

Choral Music

A TRADITION OF EXCELLENCE

- Four choral ensembles, led by the nationally acclaimed Choir of the West.
- Generous music scholarships available regardless of choice of major.
- Participate in choral ensembles and private voice study regardless of choice of major.
- Rich curricula in Vocal Performance and Choral Music Education.
- Regional, national and international tours.
- Performances in outstanding venues, including PLU's Lagerquist Concert Hall and Benaroya Hall in Seattle.
- Exciting premieres of new choral works by some of the world's finest composers.
- Collaborations with other PLU ensembles, guest artists, and world-renowned conductors.

Featured performances of the last decade:

- Choir of the West: NWACDA (2022, 2018), Marktoberdorf International Chamber Choir Competition (Marktoberdorf, Germany - 2019), WMEA (2016), NCCO (2015), Anton Bruckner Choral Competition (Linz, Austria - 2015), National ACDA (2013)
- University Chorale: NWACDA (2022)
- Choral Union: NWACDA (2014)

Students have access to professional recording opportunities, such as the 2020 album There Will Come Soft Rains, a collaboration with renowned composer Eriks Ešenvalds.

Listen to the album here

Learn more at plu.edu/choir

Brian Galante, Director of Choral Studies
galante@plu.edu • (253) 535-7603

Tiffany Walker, Visiting Assistant Professor of Music
twalker@plu.edu • (253) 535-7613