

DEVELOPING FACULTY ACROSS THE CAREER SPAN

This chart provides examples of the kinds of faculty development activities you may choose to engage in at each career phase at Seattle University through the Center for Faculty Development.

	EARLY CAREER	MID-CAREER	LATE CAREER
	FORMATION establishing your academic career	EXPANSION advancing in one or more area(s)	GENERATIVITY investing across generations
LEARNING AND TEACHING	New Faculty Institute Active learning workshops Course design workshops and learning communities Fine-tuning (consultations)	Program design sessions High-impact practices Peer consulting Experimentation and alternative pedagogies (consultations)	High-impact practices Peer consulting FAQNet internal networking Experimentation and alternative pedagogies (consultations)
RESEARCH PRACTICE	New Faculty Institute New faculty Writing Groups “Building your scholarly profile” series NCFDD research practice teleworkshops	Mid-/late-career Writing Groups Interdisciplinary Research Sandboxes Scholarship of teaching & learning (consultations)	Mid-/late-career Writing Groups Interdisciplinary Research Sandboxes “Reframing your scholarly legacy” series
PROFESSIONAL DEVELOPMENT	New Faculty Institute The New Academic learning community NCFDD Core teleworkshop series	FAQNet internal networking New Chair & Director Institute Chairs’ Community of Practice NCFDD one-off teleworkshops	FAQNet internal networking Chairs’ Community of Practice Encore careers (consultations) Pre-retirement sessions

From: <https://www.seattleu.edu/faculty-development/your-career-stage/>