 1972 Education Amendments and the laws of the State of Washington. When the University becomes aware of allegations of sexual harassment, it is bound by state and federal law to investigate those allegations, stop the harassment if it is found to exist and take measures to ensure a working and learning environment that is free of sexual harassment.

For the purposes of this policy, sexual harassment is defined as unwelcome sexual advances, requests for sexual favors or other verbal or physical conduct of a sexual nature when:
• Submission to such conduct or activity is made either explicitly or implicitly a term or condition of an individual’s employment or academic progress;
• Submission to or rejection of such conduct or activity is used as the basis for employment or evaluation;
• Such conduct or activity has the purpose or effect of interfering with an individual’s employment or educational performance or advancement; or
• Such conduct or activity creates an intimidating, hostile or offensive working, learning or campus residential environment.

Sexual harassment may occur when there is a difference in institutional authority between persons. It may occur between persons in equal positions, such as co-workers, colleagues and peers. It occurs without respect to gender, age, appearance or status. It may occur between persons of the same sex. It may occur if the sexual conduct of others in the education, work or campus residential environment has the purpose or effect of substantially interfering with another’s academic or work performance or environment. Sexually harassing conduct can include unwanted jokes, comments, gestures and non-verbal conduct. Anyone who is uncertain as to whether particular conduct violates this policy should contact any of the people or resources named in the Sexual Assault paragraphs of this policy.

Individuals who believe this policy has been violated, or who observe potential violations, are strongly encouraged to seek redress of their concerns by contacting any member of the University Dispute Resolution Committee or by contacting their supervisor.

Violation of these policies shall result in disciplinary action including the possibility of suspension, termination of employment or expulsion from the University. Any form of reprisal, actual or implied, whether academic or related to employment, will be treated as an aggravation of prohibited behavior and will not be tolerated.

The University is committed to providing all members of its community with education and training about the nature of sexual harassment, its damaging consequences and procedures for handling complaints. Training is particularly essential for persons in supervisory roles who may face personal liability if they fail to take appropriate action when they become aware of instances of sexual harassment.

Retaliation against anyone reporting or thought to have reported sexual harassment is prohibited. Such retaliation is considered a serious violation of this policy and will be considered independently of whether a charge or informal complaint of sexual harassment is substantiated. Encouraging others to retaliate also violates this policy.

The University is dedicated to the prevention and elimination of sexual harassment in the workplace, in the campus residential environment, and in the learning environment. The University cannot take corrective action, however, when it does not know about inappropriate behavior. Therefore, it is very important that violations of this policy be reported as soon as possible.

• Sexual Assault
Sexual assault is a violation of individual rights and dignity that will not be tolerated by Pacific Lutheran University. Sexual assault is not only an act of violence, aggression or coercion against a single individual, but it is also an attack on human dignity, a value essential to the University community. For these reasons, Pacific Lutheran University strongly encourages victims to report sexual assault incidents to appropriate university and governmental authorities as outlined in this policy. This policy applies to all members of the campus community, —students and employees, and is subject to enforcement via the applicable university policies and/or procedures including the Student Conduct System and the Grievance Policy and Procedures. — as to any incidents which occur on campus or in connection with any University-sponsored activity or event. Members of the University community who are sexually assaulted in an off-campus, non-University setting may seek assistance from any of the University services set forth in Sections 1(a), (b), and (c) below.

• Victim Rights and Services
Sexual assault victims have the right to:
- Respectful treatment from all campus authorities;
- On-campus medical assistance, which may include testing for sexually transmitted diseases, HIV and pregnancy as well as referral to outside medical resources;
- Confidential counseling;
- Assistance in changing housing and academic situations if such changes are reasonably available;
- Pursuit of disciplinary action through the Pacific Lutheran University Student Conduct System as outlined in Section 4(b);
- Pursuit of action via the University Grievance Policy and Procedures as outlined in Section 4(c);
- Assistance in the pursuit of criminal and/or civil charges within Pierce County as outlined in Section 4(d);
- A victim’s advocate.

• On-Campus Student Services:
Students who have been victims of sexual assault are entitled to a variety of services on and off campus. The following campus offices are available to provide victim services:
- For counseling and support: Counseling Center
  Campus Ministry
  Women’s Center
  Student Life Office
  Residential Life Staff
- For medical assistance:
  Student Health Center
  Campus Safety and Information
- To file a formal complaint:
  Student Conduct Coordinator
  Dispute Resolution Officers
  Campus Safety and Information

• On-Campus Faculty and Staff Services:
An Employee who has been the victims of an incident of a sexual assault committed on campus or in connection with a University-sponsored activity or event, or by a member of the PLU community, are/is strongly encouraged to contact Campus Safety and Information, Human Resource Services and/or counseling through the University’s Employee assistance program.

