About the Performers

Violet Albenesius is a freshman from Graham, Washington, majoring in psychology. She was a longtime member of the orchestral program at Bethel High School and now studies with Svend Rønning.

Nathaniel Bratcher is a sophomore from Tacoma, Washington. He has been playing cello for nine years and is part of PLUSO. He is getting a Bachelor of Arts in music and studies with Rowena Hammill.

Jeffrey Buetow is a first-year student at PLU majoring in chemistry and physics. He has played the cello since fifth grade and currently studies with Rowena Hammill. In his free time, Jeffrey enjoys playing video games, listening to music, and story writing.

Elliot Capron is a first-year student majoring in music education. She has played the cello for eight years and currently studies with Rowena Hammill. Elliot enjoys embroidery, working on counterpoint, and learning new instruments.

Lydia Downs is a second-year student from Portland, Oregon. Lydia is pursuing majors in English literature and global studies, and a minor in Peace Corps prep. She has been playing violin for twelve years and is currently studying with Svend Rønning and plays in PLUSO. Lydia has also played piano for sixteen years and clarinet for nine years. In her free time, she enjoys running, reading and being outside.

Joy Han is a fourth-year student from Tacoma, Washington. She is a composition music major, has played the violin for ten years, and is currently studying with Svend Rønning. She wishes to become a producer and work with other artists to create varying types of media.

Joan Fort is a sophomore from Lakewood, Washington. She is working on a Bachelor of Music Education degree, is part of the PLUSO, and studies with Dr. Rønning.

Robert Jorgensen has served as accompanist at PLU and the University of Puget Sound. An accomplished soloist and accompanist, Mr. Jorgensen has several CDs to his credit and is a frequent performer in the Puget Sound region. He holds degrees from CSU-Fresno and the Royal School of Music in London, and has spent many summers in Austria on the staff of the Summer Academy in Lelienfeld, near Vienna.

Marisa Robbins is a first-year student from Spanaway, Washington, majoring in Music Education with a concentration in secondary orchestra. She has been playing cello for eight years and is currently studying with Rowena Hammill. Outside of music, she enjoys drawing portraits.

Campian Roberts is a sophomore from Puyallup, Washington. He is majoring in double bass performance and studies with Dr. Anna Jensen. He has been playing bass for nine years and plays in the PLUSO.

Justinpal Singh is a second-year student from Federal Way, Washington, and is double majoring in chemistry, with an emphasis in biochemistry, and religion. He has been playing the violin for nine years and currently takes lessons with Dr. Svend Rønning, and plays in the PLUSO. Justinpal also plays traditional/classical Indian instruments, such as the dilruba (five years), harmonium (twelve years), and sarangi (three years). In his free time, he enjoys drinking coffee, visiting local businesses, going on walks with his German Shepherd and Golden Retriever, and stressing over the little things.
