2015 Wang Center Photo Contest
Submission Rules and Guidelines

You are invited to participate in the Annual Wang Center Photo Contest!

The 2015 Wang Center Photo Contest will accept photos from students, faculty and staff who participated in a study away program during February 2014 through January 2015. Submissions are accepted on a rolling basis, with the final deadline of 5:00pm on Friday, February 20, 2015.

For entry instructions, please review the Photo Contest Submission Rules and Guidelines.

CATEGORIES:

• Lutes Away* (open to faculty, staff, and students): Your Lute spirit doesn’t stop once you leave campus. Qualifying photos for this category must include PLU students, faculty, and/or staff. Ideally, your photo should include Lutes in a learning environment – even better if they are wearing Lute gear!

• Global Classroom (open to students only): While studying away students engage in learning both in and outside of classrooms. Qualifying photos for this category may depict student interaction with their host communities and their natural environment. Examples may include students in internship and service projects, field study, culturally relevant activities, group study tours, etc.

• Scenes from Around the World (open to students only): Be inspired by your new surroundings. Qualifying photos for this category may include wildlife, plants, natural and urban landscapes and landmarks.

• People and Culture (open to students only): Study away offers a unique opportunity to experience new cultures. Qualifying photos for this category may reflect the diversity of the people, cultures and artifacts of your host communities.

*Those submitting photos for the Lutes Away category must be the photographer.

PRIZES

• 1st, 2nd, and 3rd place winners will be selected from each of the four categories for a total of 12 selected photos.

• From the remaining submissions, Wang Center staff will select an additional 13th photo, and name it as the “Wang Center Staff Pick.” This photo will be displayed at the Spring Study Away Fair, on our website, and in our office.

• Gift card locations will be chosen by winners from a list of options.
  - 1st - $50 Gift Card
  - 2nd - $30 Gift Card
  - 3rd - $20 Gift Card
  - Wang Center Staff Pick - $50 Gift Card

The winning photos will be displayed at the Study Away Fair on March 11, 2015 and featured in the photo gallery space in the Anderson University Center for the 2015-2016 academic year. Contest participants will be notified of the results of the contest during the week of the Study Away Fair. Winners will also receive a printed copy of their photo and Certificate of Award.

WANG CENTER for GLOBAL EDUCATION
Tel: 253-535-7577 | Email: wangcenterphotos@gmail.com
SUBMITTING PHOTOS:
- Please email photos to wangcenterphotos@gmail.com.
- Photos will be accepted on a rolling basis with a final deadline of 5:00pm on Friday, February 20, 2015. Late entries will not be accepted.
- Preferred format: .jpg or .tiff
- Sizing specifications: minimum 1MB
- Submitted photos must include:
  - Category Title
  - Name of Photographer
  - Title of Photo
  - Paragraph explaining the significance of the photo
  - Approximate Location and Date
- All submissions become the property of PLU, which will enjoy full rights of display and circulation (with attribution to the photographer). If you submit a photograph it is understood that you have granted this right.

RULES
- Applicant must be a PLU student (or Dec 2014 graduate), or a faculty or staff member.
- Submissions must be original photographs taken by the applicant during his/her academic travels from February 2014 through January 2015 (this includes PLU Gateway, Featured, Approved, Summer, MBA International Experience, and J-Term Study Away Programs, as well as educational travel for Wang Center Research Grants and Alternative Spring Break programs sponsored by the Wang Center).
- Contestants may submit one (1) photograph per category – Four (4) submissions maximum (students). Faculty/Staff one (1) photo only (Lutes Away category only).
- Each submitted photo must include the required information (see above) or it will not be considered.
- Digitally altered photos will not be considered. Cropping, sepia tone and black & white photos are the only acceptable alterations.
- The Wang Center reserves the right to reject photos that contain inappropriate content. Rejected photos will be discarded without penalty to the contestant's other submissions.
- No more than one photo per person will be selected as a winner. Winners will receive awards based on their highest placing submissions.
- All photographs must be submitted via email by 5:00pm on Friday, February 20, 2015.

JUDGING
- Judging will be conducted by a panel of PLU faculty, staff and students.
- Judging criteria:
  - Originality/creativity
  - Photographic quality and visual impact
  - Effectiveness in conveying the study away experience

NOTE
Please see attached document, “Ethical Considerations for Taking Photos in Other Countries and Cultures”
Ethical Considerations for Taking Photos in Other Countries and Cultures

1) REFLECT ON WHY YOU’RE TAKING A PHOTO: Is it because you want to remember something, show your family your hotel, create a record of a place or people, or because taking pictures just seems natural? Many people take photos when they travel because they need to feel busy or to put something between them and new surroundings. Take time to simply enjoy the experience and realize different types of photos require time and care to take.

2) BE INTERACTIVE: Try to take more interactive photos compared to objective ones. Try to always ask permission when taking pictures of people. Getting peoples’ names and stories as well as their photo can be a meaningful experience. It also will give more meaning to your photo when you bring it back and helps avoid the objectification of people that can commonly happen in photos of unfamiliar places, especially ones we think of as more “exotic”.

3) WHAT’S IN AND WHAT’S OUT?: Think about what you want to include in your pictures – and then look at what you might be leaving out. Are you ignoring part of a person’s life or the story of a town because you don’t think it is “picturesque enough”? Realize that no photo is going to capture the reality of any place you visit, so think about how you can strive to show many different aspects of a place or culture, not just the tourist spots or well-known parts of a culture that everyone takes photos of.

4) CONSIDER AND RESPECT HISTORICAL AND CULTURAL ASPECTS AND LAWS: Most people know to ask permission to take photos in sacred or religious sites, but many countries also have laws against taking photos of government buildings and more. And even if there is no law against taking a photo, be respectful of the culture – a city, village, or landscape is not there for you to consume through your camera, but is part of the lives of those in your host country. Consider whether your photo is an appropriate representation of the culture or if it would reinforce negative stereotypes or aspects of a culture that the majority of the citizens would find embarrassing or shameful.

5) SHOW PEOPLE YOUR CAMERA AND PHOTOS: Digital cameras are great to interact with people you might take photos of. Kids especially like to see themselves on the camera screens. Letting people you meet play with your camera a little can be a hit too if you are spending a good amount of time with someone.

6) PHOTO EXCHANGE: When possible, try to find a way to give a copy of the photo to the people you take pictures of. Getting their address and sending them a photo is sometimes an option or if you are meeting people through an organization or traveling with a company, think about sending them the photos to distribute. You could also bring photos of yourself or your family to give out to people when you take their photo or meet them.

7) THINK ABOUT YOUR CAPTIONS: When you present a photo, be intentional about captions and how you choose to label and title a photo. When possible, give names and details and a greater context to the photo and be careful about what you are and are not comparing the people or place to. The photos should be part of a story you can share with people once you return home.

8) BE MINDFUL OF THE CONTENT OF THE PHOTO: Be respectful of the people you are photographing and their right to privacy. Are the photos of situations or circumstances someone would not want publicly shared? Especially take into consideration local citizens who may be the recipients of social and human services, such as food and supplies from local food banks, and taking photos of local residents who may live in shelters.

Created by Bryanna Plog ’10. Adapted: April 2012, August 2013