• Off-Campus Assistance:
The Sexual Assault Center of Pierce County offers a 24-hour crisis, information and referral line at 253.474.7273 or 1.800.756.7273. The Center exists to serve victims of sexual assault and abuse, their families and friends. Legal and medical advocacy is available, as well as support groups for victims, their friends and families.

• PLU Services for Alleged Perpetrators
Members of the PLU community who are alleged to have committed a sexual assault against another member of the PLU community are entitled to all rights given within the University’s Student Code of Conduct, Faculty Constitution and By-Laws, Personnel Policies and Procedures Manual, and Grievance Policy and Procedures, as appropriate. Such individuals are also entitled to PLU services which may offer them physical and emotional support, consultation and/or referral.

• Sexual Assault Terminology
Sexual assault can occur against both males and females and may be perpetrated by an assailant not known to the victim, or may occur when the victim knows his or her assailant, such as in the case of acquaintance or date rape. At Pacific Lutheran University, sexual assault includes, but is not limited to (1) non-consensual sexual contact, including forced sexual contact, and (2) forced sexual penetration, and may occur by a person individually or in concert with others.

• Non-consensual sexual contact, including forced sexual contact. includes any harmful, insulting or non-consensual physical contact of a sexual nature (including touching, fondling, exposure, disrobing, etc.) that is committed against another person without his/her consent, including any such act accomplished by means of actual or implied force, threat, coercion or helplessness. Forcing or intimidating a person to touch another person’s intimate parts shall also constitute non-consensual or forced sexual contact.

• Forced sexual penetration includes intercourse (vaginal penetration), sodomy, oral copulation or penetration with any object by the use of force, threats, coercion or by taking advantage of a victim’s helplessness.

• Because the University hopes to educate the community in order to prevent violations of this policy, it should be understood that:
- Alcohol and/or other drug use, intoxication or any impairment of the accused does not absolve one of responsibility for sexual assault.
- For purposes of this policy, “consent” means that at the time of the act of sexual intercourse or other sexual contact there are actual words or conduct indicating freely given agreement to have sexual intercourse or other sexual contact. In situations where the victim

Force or coercion is defined as:
- The use of physical force or physical violence;
- The use of threats, including but not limited to, physical threats, abduction, extortion or retaliation directed against the victim or another when the victim believes there is an ability to execute such threats; or
- The use of verbal comments or non-verbal behaviors or gestures to intimidate the victim or another when the victim believes that there is a present ability to execute such threats.
- Threat is defined as an expression of intention to hurt, destroy or punish the victim, another person, or their property.

Reporting Sexual Assault
Pacific Lutheran University strongly encourages victims of sexual assault to report incidents. Filing a report with the University, the Pierce County Sheriff or the Sexual Assault Crisis Center of Pierce County is not a commitment to pursue legal recourse/press charges. Criminal, civil and University action occur independently; a victim may pursue action in one or both systems concurrently. The University is not required to delay on-campus proceedings pending results in the criminal or civil systems. Because the definitions of sexual assault and the burden of proof required for responsibility are different in the campus, criminal and civil systems, an alleged perpetrator may be found responsible on campus, while in the criminal or civil justice systems, a different result may occur.

On-Campus Reporting
Victims of sexual assault which occurs on campus or in connection with a University-sponsored activity or event are strongly encouraged to report the incident, as soon as possible, to campus officials, including faculty members and/or Employees of one or more of the following:
- Campus Ministry
- Campus Safety
- Counseling Center
- Health Center
- Residential Life
- Student Life
- Women’s Center
- Human Resource

Pacific Lutheran University is committed to respecting personal dignity and will maintain confidentiality as appropriate and in keeping with the law. Employees outside of the above-referenced departments must inform Student Life (as to students) or Human Resource Services (as to all others) of any sexual assault matters brought to their attention. Such reporting may be done without identification of the individual(s) involved.

Student Conduct Procedures
A student may pursue action through the Student Conduct System if the alleged assault was committed by another PLU student. Should a victim choose to pursue a disciplinary hearing through the student conduct system, he/she should contact the Student Conduct Coordinator or Campus Safety and Information. The hearing procedures and rights afforded victims and alleged perpetrators in the Student Conduct System are outlined in the Pacific Lutheran University Student Handbook.

