PARENT/LEGAL GUARDIAN PAYMENT CONTRACT

If the student is under the age of 18 when reading and agreeing to the Terms and Conditions of the Payment Contract, one of the student’s parents or legal guardian must also sign a “Payment Contract.” By signing this contract, you agree to the following Terms and Conditions:

- You agree to pay the University’s tuition and fees as they are set forth in the Undergraduate and Graduate Catalog for the applicable year, and to be bound by the payment terms set forth in the Catalog.
- You agree that tuition and fees for the semester are due and payable in full at the time of registration, unless you have arranged an alternate payment plan that has been approved by the University.
- You agree to pay all other charges your student incurs while attending the University. These charges include, but are not limited to, overload charges, lab fees, music lessons and other costs. The University may condition some services, such as housing, food services and books, on a separate agreement with you.
- You understand that if you fail to pay University bills when they are due, then, in addition to the University’s other legal remedies, your student may be denied admittance to classes and the use of University facilities, and the University will not be obligated to provide you or your student with grade reports, transcripts, diplomas, registration or statements of honorable dismissal.
- Accounts 60 days delinquent may be turned over to a third-party collection agency, and collection costs, including but not limited to attorney fees, interest, court costs and other fees incurred with collecting this debt, may be added to the account.
- I have read and understand the Payment Options described on the next page. I understand that if I want to override my student’s payment choice I am required to contact the Student Services Center in writing along with a copy of this PARENT/LEGAL GUARDIAN PAYMENT CONTRACT.
- This agreement shall be construed and governed by the laws of the State of Washington.
