

Political Science Capstone Presentations
Spring 2014
International Relations and Comparative Politics
Friday, May 23, 2014 ~ 12 PM - 5 PM
Xavier 201

---

Panel 1 - Protecting Ourselves: National Security in a Globalized World
12 PM - 1:30 PM

The Manning-Snowden Dilemma: Whistleblowing as an Unenumerated Right Under the Ninth Amendment
Michael Daher

Freedom v. Security: Looking at the Value of Civil Liberties v. National Security in the United States
Jordan R. Scanlan

The Importance of Maintaining Conventional Forces in Response to the Afghan Model
Nicholas Kaylor

~Break~

Panel 2 - Why Do We Hate, Why Do We Kill: Identity, Conflict, and Violence
1:45 PM - 3:15 PM

Naming Nationalism: The Role of Globalization and Nationalism in the Naming Dispute Between Greece and the Former Yugoslav Republic of Macedonia
Amy Delo

Femicides Without Borders: A Case Study of Gender-Based Violence in Ciudad Juarez
Lizbeth DeDios

Catalysts of Violence: The Effects of Political Leadership During the Armenian Genocide
Eury Gallegos

~Break~

Panel 3 - Building the Future: Reconstruction and Development
3:30 PM - 5 PM

Consequences of Consociation: The Issues of Post-Conflict State Building in Bosnia and Herzegovina
Kendall Daugherty

Ideology and Practice in Development: A Study of the Relationship between Economic Practice and Social Norms in Vietnam's Economic Transition
Tyler Sullivan

Global Goals and Perpetual Problems: The Millennium Development Goal on Poverty in the South African Context and the Failure to Address Racial Inequality
Thomas Flanagan