Grievance Policy and Procedures
As an alternative to (b) above, a student may choose to pursue action through the University Grievance Policy and Procedures if the alleged assault was committed on campus or in connection with a University-sponsored activity or event by another member of the PLU community.

An Employee who has been sexually assaulted by another member of the University community may pursue action through the University Grievance Policy and Procedures. To pursue such action, he/she should contact any of the University dispute resolution facilitators: Facilitators are selected from across campus. A current list of members may be found at www.plu.edu/~udrc.

Off-Campus Reporting
Victims who wish to report and/or pursue criminal or civil action are encouraged to seek assistance from any of the following resources:

- Campus Safety and Information Services, 253.535.7911
- Sexual Assault Crisis Center of Pierce County
- Administrative Offices, 253.597.6424
- 24-Hour Crisis/Information and Referral Line, 253.474.7273 or 800.756.7473, TTY 253.274.0448
- Pierce County Sheriff, 253.535.7911
- Tacoma Police, ext. 253.535.7911
- Local Policy Agency (if away from campus) 911

Penalties for Sexual Assault
Members of the University community who violate the University’s ban on sexual assault will be subject to strict disciplinary action by the University, up to and including suspension or expulsion for students and termination for Employees.

Consensual Sexual Relationships
Primary responsibility for maintaining high standards of conduct resides with faculty and supervisors, since they exercise significant authority and power over others.

A consensual sexual relationship between an Employee (faculty, staff, or administrator) and a student, or between a supervisor and a subordinate Employee, does not necessarily involve sexual harassment or sexual misconduct. In such circumstances, however, the University’s responsibilities to its students and Employees are potentially compromised by the likelihood or even the appearance of a conflict of interest. Consequently, this policy strictly prohibits consensual sexual relationships between an Employee and a student whenever the Employee is in a position of professional responsibility with respect to the student. This policy, further, strictly prohibits consensual sexual relationships between a supervisor and a direct subordinate Employee.
For the purposes of this policy, an Employee is in a position of professional responsibility with respect to a student when the Employee is currently in a position to make or influence a decision or to confer or withhold a benefit relating to the student’s education, employment, or campus-sponsored activity. This includes, but is not limited to, staff/student, faculty/student, coach/player, supervisor/student worker, and advisor/advisee relationships.

For the purposes of this policy, an Employee is in a direct subordinate relationship with a supervisor if the Employee reports to the supervisor, if the supervisor evaluates or directs the Employee’s work, or if the supervisor is in the direct chain of command of the person to whom the Employee reports.

The University strongly discourages consensual sexual relationships such as those between an Employee and a student (even in the absence of a current professional responsibility with respect to the student) and between a faculty member or supervisor and an Employee in a position of less authority (even in the absence of a direct reporting relationship as defined above). While this policy does not prohibit consensual sexual relationships such as these, they are strongly discouraged. Because all such relationships potentially involve a violation of equal opportunity law, it may be difficult, if not impossible, in any subsequent proceeding to defend against a sexual harassment charge where the defense is based on the complainant’s consent to the relationship. Moreover, those persons involved in such relationships must be aware that the relationship may be viewed by others as exploitative or as creating actual or apparent conflicts of interest, thereby creating potential difficulties for one or both parties.

INCLUSIVE LANGUAGE
PLU supports the efforts of faculty, students, staff, and administrators to employ and augment the inclusive language guidelines of their professions or disciplines, and to reflect upon the cultural conditions which have made such guidelines integral to contemporary language use. One set of guidelines is that of the Evangelical Lutheran Church in America (“Guidelines for Inclusive Use of the English Language,” 1989), which provides examples of language that includes and affirms groups which have often been misrepresented in or left out of discourse. Inclusive language avoids stereotypes or biases such as those based on gender, race, physical ability, sexual orientation, class, nationality, religion, family, and status. Inclusive language directs our attention to the nuances of social reference and calls us to address all individuals with respect.

STUDENT RIGHT-TO-KNOW
The Student Right-to-Know and Campus Security Act, Public Law 101-542, provides that institutions of higher education disclose information about campus safety policies and procedures to current and prospective students and employees. Pursuant to that requirement, Pacific Lutheran University has developed a Campus Safety and Crime Prevention Guide that reports institutional security policies and crime statistics. The current report is available on the PLU Web site at www.plu.edu/campussafety.

