PLU has put together valuable financial resources that may help you in managing your tuition costs for the next academic year. Resources like filing your FAFSA, applying for outside scholarships, utilizing loans, employment, purchasing or renting books, and payment options.

FILE YOUR ONLINE FAFSA FOR 2015-16

Apply at www.fafsa.ed.gov

To apply for federal and state financial aid, students must complete a Free Application for Federal Student Aid (FAFSA). An analysis of your FAFSA determines how much you and your family can afford to contribute to your education. A variety of factors are taken into account: family income, total savings, family size, parents’ age (and their need to save for retirement) and the number of siblings in college at the same time.

PLUMS (PLU Matching Church Scholarship)
The purpose of this program is to provide financial assistance to undergraduate students attending Pacific Lutheran University. Through the PLUMS program, PLU will annually match individual scholarships provided by congregations or organizations within the church, up to $1000.

Who Is Eligible? To qualify, a student must be a full-time undergraduate student offered admission or currently enrolled at PLU. Dependents of Pacific Lutheran University employees receiving Tuition Remission are not eligible for a matching scholarship.

How is the program administered? PLU matches scholarship monies received from congregations, up to $1000, based on the following stipulations: PLUMS is a cooperative effort between the congregation’s selection committee and the PLU Financial Aid Office.

Annual application is required – Download application www.plu.edu/financial-aid/documents-and-forms

● Only applications received by August 15 are considered for a PLU Matching Scholarship.
● PLUMS has limited funding and is awarded on a first-come-first-served basis.
● Church scholarship payments must be received by September 25th in order to be matched by PLU. Church payments must be made directly to PLU. Payments made directly to students are not considered for matching funds.

Financial need is not considered when awarding PLUMS.

FEDERAL LOANS
PLU's Office of Financial Aid will determine your eligibility and will award these loans on your Offer of Financial Aid

Federal Subsidized Loan
- This loan is awarded on the basis of financial need.
- The financial need of a student is determined by the FAFSA application.
- Interest on loans borrowed after 2011-12 will begin to accrue during the grace period between graduation (or dropping below half time enrollment) and the start of your loan repayment six months later.
- Loan repayment begins six months after you complete the program, or drop below half time, which at Pacific Lutheran University, is six credits for undergraduates, four for graduate students.
- The interest rate for 2014-15 is 4.66%, with a 1.073% loan fee. Annual interest rates vary and are determined by July 1st of each year. Loan fees are subject to change.

Federal Unsubsidized Loan
- This loan is not awarded on the basis of need, but a FAFSA is required.
- The student will be charged interest from the time the loan is disbursed until it's paid in full. If the student allows the interest to accumulate while in school or during other periods of nonpayment, it will be capitalized, that is, added to the principal amount of your loan and additional interest will be based on that higher amount.
- Interest on the unsubsidized loan for 2014-15 is 4.66%. Annual interest rates vary and are determined by July 1st of each year. Loan fees are subject to change.

Federal Perkins Loan
- This loan is awarded on the basis of financial need.
- The financial need of a student is determined by the FAFSA application.
- A Federal Perkins Loan is a low-interest loan for undergraduate students with financial need.
- Loan repayment for this loan is paid and managed by PLU Student Loans.
- Interest on a Perkins Loan is 5%.

Federal Nursing Loan
- The Federal Nursing Loan is awarded based upon financial need.
- The financial need of a student is determined by the FAFSA application.
- Students accepted for admission into the PLU School of Nursing and enrolled at least half-time in the nursing program may be considered for a low interest, federally funded Nursing Loan.
- It has a repayment grace period of nine months after graduation, or less than half time enrollment, whichever comes first.
- Federal Nursing Loans have a fixed interest rate of 5%.

PRIVATE LOANS

Alternative Loans -
Private (or alternative) education loans are credit based loans made through commercial banks and credit unions. This loan is in the student's name with a creditworthy co-signer. Before borrowing a private education loan, it is important that you consider:
- Researching all applicable loan fees associated with borrowing a private loan. Because these are commercial loans, there will be either upfront fees, or fees added when loans are disbursed or when they enter repayment.
- Understanding how your interest rate is calculated, when it begins to accrue, how often it is adjusted, whether there is an interest rate cap, how often the accrued interest is added to your loan principal, and how accruing interest will increase the total cost of borrowing.
- Understanding the terms and conditions of your loan, the repayment timelines, and your repayment deferment options, if any.
- Knowing the difference in your loan terms and costs if you use a co-signer. Most lenders offer better loan terms on loans secured with a co-signer.
Understanding that private education loans are considered an outside resource like outside scholarships. These loans must be considered as part of your financial aid package. The sum of your private loans (in combination with other financial aid awards) cannot exceed your total cost of attendance for the year.

How Much Can I Borrow? Your private loan maximum is the difference between your current financial aid award and your cost of attendance, as determined by the PLU Financial Aid Office. When applying for a private loan, you will be borrowing loan funds for one academic year at a time.

How do I apply? After you have determined that you will need to borrow an additional private loan, go to the application website of your selected lender and complete their on-line application. Your lender will collect the necessary application documents from you to make their loan decision. Once your application has been approved, your lender will notify the PLU Financial Aid Office. Please note that if you apply with a cosigner who possess a better credit record than yourself, you could improve the likelihood of loan approval and the terms (and cost) of your loan.

Where Do I Find a Lender? Pacific Lutheran University does NOT recommend specific private education loan providers, nor does the university have agreements with ANY lenders. You are free to borrow a private education loan from ANY lender. All private lenders complying with federal regulations must provide to you Federal Truth-in-Lending Disclosure Statements (which outlines your cost of borrowing their loan) when you apply, are approved and prior to the loan disbursement. They will also provide you with a Private Education Loan Applicant Self-Certification Form, which you must sign and return to them before they can process your loan.
