

Department of Psychology Research Award

The RESEARCH Award:

- ◆ is open to any student who has completed 16 credits in psychology.
- ◆ The research must be original and, in an area, related to psychology.
- ◆ Joint authorship is allowed. Joint authorship with a faculty member is acceptable if the student is the primary author. APA journal article format is required. If you want assistance in writing in APA format, please see the Publication manual for the American Psychological Association.
- ◆ Psychology faculty will judge the papers. They will read the papers with authors' names removed.
- ◆ Project Description: In the section labeled "Project Description," please answer the following questions about your research project:
 - ◆ What was your role in the research project?
 - ◆ How was the research conceived?
 - ◆ What do you think are its major contributions (basic and applied)?
 - ◆ What have you learned from the experience?
- ◆ Thursday, May 11 at 3:00 pm is the deadline for submission. The following items should be emailed in to Christine Nicolai (nicolacs@plu.edu) using the subject line, "Research Award Application 2023."
 - ◆ An electronic copy of this completed application form with answers to the above questions,
 - ◆ An electronic copy of the paper—saved as a Word document with all authors' names removed—
- ◆ The Research Award will be presented during the program following the Psychology Student Research Conference Thursday, May 18.

Psychology Department Research Award

Name: _____ Phone: _____

Address: _____

Total Psyc Credit hours completed (do not include in progress): _____

Year in College: _____

Title of the Paper: _____

Project Description: please answer the following questions about your research project:

What was your role in the research project?

Answer here

How was the research conceived?

Answer here

What do you think are its major contributions (basic and applied)?

Answer here

What have you learned from the experience?

Answer here