GRIEVANCE POLICY AND PROCEDURES

I. Introduction
Pacific Lutheran University is committed to the internal resolution of disputes arising within the university community. To that end, the President has appointed a University Dispute Resolution Committee that includes representatives from the faculty, student life, human resources and academic administration. The Committee appointments shall each be for a minimum two-year term.

The University Dispute Resolution Committee (UDRC) is charged with reducing conflicts and helping members of the community resolve disputes appropriately, expeditiously and fairly. The committee does so by educating the community about campus policies and dispute resolution options; coordinating dispute resolution services; investigating grievances when appropriate and advocating for review of university policies and procedures when necessary.

It is the intent that the University Dispute Resolution Committee be a resource for all members of the PLU community. The UDRC may assist any faculty, administrator, staff or student who needs consultation or referral to resolve an on-campus conflict, or who desires conflict resolution services. The UDRC also processes all formal grievances as allowed by the University’s Grievance Policy, except those that relate to faculty tenure or discipline or which otherwise arise under the faculty constitution and bylaws or which arise under the Student Conduct System. The UDRC shall have authority to establish separate policies and procedures for certain types of grievances. Subject to faculty approval, the UDRC shall also have authority to enact special policies and procedures for resolution of grade disputes and issues of academic dishonesty. The University Dispute Resolution Committee has the authority to appoint additional committee members on an as needed basis, for example, when one or more UDRC members would be unable to participate in a specific matter or when an additional member would assist in serving the mission of the University Dispute Resolution Committee.

The university encourages community members to resolve their disputes at the earliest and most informal level (i.e. by talking directly with the individual(s) involved; through facilitated conversation and/or through conflict mediation). When informal resolution is not possible, every member of the university community, whether faculty, student, administrator or staff, has the right to file a grievance and access the grievance procedures established by the UDRC. Grievances may be initiated by contacting any member of the Committee. Grievances first reported elsewhere in the community should be referred to the Committee for resolution, except for grievances that arise under the faculty constitution and by-laws or under the Student Conduct System.

If, at any time during a conflict resolution or grievance proceedings, a participant believes that a member of University Dispute Resolution Committee has a conflict or the appearance of a conflict, or that the dispute/grievance involves or potentially involves a member of the Committee, that member will be excused from any further involvement in the grievance proceedings. In such circumstances an additional UDRC member may be appointed by the remaining University Dispute Resolution Committee members.

The grievance policy and procedures will be published biennially and distributed to all members of the university community.

II. General Administrative Procedures

The following administrative procedures shall apply to all grievances, with the exception of grade disputes, allegations of academic dishonesty, student conduct issues covered by the Student Code of Conduct and faculty grievances relating to tenure, discipline and other issues expressly provided for in the grievance procedure set forth in Article VI of the Bylaws to the Faculty Constitution. All other matters, including, but not limited to, disputes or complaints relating to discrimination and sexual harassment/sexual misconduct shall be handled in accordance with the following procedures. Neither voluntary nor involuntary terminations of staff and administrative personnel may be grieved nor are they subject to these administrative procedures.

The University is committed to resolving all grievances arising under these procedures, including complaints of sexual harassment and/or misconduct, at the earliest and most informal level.

A. Informal Grievance Resolution

A grievant may pursue any of the following options for informal resolution:

1. Direct Resolution. The grievant may discuss directly with the respondent the allegations of the grievance and work with the respondent to resolve any concerns.

2. Supervisor Resolution. If the action suggested in paragraph 1 is unsuccessful, ill-advised or otherwise inappropriate, the grievant is encouraged to first discuss his or her concerns with the supervisor or department chair who is responsible for taking appropriate action. If the grievance directly involves the supervisor, the grievant may go to the next level of supervision or may bring the matter directly to the University Dispute Resolution Committee as set forth below. If a grievance directly involves an individual at the level of Vice President, Dean, Provost or President, the grievant should bring the matter directly to the Dispute Resolution Committee. The matter may be concluded by mutual consent at this point. Supervisors and chairs must inform the Dispute Resolution Committee when handling grievances, which involve potential violations of the University’s policy on discrimination, sexual harassment or sexual misconduct.

3. University Dispute Resolution Committee. If there is no mutually satisfactory resolution at an earlier stage, or if the grievant does not wish to bring the matter to the chair or supervisor, the grievant may contact any member of the University Dispute Resolution Committee to seek resolution. The Dispute Resolution Committee may discuss options for informal handling of the grievance, make referrals to appropriate resources and support services, and, with the permission of all parties, may also attempt to resolve the problem through mediation.

