

Hepatitis B Vaccine

All PLU staff who have a risk of occupational exposure to blood or other potentially infectious materials are offered, at no expense to themselves, the Hepatitis B vaccination series. This vaccine series is available at your healthcare provider, occupational health clinics, and local pharmacies, with reimbursement provided by the PLU Risk Services Department. Questions regarding this vaccine may be directed to the PLU Environmental Health & Safety Manager.

Decline at this time

I understand that due to occupational exposure to blood or other potentially infectious materials (OPIM), I may be at risk of acquiring hepatitis B virus (HBV) infection. I understand that by declining this vaccine, I could be at risk of acquiring hepatitis B, a serious disease. If, in the future, I continue to have occupational exposure to blood or other potentially infectious materials, and I want to be vaccinated with hepatitis B vaccine, I can receive the vaccination series at no charge to me. At that time, I will provide documentation to the PLU Environmental Health and Safety Manager upon completion of the series.

Previously vaccinated

I have previously received the hepatitis B vaccination series.