At any point in the process, the grievant may send written notification to the Dispute Resolution Committee that the situation is resolved or that no further University action is desired. The Dispute Resolution Committee will retain records of informal grievances for a minimum of three (3) years.

At any time during the informal resolution process, either party, or the Dispute Resolution Committee, may request that informal resolution efforts be terminated and that the formal grievance procedures be initiated. Such request shall automatically suspend informal procedures. At such time, the Dispute Resolution Committee, or any subcommittee thereof, shall, within five days, hold a meeting with both parties to discuss options for informal resolution, including mediation. If no agreement can be reached as to informal means of resolution or if informal procedures fail, then either party, or the Committee, may request that the grievance proceed in accordance with the formal grievance procedures set forth in Section B, below.

B. Formal Grievance Procedures

1. Filing the Written Grievance. Grievants for whom the matter has not been satisfactorily resolved through the informal process may file a written grievance with the University Dispute Resolution Committee within five (5) working days after termination of the informal process. If no informal resolution was sought, written grievances must be filed within 30 working days of the alleged incident. The grievance shall include the grievant’s written statement describing the alleged inappropriate action or misconduct. Upon receipt, the grievance shall be marked with the date received.

2. Determination of Whether Grievance is Subject to Procedures. Within five (5) working days of the grievance filing date, the Dispute Resolution Committee shall determine whether the facts alleged in the grievance fall within the purview of these procedures. If not, the grievant shall be so notified in writing. No appeal may be taken internally of such determination.

3. Notification to Respondent. If it is determined the grievance falls within the purview of these procedures, the Dispute Resolution Committee shall, within three (3) working days of such determination, provide a copy of the grievance to the respondent, together with a copy of these procedures.

4. Written Response May Be Filed. Within five (5) working days after receiving a copy of the grievance, the respondent may submit to the Dispute Resolution Committee a written response to the allegations raised in the grievance. The respondent is encouraged to provide a written response, however, failure to answer a charge or to participate in the investigation will not prevent the process from proceeding. Failure to respond may result in the investigation proceeding solely on the basis of the grievant’s testimony and evidence.

5. Investigation of the Grievance. Within fifteen (15) working days of receipt of the respondent’s written response, or, if there is no written response, within twenty (20) working days of notification to respondent, the Dispute Resolution Committee or its designee shall complete an investigation which may include interviews with both parties and with those identified by the parties as having personal knowledge of the facts relating to the grievance; review of written responses as appropriate; and/or review of any documents or other evidence submitted by the parties or by persons with knowledge.

6. Preliminary Report and Recommendations. Within five (5) working days after completion of the investigation, the Dispute Resolution Committee will prepare a preliminary written report which details the investigative process, summarizes information received, and presents the Committee’s factual findings and recommendations. Copies of the preliminary report shall be given to the grievant and respondent.

7. Rebuttal Statements. Should either the grievant or the respondent dispute the findings of the preliminary report or the recommendations, rebuttal statements may be filed with the Committee within five (5) working days of receipt of the preliminary report. The Committee may review the rebuttal statements and have the authority to reopen its investigation and amend its preliminary investigative report, if it deems such action appropriate. Either party may also submit names of additional witnesses and additional information, additional evidence or documents, etc.

8. Final Report and Recommendations. Within seven (7) working days of receipt of any rebuttal statements or additional information, the Committee shall complete a final investigative report and recommendations. In the event no rebuttal statements are submitted, the Committee’s preliminary report shall be deemed final. Copies of the final investigative report and recommendations shall be given to the grievant, to the respondent and to the appropriate vice president, dean and/or department head. If the grievance involves a faculty member, a copy of the final report shall also be provided to the Provost.

9. Review by Appropriate Supervisor. Within ten (10) working days from completion of the Committee’s final report, the appropriate Vice President, Dean or Provost shall assess the report, review any written statements, determine whether to accept the recommendations, and take any responsive action. In the event the grievance and/or recommendations of the Dispute Resolution Committee directly involve a Vice President, Dean or Provost, the Committee will designate an alternate authority to assess the report and determine any responsive action. Such action, if any, shall be in accord with applicable University policy. The grievant shall be informed of any corrective action taken involving the respondent.

10. Time Limits. Time limits set forth in these procedures may be extended by the Dispute Resolution Committee upon request and showing of good cause. Either party may seek an extension of time. Reasonable extensions of time may also be granted upon initiation of the Committee at its discretion. The Dispute Resolution Committee will not usually extend the time for filing a written grievance except for those situations in which the grievant alleges violation of the University’s Policies on Equal Opportunity, Affirmative Action, and Sexual Misconduct. When appropriate, time limits may also be extended from one school year to the next.

11. Grievance Initiated by Administration. The President, Provost, or any Vice President may request that the Dispute Resolution Committee conduct an investigation without a formal grievance from any individual. In such cases, the Provost or applicable Vice President will act as the grievant. In those cases, the Dispute Resolution Committee will use the same notification and process guidelines as outlined in the formal grievance procedures.

12. Grievance Initiated by Dispute Resolution Committee. The Dispute Resolution Committee may initiate a formal grievance at any time where an individual declines to pursue the formal grievance process and/or where the Committee believes the University’s Policies on Equal Opportunity, Affirmative Action, and Sexual Misconduct may have been violated. In such cases, the grievance will follow the same notification and procedures set forth above. The Dispute Resolution Committee has the right, where appropriate, to protect the identity of a grievant and to proceed with an anonymous grievant. That right should be used only in rare circumstances, taking into consideration the inherent difficulty to the respondent, and only after consultation with the University’s attorney.

13. Record Retention. The Dispute Resolution Committee is the custodian of all records developed during the investigation of a grievance. All records of the Dispute Resolution Committee are considered confidential and will be retained by the Committee for three (3) years, except records relating to grievances involving violations of the University’s policies on Equal Opportunity, Affirmative Action, and Sexual Misconduct, which may be kept indefinitely at the discretion of the Committee.

14. Sanctions. The Dispute Resolution Committee has no authority to impose any sanction, however, it may, as part of its investigative report, recommend a particular sanction or course of corrective action. The actual authority to impose sanctions and other corrective action shall remain with the Provost, as to faculty; the Vice President of Student Life, as to students; and the appropriate administrative Vice President as to staff and administrative personnel.
The authority imposing sanctions shall report its action to the Dispute Resolution Committee in writing.
15. Falsified Grievance. Deliberately filing a grievance with false statements is considered to be serious misconduct and such offenses will be subject to the full range of disciplinary sanctions, including termination and/or expulsion.
16. Right of Appeal. Either party may appeal to the President of the University the findings of the Dispute Resolution Committee’s final investigative report. The Dispute Resolution Committee may also request that the President review a particular grievance. Such appeal must be filed in writing to the President’s Office within ten (10) working days after completion of review by the Vice President or Provost in accordance with paragraph 9 above.
The President may choose to accept, reject, accept in part, or reject in part the investigative findings and recommendations. The President shall have final authority.
17. Attorneys. These procedures are intended to be a means of internal resolution only. As such, attorneys will not be allowed to participate directly in any phase of these grievance procedures, however, any party affected by a grievance is free to consult with an attorney of his or her choice at his or her own expense.
18. Retaliation Prohibited. The University expressly prohibits retaliation against any person who has filed a grievance, or in any way participated in the grievance process. Any person who violates this policy may be subject to disciplinary action, including termination and/or expulsion.

III. Alternative Grievance Procedures
These grievance procedures do not supersede existing procedures for resolution of grade disputes, academic dishonesty or matters arising under the Student Code of Conduct or any grievance procedures set forth in the Faculty Constitution and Bylaws. Where a grievance may be brought in under an alternative procedure, the grievant must elect at the outset which forum to use. If a grievant chooses to proceed under these administrative procedures in lieu of alternate internal grievance procedures, then the grievant may not subsequently pursue the alternate grievance procedures for resolution of the same grievance. Similarly, if a grievant elects to pursue an alternate grievance procedure, the grievant may not subsequently seek to use these procedures to resolve the same grievance.

Board of Regents

Ownershp, Support, Government:
The university is owned and operated by Pacific Lutheran University, Inc., a Washington corporation whose purpose is higher learning. The PLU corporation meets annually on the PLU campus to elect regents and to conduct other business. The corporation consists of 125 delegates from the six synods of Region I of the Evangelical Lutheran Church in America. The 37-member Board of Regents includes members of ELCA congregations, representatives from the Alumni Association, at-large members, bishops from the synods of Region I, and the university president.

The policy making and governing body of the University is the Board of Regents. On the basis of recommendations made by the president, it charts a course for the university and strives to provide essential funds. The student body and the faculty have non-voting representatives who meet with the board. The installation of new Board of Regents Officers occurs each October. The Board of Regents for the Academic Year of 2008-09 will be installed in October 2008.
